St. Pat Day Flood Recalled

Ohio River Set Record Along Valley In 1936

By ROBERT POPP

Yellowed newspapers and fading photographs in bureau drawers and attics of homes all over the Tri - State District help stir memories of the 1936 flood, worst ever to hit the Ohio Valley and East Liverpool.

But Mrs. Marie P. Webber of 1635 St. George St. in Little England can conjure up vivid memories of the catastrophic inundation without peering at crumbling newspaper clippings. She was in Little England as a small girl when the 1913 flood hit and she has been there for every spell of high water since the March 1936 flood.

"No, I never thought of moving," Mrs. Webber says, as she surveys her neat livingroom in a shingled one - story house that has survived all the high water. "I like it here; everybody is neighborly and friendly. There's no better spot."

MRS. WEBBER remembers abandoning her home in a rowboat when the flood waters stood nearly a foot deep on the first floor.

She remembers standing on the railroad embankment high above Little England at the height of the flood and seeing only surging, yellow water at the spot where her home stood.

And she remembers returning later to help shovel out the muck that covered the floors.

"We started all over again from scratch," she remembers. But her husband, Jessie, who had built the home with his own hands, prudently raised the structure four feet to help evade future floods. Mr. Webber died last year, but his widow decided to remain in the community that has been her home since she was a small girl.

MARA CAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — The death toll in aviation's worst disaster reached 155 today as searchers combed through the wreckage of homes destroyed by the crash of a Venezuelan jetliner bound for Miami.

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Searchers combed the burned-out wreckage of a group of Maracaibo homes for more bodies today after reporting about 150 persons killed in aviation's worst disaster Sunday, the crash of a Venezuelan jetliner bound for Miami.

All 84 persons aboard the plane, at least 47 of them U.S. citizens, were killed when the VIASA airliner's DC9 crashed in a residential area and exploded minutes after taking off from Grano de Oro airport.

Authorities said at least 66 persons on the ground were killed and 20 seriously injured when their homes were devastated by flaming debris.

Fifteen other air crashes have taken more than 100 lives. The previous worst aviation accident occurred Dec. 16, 1960, when two airliners collided over New York City, killing 134 passengers and persons on the ground.

A policeman who was a witness said the plane lost altitude after taking off, hit a high tension pole, spun and fell in pieces on the residential districts of Ziruna and La Trinidad. The area on the outskirts of Maracaibo, Venezuela's principal oil center, is inhabited by about 15,000 Colombians, Veiezuelans and Guajiro Indians.

The plane had been in service only 10 days. The flight originated in Caracas, 330 miles to the east, and picked up more passengers in Maracaibo. The airline said there were 74 passengers and a crew of 10 aboard.

The cause of the crash was not known, but authorities said they had recovered the plane's "black box" flight recorder and were studying the last moments of the flight. It was not known whether the pilot radioed any distress signal before he went down.

The 47 North Americans killed included five prize-winning salesmen for the Clark Equipment Co. of Battle Creek, Mich., and their wives. Their prizes had been vacations in Caracas.

Also killed were three Venezuelan baseball figures—Nestor Isaias Chavez, a pitcher on his

Israeli Warplanes Attack Guerrilla Bases In Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Jordan today for the second straight day, hitting suspected Arab guerrilla bases in the foothills of the Gilead Mountains southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

An army spokesman said four or five planes strafed and bombed Arab gun positions that fired missiles at Israeli settlements in the area Sunday night, touching off an artillery duel.

Earlier Sunday Israeli planes raided three big Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan. The Israeli army said all planes returned safely, but in Amman a spokesman for the Al Fatah guerrilla organization claimed its antiaircraft guns downed six of the attacking jets. He said two crashed inside Jordan and the other four in Israeli territory.

One of the targets was only six miles from Amman; it was the closest attack to the Jordanian capital since the 1967 war.

A Jordanian spokesman said only civilian targets were hit, resulting in four dead and at least seven wounded. The Palestine Liberation Organization, the guerrilla coalition, said three guerrillas were killed and four wounded.

The PLO said the dead included Maj. Fayez Jarad, 30, "one of the chief guerrilla commanders."

Israel did not say how many planes participated in the raids, but the PLO said 18 planes participated in one strike, using "rockets, napalm and machine guns."

Prime Minister designate Golda Meir presented her new government to the Knesset today and made no changes in the late Levi Eshkol's Cabinet. She was expected to win a quick vote of confidence.

Mrs. Meir told the 120-man legislative assembly she would not accept any settlement imposed by the Big Four powers unless it agreed with Israel's terms. Reminding other countries they would never dream of entrusting the solution of their own problems to other parties, she said the small state of Israel asks them to understand "that in matters affecting our existence, no decision can be adopted without us, nor can any recommendation be formulated without our consent."

She said establishment of a stable peace in the region depends on the Arab states and reiterated Israel's insistence that it can come about only through direct negotiations.

She warned the Arab states that if war comes again, "there is no doubt in my heart we shall be victorious."

The Lebanese army announced that an Israeli patrol intruded into Lebanon Sunday and was driven back by border guards. The Lebanese claimed a number of casualties, but there was no confirmation from Israel.

U.S., Thai And South Viet Troops Kill 281 Of Enemy

SAIGON (AP) — U.S., Thai and South Vietnamese forces killed 281 enemy troops in heavy fighting around Saigon and in the Mekong Delta and uncovered 40 graves containing aother 152 bodies south of Da Nag, military spokesman reported today.

U.S. infantrymen from the 9th Division killed 131 Viet Cong in a series of five clashes over the weekend in the upper half of the Mekong Delta, the U.S. Command announced.

Two Americans were reported wounded in the clashes Saturday and Sunday. U.S. spokesmen explained that helicopter gunships and artillery accounted for at least a third of the enemy dead, and another 19 were killed in an ambush.

The fighting occurred near the provincial capital of Ben Tre and the district capital of Cai Be, 40 to 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters said the actions were part of a multibattalion operation under way since last Dec. 1. A spokesman said more than 4,200 Viet Cong have been killed in the operation and more than 2,350 captured. U.S. losses have been 148 killed and 1,366 wounded, he said.

Thailand's Black Panther Division reported 400 of its men repulsed an attack early Sunday by more than 1,000 Viet Cong only 18 miles east of Saigon. The defenders said at least 109 Viet Cong were killed and four captured.

Two Thais were killed and 19 wounded, the communique said.

As the Viet Cong's spring offensive went into its 23rd day, about 30 rocket and mortar attacks were reported on allied bases and towns Sunday night. Two were followed by infantry assaults on American bases northeast of Saigon.

About 70 enemy soldiers hit a night bivouac of men from the 1st Air Cavalry Division 25 miles northeast of Saigon with machine guns, small arms and rocket-propelled grenades—close-quarter fighting lasted three hours, and when it ended 10 Americans had been killed and 17 wounded. A sweep of the battlefield produced nine enemy bodies.

Twenty-eight miles to the northwest of Saigon, enemy soldiers fired 10 mortar rounds into a 25th Infantry Division bivouac, then followed with a ground attack, firing rocket-propelled grenades and small arms.

For two hours the Americans returned the fire, blazing away with .50-caliber machine guns mounted on armored personnel carriers. A sweep at dawn turned up the bodies of 30 North Vietnamese soldiers, U.S. headquarters said, while one American was wounded.

In another fight on Saigon's eastern flank, enemy troops attacked a South Vietnamese military district headquarters before dawn Sunday after firing 20 mortar rounds into it. Two of the 100 militia defenders were killed and seven were wounded. Five civilians were reported killed and six wounded. A spokesman said two of the enemy were killed and one capturd.

Area Drives Bring $2,771 For Scholars

Preliminary reports show $2,771.17 collected during the Dollars For Scholars house-to-house solicitation Sunday, with figures still due from many areas.

The breakdown follows: Western Beaver, $201.55; East Liverpool, $1,448.53; Beaver Local, $345.50; Newell area of the Oak Glen school district, $134.67; Chester area of the Oak Glen school district, $301.54; Lawrenceville area of the Oak Glen school district, $79.17; New Cumberland area of the Oak Glen school district, $71.12; Midland, $189.09.

Wellsville and South Side school districts have not reported as yet and many districts, including East Liverpool, have many areas yet to submit their figures.

Mrs. Eugene Seeley, campaign vice president, said that those missed may send contributions to Dollars for Scholars, Box 90, East Liverpool.

She pointed out that "the success of the door-to-door solicitation, though not yet complete, was due to the efficiency of not only the district chairmen, but also captains and canvassers."

Contacting of industry, merchants and other organizations now will receive added attention, Mrs. Seeley said.

U.S. Troops Dot Korean Sky In Climax To Airlift

YOJU, South Korea (AP) — Led by a two-star general and a Medal of Honor sergeant, 1,320 U.S. paratroopers leaped into South Korea today at the climax of an 8,500-mile trans-Pacific assault operation. It began five days of war games called Focus Retina.

The men of the 82nd Airborne Division were flown from Ft. Bragg, N.C., to the muddy reaches of the North Han River, 35 miles south of Seoul, in what the U.S. military said was the longest air operation in history.

C141 Starlifter jet transports ferried the first batch of 720 soldiers into the operations area from Okinawa, two and a half hours away. Delayed 24 hours by a snowstorm here Sunday, they completed the journey from North Carolina in close to 55 hours. Maj. Gen. John R. Deane Jr., their commander, and Sgt. 1. C. Charles D. Morris, who won the Medal of Honor in Vietnam, were the first to hit the silk as the gray parachutes dotted the sky.

While the airdrops were taking place, North Korea called a special meeting of the Military Armistice Commission at Panmunjom to demand the exercise be canceled. It was the second North Korean protest in a week.

The U.S. delegate, Maj. Gen. James B. Knapp, rejected the North Korean demand. In a reference to a sharp increase of hostile North Korean action over the weekend in which seven Americans and a South Korean were killed, he said:

Sailor Held In Death At Philadelphia

A 22-year-old Wellsville sailor is being held by Philadelphia police on a charge he stabbed a civilian friend to death with a butcher knife late Sunday night after an argument.

Sgt. William Green of the Philadelphia police identified the suspect as Willard Montgomery, 22, of 1920 Nevada St., Wellsville, a Navy man stationed in Norfolk, Va. He said Montgomery is accused of the fatal stabbing of Leo McMahon, 45, a machinist at the Philadelphia Inquirer. He said the stabbing occurred in McMahon's apartment on Courtland St., near 10th St.

The sergeant said Montgomery and McMahon had been friends for about six months. Last night about 11, Montgomery brought a woman friend to McMahon's apartment and an argument ensued, the officer said.

Police allege that Montgomery plunged a 12-inch kitchen knife into McMahon's chest. The woman called Philadelphia police and Montgomery was arrested at the scene. McMahon died a short time later, officers said.

Produces Running Conflict

Treasury Keeping Strings Tight On Foreign Aid Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid officials are chafing under what they consider to be too-tight strings on how they dispense dollars to developing countries.

The strings are being kept taut by the Treasury Department, whose secretary heads the Cabinet committee responsible for curbing the U.S. balance of payments drain.

The situation has produced a running conflict between specialists of the aid-administering Agency for International Development and of the Treasury Departmet.

So far disagreements involving particular aid programs have been settled on a case by case basis, officials say. But the arguments go on.

Specifically at issue is the application of this policy to the general purpose aid loans designed to help countries improve their foreign exchange position and make local economic improvements.

Under the balance of payments injunction, AID has drawn up "positive lists" of U.S. goods for which the aid-receiving countries must spend the money from the U.S. loans. The lists are confined to American products not already bought widely in those countries.

Major Banks Boost Prime Interest Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Several major banks increased their prime rate — the interest charged their biggest and most creditworthy borrowers—to 7½ per cent from 7 per cent today.

The move, another in a series of increases in this rate, was initiated by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

It was quickly followed by Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Co. of Chicago, First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co. of Philadelphia, State Street Bank & Trust Co. of Boston and First National Bank of Chicago.

Pfc. Newlin's Medal Award Set Tuesday

The nation's highest military honor will be presented today at Washington to the family of Marine Pfc. Melvin E. Newlin of Wellsville, who was fatally wounded in Vietnam fighting July 4, 1967.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Newlin of 1312 Commerce St., Wellsville, and six other members of the family left today for the capital.

Pfc. Newlin, the second Wellsville serviceman to be killed in action in Vietnam, was serving with Co. F, 2nd Battalion, of the 5th Marine Regiment in Quang Nam Province at the time of his death.

Newlin, born Sept. 27, 1948, was graduated from Wellsville High School in 1966 and joined the Marine Corps July 18, 1966.

He was transferred to Vietnam in March 1967.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Newlin to Washington are two sons, Robert Newlin and Paul Newlin, a daughter, Mary Newlin, a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Ruth) Buckel, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ida Newlin.

The strings are being kept taut by the Treasury Department, whose secretary heads the Cabinet committee responsible for curbing the U.S. balance of payments drain.

The situation has produced a running conflict between specialists of the aid-administering Agency for International Development and of the Treasury Departmet.

So far disagreements involving particular aid programs have been settled on a case by case basis, officials say. But the arguments go on.

Specifically at issue is the application of this policy to the general purpose aid loans designed to help countries improve their foreign exchange position and make local economic improvements.

Under the balance of payments injunction, AID has drawn up "positive lists" of U.S. goods for which the aid-receiving countries must spend the money from the U.S. loans. The lists are confined to American products not already bought widely in those countries.

The move, another in a series of increases in this rate, was initiated by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

It was quickly followed by Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Co. of Chicago, First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co. of Philadelphia, State Street Bank & Trust Co. of Boston and First National Bank of Chicago.

Police Probe Two Weekend Hit-Run Cases

East Liverpool police are investigating two weekend hit - skip traffic crashes.

Roger H. Linville, 24, of 206 Pennsylvania Ave. told officers the front of his 1966 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-and-run crash Saturday at 6:40 p.m. on E. 3rd St. at Walnut St.

Linville said he was driving on E. 3rd St. and making a turn north onto Walnut St. when he saw an auto emerging from a car wash lot. He stopped to allow the other car to proceed, but as it pulled onto E. 3rd St., it struck the hood of Linville's auto and continued without stopping.

Linville pursued the other car in a vain attempt to halt it and obtained a license number, which he gave to police.

A GASOLINE pump and a light canopy were damaged in a hit-skip mishap Saturday morning at the Humble Oil Co. service station at E. 3rd St. and Broadway, police said.

John Lyons, an attendant, told police a man drove a rental truck into the station and asked directions to a restaurant and how to find the highway to Pittsburgh. The attendant said he went into the station to obtain a map and the truck driver pulled away, damaging the pump and the light canopy.

An East End man was taken to City Hospital by ambulance after a collision Saturday at 11:26 a.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. in front of the Thorofare Market.

The collision involved a 1960 sedan driven by Edwin Hager, 73, of 1854 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1962 auto operated by John Creamer, 18, of 1080 Mapletree St.

Kenneth Creamer, also of 1080 Mapletree St. and a passenger in John Creamer's auto, was taken to the hospital.

He was listed "fair" today, with injuries to the right eyebrow area and left hand.

Creamer told officers he was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. when the other auto pulled out of the lot into his path. Hager reported he looked both ways before pulling off the lot and did not see any oncoming traffic.

He was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way.

CRAIG M. Capwell, 16, of 1061 Ohio Ave. told officers a wheel and the undercarriage of his 1965 model car were damaged Sunday at 12:05 a. m. when he was forced out of a traffic lane by another auto on Lisbon St. 150 feet west of W. 9th St.

Capwell told officers he was driving downgrade about 25 miles an hour when an upbound auto forced him to swerve and hit the curb.

A collision on E. 3rd St. 400 feet East of Walnut St. Sunday at 4:30 p.m. caused minor damage to a 1967 two-door sedan driven by Alice A. Burgess of Fairview St., Chester and a 1962 two-door sedan operated by Thomas M. Laughlin, 32, of Alley A, Chester, officers said.

The woman said the other auto was stopped in front of her car and her auto drifted forward and hit the Laughlin auto in the rear.

Flood

record in the valley. It flooded low - lying areas throughout the Tri - State District and reached many spots that never had been touched before by flood waters.

The water left behind a trail of disaster unparalleled in the river's history.

The East Liverpool area had known for days that it was in for a spring flood. And the old-timers predicted it would exceed the usual freshets of March and April because of the very heavy snow accumulation along the watersheds of the Allegheny and Monongahela.

Heavy rains melted the snow cover in record time. Soon every river and its tributaries were surging with flood water, all converging on Pittsburgh. That city experienced its worst flood in history. East Liverpool waited and watched and made guesses about the crest and when it would arrive.

CAREFUL RIVERMEN added extra mooring lines to their barges, houseboats and skiffs. The angry yellow waters began to clumb up the banks. At 1 a. m. on Tuesday, March 17, the water stood at 34.9 feet at Dam 8, just slightly below flood stage of 36 feet.

River forecasters issued a prediction at noon that day that the river would crest here with "the worst flood in history, surpassing the 46.6-foot stage of 1913." And, they said, the crest would arrive between 4 and 5 p.m. the following day.

That sounded like disaster to the old - time rivermen, but the crest actually arrived 12 hours later and five feet higher than predicted.

Although it went down in folklore as the St. Patrick's Day Flood, the high water's crest actually hit East Liverpool at 6 a.m. on Thursday, March 19. The flood got its nickname from the time it crested in Pittsburgh about two days earlier.

The crest held steady here for less than an hour. Then it began falling at two - tenths of a foot an hour. By noon on March 19 it had dropped off to 50.2 feet.

"MY HUSBAND had a notched stick stuck in the bank of the river and he checked it every hour when the water started to come up," Mrs. Webber recalls. "As it got worse and worse, he checked the water level every half hour."

Convinced a flood was imminent, but not anticipating its true extent, the Webbers moved their household belongings to the home of a neighbor that was several feet higher. It stayed there to disappear under the water. The water backed into the little community in its usual path — following a small stream that empties there.

But when the water began to rise over a natural earth parapet between Little England and the shore, Mr. Webber decided that it was time to evacuate.

"We went from door to door telling everybody they had better move out," Mrs. Webber recalls. "The people had faith in my husband's judgment, because he watched the river all the time. He was an old 'river rat' — he was born along the river and spent all his life right close to it."

The Webbers remained in their home until the water was close to a foot deep on the floors. A volunteer in a rowboat took them away from the house. Then somebody remembered that the family pet, a big police dog, had been left inside.

"When we called he leaped right through the window in the kitchen door," Mrs. Webber remembers. "It was the only window that was broken in the flood.

SHE WAITED out the flood with her mother downtown. She and Mr. Webber had two children at the time, Lillian, 12, and Thomas, 14. The youngsters moved in with an uncle, Clarence Webber, of Erie St. Mrs. Webber's husband rode out the flood on his shantyboat, staying with the craft so it would not be lost.

But first he used heavy ropes to lash down his house and prevent it from drifting from the foundations. The ropes were thrown over the roof and then tied to trees and other objects that offered stability.

Walter Kernaich, now married to Lillian, remembers catching the ends of the ropes as they were thrown over the roof by Mr. Webber. He and his wife live next door to Mrs. Webber.

"I remember rowing back and forth across Little England at the height of the flood and sticking an oar down into the water to feel for the roof to make sure the house was still there," he says. He helped reassure Mrs. Webber when she looked down on the flooded community, believing her house was gone.

Mrs. Webber has been living within "spitting distance" of the Ohio now for 60 years and hopes to spend the remainder of her life at the same spot.

"It's beautiful here in the summertime, with all the trees," she says. "And we have an old - fashioned neighborliness that most communities don't have anymore.

—:—

AFTER THE flood she helped shovel six to eight inches of muck off the floors and hose out the residue.

"My husband practically rebuilt the house after that," she remembers. "He raised it four feet and added a room or two.

"I have been packed up a time or two since, ready to move out, but I think the only other time we really vacated the house was in the 1942 flood," Mrs. Webber recalls.

And she laughs about the last-minute haste with which some of her neighbors fled the 1936 flood.

"The woman across the street ran out leaving her radio turned on and a sack of flour on the kitchen table."

Mrs. Jennie Putnam Boston, who lives at 1625 Ohio Ave., remembers her family losing its possessions in the 1936 flood at Smiths Ferry. She is a cousin of Mrs. Webber.

"We thought our home would be safe, but when we looked down on Smiths Ferry, all we could see were the chimneys jutting above the water," she recalls.

Wellsville was the hardest hit of any community in the immediate area. It was the 1936 flood that led construction of the floodwall behind which Wellsville nestles comfortably now during high water.

ABOUT 700 refugees were forced to take shelter in school buildings and churches in Wellsville. Volunteers worked all night to remove refugees from second floors of homes. The Red Cross, the now forgotten Works Progress Administration, police, firemen, the Highway Patrol and World War I veterans combined in rescue work.

Pleas were issued for coal, food, clothing and coats for the refugees. Twenty - five small boats were hauled in from Guilford Lake and other areas to aid in rescue work.

Wellsville first moved its refugees to the Garfield School and Second Presbyterian Church. When the water continued to rise, they were shifted to MacDonald School and other churches.

The Stevenson Co. foundry was under water and the Sterling and Wellsville China Cos. and the Mclain Fire Brick Co. were forced to suspend operation.

In East Liverpool, the C. C. Thompson Pottery Co. on the River Rd. halted operations on March 18 after two feet of water flooded the kiln and packing sheds.

The rising water already had forced 35 families to flee homes at Smiths Ferry. The evacuation started at Jethro, Arroyo and Congo. As the water crept higher, Little England families fled.

At the height of the flood, fire destroyed an auto agency and adjoining home at Wellsville. As though reporting a ship blaze, the newspaper commented that the 'buildings burned to the water's edge." Firemen, unable to obtain enough pressure from a hydrant, dropped the hose into the rising flood "and pumped water from the streets onto the flames."

MEMORIES of the March 1936 flood which inundated her home in the Little England section of East Liverpool are stirred for Mrs. Marie Webber of St. George St. by photographs of the record high water event.

Arrest Saves Driver From Fumes Of Auto

A Lisbon man found unconscious early Sunday in his parked car, with the doors locked and the motor running, was termed "lucky" by East Liverpool police, who said his arrest on an intoxication charge saved him from asphyxiation from carbon monoxide fumes.

Floyd Merrill of 533 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was removed from his auto at 7:35 a.m. on Dresden Ave. by Lt. Paul A. Burson and Patrolman H. Clyde Noting the man was asleep in the parked car with the motor running, the officers were unable to rouse him by hammering on the windows. As they prepared to force a door, he roused and was pulled out of the car. Police said the car "was full of fumes." He was offered examination at City Hospital, but declined.

Merrill was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication charge today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Officers said if he had not been removed from the auto he probably would have become a victim of the fumes.

Q. YELLOWISH DIAMONDS ARE AS BRILLIANT AS WHITE DIAMONDS?

A. True! Today, diamond experts agree that often a flawless, well cut diamond that is slightly yellowish in cast can be a beautiful, brilliant diamond to wear, yet be rather less in price than the ideal in color. However, these subtle gradations in color and cutting quality that affect value are points that only a man well-trained in gemology can determine. As members of the American Gem Society, we are able to offer this counsel to you at the time you are considering the purchase of a lasting investment in beauty.

Flood

record in the valley. It flooded low - lying areas throughout the Tri - State District and reached many spots that never had been touched before by flood waters.

The water left behind a trail of disaster unparalleled in the river's history.

The East Liverpool area had known for days that it was in for a spring flood. And the old-timers predicted it would exceed the usual freshets of March and April because of the very heavy snow accumulation along the watersheds of the Allegheny and Monongahela.

Heavy rains melted the snow cover in record time. Soon every river and its tributaries were surging with flood water, all converging on Pittsburgh. That city experienced its worst flood in history. East Liverpool waited and watched and made guesses about the crest and when it would arrive.

CAREFUL RIVERMEN added extra mooring lines to their barges, houseboats and skiffs. The angry yellow waters began to clumb up the banks. At 1 a. m. on Tuesday, March 17, the water stood at 34.9 feet at Dam 8, just slightly below flood stage of 36 feet.

River forecasters issued a prediction at noon that day that the river would crest here with "the worst flood in history, surpassing the 46.6-foot stage of 1913." And, they said, the crest would arrive between 4 and 5 p.m. the following day.

That sounded like disaster to the old - time rivermen, but the crest actually arrived 12 hours later and five feet higher than predicted.

Although it went down in folklore as the St. Patrick's Day Flood, the high water's crest actually hit East Liverpool at 6 a.m. on Thursday, March 19. The flood got its nickname from the time it crested in Pittsburgh about two days earlier.

The crest held steady here for less than an hour. Then it began falling at two - tenths of a foot an hour. By noon on March 19 it had dropped off to 50.2 feet.

"MY HUSBAND had a notched stick stuck in the bank of the river and he checked it every hour when the water started to come up," Mrs. Webber recalls. "As it got worse and worse, he checked the water level every half hour."

Convinced a flood was imminent, but not anticipating its true extent, the Webbers moved their household belongings to the home of a neighbor that was several feet higher. It stayed there to disappear under the water. The water backed into the little community in its usual path — following a small stream that empties there.

But when the water began to rise over a natural earth parapet between Little England and the shore, Mr. Webber decided that it was time to evacuate.

"We went from door to door telling everybody they had better move out," Mrs. Webber recalls. "The people had faith in my husband's judgment, because he watched the river all the time. He was an old 'river rat' — he was born along the river and spent all his life right close to it."

The Webbers remained in their home until the water was close to a foot deep on the floors. A volunteer in a rowboat took them away from the house. Then somebody remembered that the family pet, a big police dog, had been left inside.

"When we called he leaped right through the window in the kitchen door," Mrs. Webber remembers. "It was the only window that was broken in the flood.

SHE WAITED out the flood with her mother downtown. She and Mr. Webber had two children at the time, Lillian, 12, and Thomas, 14. The youngsters moved in with an uncle, Clarence Webber, of Erie St. Mrs. Webber's husband rode out the flood on his shantyboat, staying with the craft so it would not be lost.

But first he used heavy ropes to lash down his house and prevent it from drifting from the foundations. The ropes were thrown over the roof and then tied to trees and other objects that offered stability.

Walter Kernaich, now married to Lillian, remembers catching the ends of the ropes as they were thrown over the roof by Mr. Webber. He and his wife live next door to Mrs. Webber.

"I remember rowing back and forth across Little England at the height of the flood and sticking an oar down into the water to feel for the roof to make sure the house was still there," he says. He helped reassure Mrs. Webber when she looked down on the flooded community, believing her house was gone.

MEMORIES of the March 1936 flood which inundated her home in the Little England section of East Liverpool are stirred for Mrs. Marie Webber of St. George St. by photographs of the record high water event.

Mrs. Webber has been living within "spitting distance" of the Ohio now for 60 years and hopes to spend the remainder of her life at the same spot.

"It's beautiful here in the summertime, with all the trees," she says. "And we have an old - fashioned neighborliness that most communities don't have anymore.

AFTER THE flood she helped shovel six to eight inches of muck off the floors and hose out the residue.

"My husband practically rebuilt the house after that," she remembers. "He raised it four feet and added a room or two.

"I have been packed up a time or two since, ready to move out, but I think the only other time we really vacated the house was in the 1942 flood," Mrs. Webber recalls.

And she laughs about the last-minute haste with which some of her neighbors fled the 1936 flood.

"The woman across the street ran out leaving her radio turned on and a sack of flour on the kitchen table."

Mrs. Jennie Putnam Boston, who lives at 1625 Ohio Ave., remembers her family losing its possessions in the 1936 flood at Smiths Ferry. She is a cousin of Mrs. Webber.

"We thought our home would be safe, but when we looked down on Smiths Ferry, all we could see were the chimneys jutting above the water," she recalls.

Wellsville was the hardest hit of any community in the immediate area. It was the 1936 flood that led construction of the floodwall behind which Wellsville nestles comfortably now during high water.

ABOUT 700 refugees were forced to take shelter in school buildings and churches in Wellsville. Volunteers worked all night to remove refugees from second floors of homes. The Red Cross, the now forgotten Works Progress Administration, police, firemen, the Highway Patrol and World War I veterans combined in rescue work.

Pleas were issued for coal, food, clothing and coats for the refugees. Twenty - five small boats were hauled in from Guilford Lake and other areas to aid in rescue work.

Wellsville first moved its refugees to the Garfield School and Second Presbyterian Church. When the water continued to rise, they were shifted to MacDonald School and other churches.

The Stevenson Co. foundry was under water and the Sterling and Wellsville China Cos. and the Mclain Fire Brick Co. were forced to suspend operation.

In East Liverpool, the C. C. Thompson Pottery Co. on the River Rd. halted operations on March 18 after two feet of water flooded the kiln and packing sheds.

The rising water already had forced 35 families to flee homes at Smiths Ferry. The evacuation started at Jethro, Arroyo and Congo. As the water crept higher, Little England families fled.

At the height of the flood, fire destroyed an auto agency and adjoining home at Wellsville. As though reporting a ship blaze, the newspaper commented that the 'buildings burned to the water's edge." Firemen, unable to obtain enough pressure from a hydrant, dropped the hose into the rising flood "and pumped water from the streets onto the flames."

Arrest Saves Driver From Fumes Of Auto

A Lisbon man found unconscious early Sunday in his parked car, with the doors locked and the motor running, was termed "lucky" by East Liverpool police, who said his arrest on an intoxication charge saved him from asphyxiation from carbon monoxide fumes.

Floyd Merrill of 533 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was removed from his auto at 7:35 a.m. on Dresden Ave. by Lt. Paul A. Burson and Patrolman H. Clyde Noting the man was asleep in the parked car with the motor running, the officers were unable to rouse him by hammering on the windows. As they prepared to force a door, he roused and was pulled out of the car. Police said the car "was full of fumes." He was offered examination at City Hospital, but declined.

Merrill was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication charge today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Officers said if he had not been removed from the auto he probably would have become a victim of the fumes.

The Need To Know The Score

What's the score?

This American byword, which had its origin in the sports world, clearly indicates our desire to know the immediate status of a contest at any time.

We Americans love contests but we want to know what the score is throughout the game.

THIS IS ONE of the reasons why so many of us are frustrated about the international struggle we are in today with the major Communist nations of the world. We don't know the score.

And the confidence-destroying credibility gap which came into being during the Johnson administration has so undermined our faith in the integrity of our government spokesmen that we are afraid to believe the "score" when we are told.

With respect to the hot and cold wars we currently are engaged in with our enemies, the diplomatic intrigues and complex maneuverings of the Communists so boggle the mind of the average American that he doesn't know which end is up, let alone the score in the on-going contests.

For example, an official Communist party organ in the Soviet Union declared editorially Wednesday that an anti-Soviet campaign is being waged by both Red China and the United States.

Red China propaganda has been equally accusatory in berating both the Soviet Union and the United States for alleged anti-China diplomacy and "provocations."

Both Communist nations have repeatedly suggested or charged that the United States has been playing footsie with the other.

What is greatly needed today, for the relative peace of mind of the American citizen, is for someone in government to tell us, in honesty, how much of what our enemies say is true and how much is not.

PERHAPS, THAT IS what President Nixon endeavored to do in his remarkably frank press conference following his trip to Europe. If his statements hold up in the light of ensuing developments, he will have made a good start toward eradicating the credibility gap.

Then, without divulging all of our diplomatic maneuvers, he still can tell us what the score is to a degree commensurate with our need to know how we are doing in the game.

How long would Americans sit quietly at a football, baseball or basketball game without an operating scoreboard?

Time For Fundamentals

Bright sunshine bathes the East Liverpool area and brisk winds whip through the barren tree limbs. Soon the crocus will push its tendrills tentatively through the soft soil and a chorus of frogs' voices will sound from every pond.

All these signs of imminent spring, here or soon to arrive, make an older generation wonder quietly: Where are some of the other harbingers of this joyous time? Where are the boys flying kites? Where are the frosty-fingered youngsters shooting marbles, scuffing the toes of their shoes and ruining the knees of their trousers? Where are the little girls playing jacks and dancing on the sidewalks in games of hopscotch?

Has the United States succumbed to the euphoria of television and the mesmerizing effect of modern music to the point that the younger generation no longer has time for all the traditional pursuits of childhood? In today's hothouse atmosphere, does the child graduate from diapers to the discotheque and dating without the fascinating interval of kites, marbles, hopscotch and jacks? And all those other marvelous experiences like eating pilfered green apples, cooking potatoes in the ashes of a campfire, hunting frogs and turtles along a creek bank and "swimming" in a mud-filled farm pond that's knee deep at best.

It's time for the older generation to pass on all those bits of priceless knowledge that are the heritage of every American boy: The right width and length for a kite tail, how to position the kite string at the proper point for maximum control and elevation, how to make a kite dip and dance without diving into a tree or wires.

And there are all those other vital bits of knowledge like: How many commies to trade for a steelie in an exchange of marbles and the choice of an aggie over a catseye marble as the best shooter.

Those things have been passed down from generation to generation since the first Americans came to these shores. They shouldn't stop now, or boys will miss their boyhood. And how can any little girl grow up properly without mastering jacks and hopscotch before she turns to nylons, lipstick and pancake makeup?

On this bright weekend, what better project than to mark out a hopscotch court on the patio and teach a little girl the rudiments of that fascinating game? Or better yet, take a wide-eyed little son or grandson and go fly a kite!

A Reappraisal

Along with all the other rethinking of American policy that is going on in Washington is the matter of U.S. bases in Spain.

The agreement between the United States and Spain regarding the large American military installations expires March 26.

Year-old talks between the two countries are mired in controversy. Questions are being asked in Washington about the value of the bases in an era of intercontinental missiles.

Spain is upping the rent on the bases. In the last five years, the United States has given Spain $100 million in military aid in exchange for use of the bases. Spanish negotiators are asking $700 million in the next five years.

A few days ago a report was published in this country that said a U.S. representative had agreed to a draft accord. The leak angered Spain's officialdom and the U.S. Congress called for an investigation of what was considered inflated Spanish demands.

What started out as negotiations for a routine extension now may develop into a timely full-scale re-examination of the base agreement with Spain.

Updating The Record

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It is only natural that those who served in the Johnson administration want to be assured that they have their rightful place in history; and as time goes on, more and more Johnson officials will be leaking to the press the roles they played in some of the decisions that President Johnson had to make.

Art Buchwald

Just the other day Zachariah Slobodkan, who used to work in the White House, came to see me.

"You know I was always a dove on the Vietnamese War" he told me.

"Isn't that funny?" I said. "I always thought you were a hawk. I remember meeting you at a party a few years ago and you defended everything that Johnson was doing."

"That was just to throw you off," Zach said. "But in my conversations with the President I always advocated accommodation with Hanoi. I did this against Rensellear and Throwback, who were the real hardliners in the White House."

"I THOUGHT RENSELLEAR was for halting the bombing in Vietnam."

"He wanted everyone to think that but in the meetings with the President, Kornbean and I were the only ones who spoke up."

"But weren't you the one who wrote the original speech stating that we had to make Hanoi come to its knees?"

"I wrote it against my better judgment. Drewhistle came up with the idea and the President ordered me to write it up. Then Drewhistle, last week in the Times, said I was responsible for it. That wasn't the first time he's played that game."

"But Zach, I remember a speech you made at the University of Michigan attacking the entire press corps for its coverage of the Vietnamese War and saying that we were misleading the American public about the great victory we were winning over there."

"I WAS MISQUOTED."

"On television?"

"Look, do you want to hear my side of what happened in the White House or don't you?"

"Of course, I do."

"Upchuck and Bearwolf were escalating. Groundbief and Sluggard and I decided in favor of de-escalation but the President had the ear of Stonedeff and Meisterbumer. I wrote a memo to the President clearly stating the pros and cons but the memo was stopped by Ainsely who didn't want the President to get any bad news just when Lynda Bird was getting married."

"How come you never indicated this position in your off-the-cuff briefings to the press?"

"My briefings were being monitored by Witchcastle and if it got to the President that I wasn't supporting his policy, I would have been out like a flash."

"But if you didn't agree with the President's policies on Vietnam, why didn't you resign?"

"THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT Upchuck and Bearwolf wanted me to do. Also, I knew Drewhistle wanted my office. I was damned if I was going to walk out and have them sneering at me. Besides, I would have lost my White House car privileges."

"So you decided to stick it out, even though you didn't agree with what President Johnson was doing?"

"Of course. But now that he's out, the least I can do is set the record straight on where I stood."

"I'm glad you did, Zach. If you hadn't told me I would have never known."

"Isn't that something?" Zach said. "All the time you thought I was one of them, I was really one of you."

I wish to thank the Buckeye Border Conference for changing the date of the basketball preview so it does not conflict with the area Thanksgiving Union worship services.

Also I wish to thank all the ministerial associations and the Parent Teacher Associations who asked the sports organizations to select another date so that the Wednesday night before Thanksgiving be reserved for the annual union worship services.

VICTOR RIESEL

Harmony In Labor, Cabinet

WASHINGTON — The battle hymn of the Republicans is of a new vintage. In it, at least inside the administration, no longer are stored the grapes of any wrath against those labor leaders who denounced them, berated them, and year after year attempted to purge them.

Victor Riesel

Fact is that many a cabinet member, if not all of them, could join in singing labor's paraphrase of the hymn with the refrain of, "Solidarity forever, for the union makes us strong."

Flash back, for example, to the gathering behind closed doors in the office of Housing and Urban Development on the afternoon of Friday, Mar. 7. There sits Michigan's ex-governor, George Romney, with the elders of labor's establishment — the Administrative Committee of the AFL-CIO building trades department. These are tough veterans of a thousand picket lines and industrial wars.

The five union chiefs, leaders of 3.5 million craftsmen who construct most of what is built in the U.S. cache pledged to keep the session and dialogue off the record. This is no confrontation. This is a love feast. And their national leader Neal Haggerty, his secretary-treasurer, Frank Bonadio, the Plumbers' Pete Schoemann, the Laborers' Peter Fosco and the Carpenters' "anonymous" Finlay Allan don't dispense affection easily.

THEY CAN BE as tough as the cement and bricks laid by their followers. But with George Romney, they had no need to be. "You speak the same language I do," Romney told the Plumbers' Pete Schoemann.

After the closed session, musing over Mr. Romney's observation, one of his callers commented: "And for that matter, that's true for many in the cabinet — John Volpe, Red Blount, Walter Hickel and George Shultz. Most of them have been contractors. Shultz knows the business, too.

"They will not do everything we want, but they sure know what the hell we're talking about."

After the session with Mr. Romney, one of the visitors remembered that they had had a similar session with his Johnsonian predecessor, Robert Weaver. But the union chiefs had not "gotten anyplace."

Last Friday, they had gone into Mr. Romney's big office set for anything — except the sweetness and light which followed. They left with a promise that the secretary would come visit all general presidents of the 17 international building and construction trades unions. He said he would bring his top team over to discuss the multibillion dollar (and eventually trillion) Model Cities program.

They warmed to the man who was their free-breathing dragon just six months ago. They enjoyed his tale of the days he was a lather himself — and stories of his brother Mike Romney, now in Salt Lake City, who was a journeyman lather replete with union card and button.

THEY HAD COME to talk of their role in gutting the big cities of high-rise rat holes called tenements. They disagreed with Walter Reuther (who had visited Mr. Romney some weeks ago), whose instant de-slumming calls for $8,000 to $12,000 assembly line low-cost housing.

They told him that labor was the least of the costs of construction — what with the high price of money, land, material and architects.

They spoke of the skills needed to "connect up" even a prefabricated home, which can be built miles away, hoisted on a truck and moved to the housing site. And they added that Mr. Reuther's talk of the use of untrained slum dwellers as construction workers underestimated the need for skills.

They reported that they had gone, through their Project Outreach, into 53 cities and had recruited 3,000 hard-core youths who might never have found their way into the construction field. These young men were enlisted in addition to those who have come seeking enrollment in the apprenticeship schools.

"THIS IS THE FIRST time Romney and the Building Trades have gotten together," said one who can speak for the visitors.

"For our part, we have no apprehension concerning his stewardship, even though outsiders . . . try to start something . . . No one brainwashed anybody. He's a decent guy and knowledgeable in our area."

Certainly there's been a cultural revolution in this capital. Some folks call it a honeymoon. Some call it politicking. Perhaps the honeymoon will end. Perhaps there will be a counterrevolution when President Nixon hardens his policies and word goes on down the line.

But for the moment, don't put your money on a counterrevolution. Cabinet members are honeymooning with labor and liberal leaders all over town. Secretary of Labor Shultz has golfed with George Meany (and even beat him), has been closeted with Teamsters' chief Frank Fitzsimmons, and has had New York's liberal mayor, John Lindsay, over to the house for dinner. And Big John came away smiling.

Unions are singing Solidarity Forever with Postmaster Blount, former head of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary of Transportation John Volpe is another darling of the construction unionists. Vice President Ted Agnew is being praised by none other than Maritime's Big Joe Curran, who'd as gladly insult you by telegram as growl at a shipowner.

Small wonder there's little battle in the hymns hummed by this town's Republicans these days.

Berry's World

". . . And now, comrades, it is my great pleasure to present our expert on 'border clashes' . . ."

DAVID LAWRENCE

Missile Defense Problem

WASHINGTON — President Nixon can hardly be expected to throw away one of his trump cards by announcing an abandonment of the antiballistic-missile plan.

The project is, of course, expensive. The real issue, however, is not whether to build an anti-ballistic-missile system but how to find a way to get an agreement with the Soviet Union on a limitation of armament.

It is obvious to the whole world that an intensified arms race is too expensive for either side and that domestic reforms in each country must necessarily be limited or postponed if more and more funds have to be made available for defense.

THE PROBLEM IS NOT NEW. It has been pressing for several years while the argument has been carried on as to whether or not the United States is maintaining military superiority over the Soviet Union.

The question of missile defense is not easy for the average person to understand. Military men and civilian officials in the Petagon, however, feel the United States cannot fail to provide an adequate defense while another nation accumulates an arsenal of missiles that could destroy a substantial segment of the American population within a few hours.

President Nixon has stated that he wants to talk with the leaders of the Soviet Union very soon. Certainly the construction of an antiballistic-missile system by the United States relates directly to the problem of how to reach an understanding between this country and the Soviet Union.

The President isn't likely to put aside a means of protecting the United States, no matter how expensive, if he is convinced there is no chance of restraining the Soviet Union in any other way.

The argument about the antiballistic-missile system which has been going on inside and outside Congress is very timely. For it takes into account the importance of summit talks with the Russians.

If these do not succeed, it will be necesuary to keep on spending huge sums for defense purposes. But if there is a chance of agreement—which would benefit not only the Soviet Union and the United States but the whole world—the effort should be made to provide the best possible climate for the talks.

The President has in mind a modified plan in the event the United States must build an anti-ballistic-missile system. But the real extent of the program to be adopted will probably not be determined until after the talks with Russia on the whole subject of arms limitation.

Meanwhile, in Moscow, the government newspaper "Izvestia" speak hopefully about future negotiations and says "the balance of forces which now has been achieved offers an opportunity for concluding agreements on the freezing and then reduction of nuclear armaments."

But even if the United States and the Soviet Union come to an agreement, there will remain the problem of what must be done to build a defense against the Red Chinese.

It is argued here in military circles that the United States will have to begin to prepare to limit the death toll in the event of a Red Chinese attack which, it is estimated, might take upwards of 20,000,000 lives.

THE PROBABILITY IS that Red China, which already has nuclear weapons, would be able to launch an attack by 1975, when it is expected to have between 20 and 30 intercontinental missiles.

Pentagon officials feel a strong antiballistic-missile system is necessary. If President Nixon should try out the negotiation process first. It would show the country that he at least had made an effort to get an agreement.

The Need To Know The Score

What's the score?

This American byword, which had its origin in the sports world, clearly indicates our desire to know the immediate status of a contest at any time.

We Americans love contests but we want to know what the score is throughout the game.

THIS IS ONE of the reasons why so many of us are frustrated about the international struggle we are in today with the major Communist nations of the world. We don't know the score.

And the confidence-destroying credibility gap which came into being during the Johnson administration has so undermined our faith in the integrity of our government spokesmen that we are afraid to believe the "score" when we are told.

With respect to the hot and cold wars we currently are engaged in with our enemies, the diplomatic intrigues and complex maneuverings of the Communists so boggle the mind of the average American that he doesn't know which end is up, let alone the score in the on-going contests.

For example, an official Communist party organ in the Soviet Union declared editorially Wednesday that an anti-Soviet campaign is being waged by both Red China and the United States.

Red China propaganda has been equally accusatory in berating both the Soviet Union and the United States for alleged anti-China diplomacy and "provocations."

Both Communist nations have repeatedly suggested or charged that the United States has been playing footsie with the other.

What is greatly needed today, for the relative peace of mind of the American citizen, is for someone in government to tell us, in honesty, how much of what our enemies say is true and how much is not.

PERHAPS, THAT IS what President Nixon endeavored to do in his remarkably frank press conference following his trip to Europe. If his statements hold up in the light of ensuing developments, he will have made a good start toward eradicating the credibility gap.

Then, without divulging all of our diplomatic maneuvers, he still can tell us what the score is to a degree commensurate with our need to know how we are doing in the game.

How long would Americans sit quietly at a football, baseball or basketball game without an operating scoreboard?

Time For Fundamentals

Bright sunshine bathes the East Liverpool area and brisk winds whip through the barren tree limbs. Soon the crocus will push its tendrills tentatively through the soft soil and a chorus of frogs' voices will sound from every pond.

All these signs of imminent spring, here or soon to arrive, make an older generation wonder quietly: Where are some of the other harbingers of this joyous time? Where are the boys flying kites? Where are the frosty-fingered youngsters shooting marbles, scuffing the toes of their shoes and ruining the knees of their trousers? Where are the little girls playing jacks and dancing on the sidewalks in games of hopscotch?

Has the United States succumbed to the euphoria of television and the mesmerizing effect of modern music to the point that the younger generation no longer has time for all the traditional pursuits of childhood? In today's hothouse atmosphere, does the child graduate from diapers to the discotheque and dating without the fascinating interval of kites, marbles, hopscotch and jacks? And all those other marvelous experiences like eating pilfered green apples, cooking potatoes in the ashes of a campfire, hunting frogs and turtles along a creek bank and "swimming" in a mud-filled farm pond that's knee deep at best.

It's time for the older generation to pass on all those bits of priceless knowledge that are the heritage of every American boy: The right width and length for a kite tail, how to position the kite string at the proper point for maximum control and elevation, how to make a kite dip and dance without diving into a tree or wires.

And there are all those other vital bits of knowledge like: How many commies to trade for a steelie in an exchange of marbles and the choice of an aggie over a catseye marble as the best shooter.

Those things have been passed down from generation to generation since the first Americans came to these shores. They shouldn't stop now, or boys will miss their boyhood. And how can any little girl grow up properly without mastering jacks and hopscotch before she turns to nylons, lipstick and pancake makeup?

On this bright weekend, what better project than to mark out a hopscotch court on the patio and teach a little girl the rudiments of that fascinating game? Or better yet, take a wide-eyed little son or grandson and go fly a kite!

A Reappraisal

Along with all the other rethinking of American policy that is going on in Washington is the matter of U.S. bases in Spain.

The agreement between the United States and Spain regarding the large American military installations expires March 26.

Year-old talks between the two countries are mired in controversy. Questions are being asked in Washington about the value of the bases in an era of intercontinental missiles.

Spain is upping the rent on the bases. In the last five years, the United States has given Spain $100 million in military aid in exchange for use of the bases. Spanish negotiators are asking $700 million in the next five years.

A few days ago a report was published in this country that said a U.S. representative had agreed to a draft accord. The leak angered Spain's officialdom and the U.S. Congress called for an investigation of what was considered inflated Spanish demands.

What started out as negotiations for a routine extension now may develop into a timely full-scale re-examination of the base agreement with Spain.

Updating The Record

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It is only natural that those who served in the Johnson administration want to be assured that they have their rightful place in history; and as time goes on, more and more Johnson officials will be leaking to the press the roles they played in some of the decisions that President Johnson had to make.

Art Buchwald

Just the other day Zachiariah Slobodkan, who used to work in the White House, came to see me.

"You know I was always a dove on the Vietnamese War" he told me.

"Isn't that funny?" I said. "I always thought you were a hawk. I remember meeting you at a party a few years ago and you defended everything that Johnson was doing."

"That was just to throw you off," Zach said. "But in my conversations with the President I always advocated accommodation with Hanoi. I did this against Rensellear and Throwback, who were the real hardliners in the White House."

"I THOUGHT RENSELLEAR was for halting the bombing in Vietnam."

"He wanted everyone to think that but in the meetings with the President, Kornbean and I were the only ones who spoke up."

"But weren't you the one who wrote the original speech stating that we had to make Hanoi come to its knees?"

"I wrote it against my better judgment. Drewhistle came up with the idea and the President ordered me to write it up. Then Drewhistle, last week in the Times, said I was responsible for it. That wasn't the first time he's played that game."

"But Zach, I remember a speech you made at the University of Michigan attacking the entire press corps for its coverage of the Vietnamese War and saying that we were misleading the American public about the great victory we were winning over there."

"I WAS MISQUOTED."

"On television?"

"Look, do you want to hear my side of what happened in the White House or don't you?"

"Of course, I do."

"Upchuck and Bearwolf were escalating. Groundbief and Sluggard and I decided in favor of de-escalation but the President had the ear of Stonedeff and Meisterbumer. I wrote a memo to the President clearly stating the pros and cons but the memo was stopped by Ainsely who didn't want the President to get any bad news just when Lynda Bird was getting married."

"How come you never indicated this position in your off-the-cuff briefings to the press?"

"My briefings were being monitored by Witchcastle and if it got to the President that I wasn't supporting his policy, I would have been out like a flash."

"But if you didn't agree with the President's policies on Vietnam, why didn't you resign?"

"THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT Upchuck and Bearwolf wanted me to do. Also, I knew Drewhistle wanted my office. I was damned if I was going to walk out and have them sneering at me. Besides, I would have lost my White House car privileges."

"So you decided to stick it out, even though you didn't agree with what President Johnson was doing?"

"Of course. But now that he's out, the least I can do is set the record straight on where I stood."

"I'm glad you did, Zach. If you hadn't told me I would have never known."

"Isn't that something?" Zach said. "All the time you thought I was one of them, I was really one of you."

I wish to thank the Buckeye Border Conference for changing the date of the basketball preview so it does not conflict with the area Thanksgiving Union worship services.

Also I wish to thank all the ministerial associations and the Parent Teacher Associations who asked the sports organizations to select another date so that the Wednesday night before Thanksgiving be reserved for the annual union worship services.

VICTOR RIESEL

Harmony In Labor, Cabinet

WASHINGTON — The battle hymn of the Republicans is of a new vintage. In it, at least inside the administration, no longer are stored the grapes of any wrath against those labor leaders who denounced them, berated them, and year after year attempted to purge them.

Victor Riesel

Fact is that many a cabinet member, if not all of them, could join in singing labor's paraphrase of the hymn with the refrain of, "Solidarity forever, for the union makes us strong."

Flash back, for example, to the gathering behind closed doors in the office of Housing and Urban Development on the afternoon of Friday, Mar. 7. There sits Michigan's ex-governor, George Romney, with the elders of labor's establishment — the Administrative Committee of the AFL-CIO building trades department. These are tough veterans of a thousand picket lines and industrial wars.

The five union chiefs, leaders of 3.5 million craftsmen who construct most of what is built in the U.S. cache pledged to keep the session and dialogue off the record. This is no confrontation. This is a love feast. And their national leader Neal Haggerty, his secretary-treasurer, Frank Bonadio, the Plumbers' Pete Schoemann, the Laborers' Peter Fosco and the Carpenters' "anonymous" Finlay Allan don't dispense affection easily.

THEY CAN BE as tough as the cement and bricks laid by their followers. But with George Romney, they had no need to be. "You speak the same language I do," Romney told the Plumbers' Pete Schoemann.

After the closed session, musing over Mr. Romney's observation, one of his callers commented: "And for that matter, that's true for many in the cabinet — John Volpe, Red Blount, Walter Hickel and George Shultz. Most of them have been contractors. Shultz knows the business, too.

"They will not do everything we want, but they sure know what the hell we're talking about."

After the session with Mr. Romney, one of the visitors remembered that they had had a similar session with his Johnsonian predecessor, Robert Weaver. But the union chiefs had not "gotten anyplace."

Last Friday, they had gone into Mr. Romney's big office set for anything — except the sweetness and light which followed. They left with a promise that the secretary would come visit all general presidents of the 17 international building and construction trades unions. He said he would bring his top team over to discuss the multibillion dollar (and eventually trillion) Model Cities program.

They warmed to the man who was their free-breathing dragon just six months ago. They enjoyed his tale of the days he was a lather himself — and stories of his brother Mike Romney, now in Salt Lake City, who was a journeyman lather replete with union card and button.

THEY HAD COME to talk of their role in gutting the big cities of high-rise rat holes called tenements. They disagreed with Walter Reuther (who had visited Mr. Romney some weeks ago), whose instant de-slumming calls for $8,000 to $12,000 assembly line low-cost housing.

They told him that labor was the least of the costs of construction — what with the high price of money, land, material and architects.

They spoke of the skills needed to "connect up" even a prefabricated home, which can be built miles away, hoisted on a truck and moved to the housing site. And they added that Mr. Reuther's talk of the use of untrained slum dwellers as construction workers underestimated the need for skills.

They reported that they had gone, through their Project Outreach, into 53 cities and had recruited 3,000 hard-core youths who might never have found their way into the construction field. These young men were enlisted in addition to those who have come seeking enrollment in the apprenticeship schools.

"THIS IS THE FIRST time Romney and the Building Trades have gotten together," said one who can speak for the visitors.

"For our part, we have no apprehension concerning his stewardship, even though outsiders . . . try to start something . . . No one brainwashed anybody. He's a decent guy and knowledgeable in our area."

Certainly there's been a cultural revolution in this capital. Some folks call it a honeymoon. Some call it politicking. Perhaps the honeymoon will end. Perhaps there will be a counter-revolution when President Nixon hardens his policies and word goes on down the line.

But for the moment, don't put your money on a counterrevolution. Cabinet members are honeymooning with labor and liberal leaders all over town. Secretary of Labor Shultz has golfed with George Meany (and even beat him), has been closeted with Teamsters' chief Frank Fitzsimmons, and has had New York's liberal mayor, John Lindsay, over to the house for dinner. And Big John came away smiling.

Unions are singing Solidarity Forever with Postmaster Blount, former head of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary of Transportation John Volpe is another darling of the construction unionists. Vice President Ted Agnew is being praised by none other than Maritime's Big Joe Curran, who'd as gladly insult you by telegram as growl at a shipowner.

Small wonder there's little battle in the hymns hummed by this town's Republicans these days.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Missile Defense Problem

WASHINGTON — President Nixon can hardly be expected to throw away one of his trump cards by announcing an abandonment of the antiballistic-missile plan.

The project is, of course, expensive. The real issue, however, is not whether to build an antiballistic-missile system but how to find a way to get an agreement with the Soviet Union on a limitation of armament.

It is obvious to the whole world that an intensified arms race is too expensive for either side and that domestic reforms in each country must necessarily be limited or postponed if more and more funds have to be made available for defense.

THE PROBLEM IS NOT NEW. It has been pressing for several years while the argument has been carried on as to whether or not the United States is maintaining military superiority over the Soviet Union.

The question of missile defense is not easy for the average person to understand. Military men and civilian officials in the Petagon, however, feel the United States cannot fail to provide an adequate defense while another nation accumulates an arsenal of missiles that could destroy a substantial segment of the American population within a few hours.

President Nixon has stated that he wants to talk with the leaders of the Soviet Union very soon. Certainly the construction of an antiballistic-missile system by the United States relates directly to the problem of how to reach an understanding between this country and the Soviet Union.

The President isn't likely to put aside a means of protecting the United States, no matter how expensive, if he is convinced there is no chance of restraining the Soviet Union in any other way.

The argument about the antiballistic-missile system which has been going on inside and outside Congress is very timely. For it takes into account the importance of summit talks with the Russians.

If these do not succeed, it will be necesuary to keep on spending huge sums for defense purposes. But if there is a chance of agreement—which would benefit not only the Soviet Union and the United States but the whole world—the effort should be made to provide the best possible climate for the talks.

The President has in mind a modified plan in the event the United States must build an antiballistic-missile system. But the real extent of the program to be adopted will probably not be determined until after the talks with Russia on the whole subject of arms limitation.

Meanwhile, in Moscow, the government newspaper "Izvestia" speak hopefully about future negotiations and says "the balance of forces which now has been achieved offers an opportunity for concluding agreements on the freezing and then reduction of nuclear armaments."

But even if the United States and the Soviet Union come to an agreement, there will remain the problem of what must be done to build a defense against the Red Chinese.

It is argued here in military circles that the United States will have to begin to prepare to limit the death toll in the event of a Red Chinese attack which, it is estimated, might take upwards of 20,000,000 lives.

THE PROBABILITY IS that Red China, which already has nuclear weapons, would be able to launch an attack by 1975, when it is expected to have between 20 and 30 intercontinental missiles.

Pentagon officials feel a strong antiballistic-missile system is necessary. If President Nixon should try out the negotiation process first. It would show the country that he at least had made an effort to get an agreement.

ANN LANDERS

Mother's Pity Unfounded

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for the wisdom shown in your reply to the mother whose handsome, brilliant son announced he was going to marry a blind girl.

As founder and editor of Dialogue, a recorded and Brailled magazine for the blind, and as a blind person myself, my prime aim in life is to help erase as many misconceptions about sightless people as possible.

I married a blind girl nearly four years ago. I wish that worried mother could meet my wife. She has a master's degree and is a speech therapist, the only blind person — teacher or student — at Morton High School in Cicero, Ill.

My wife is a fine cook and an excellent housekeeper. Her hobby is writing children's books. She gives lectures and enjoys performing with an amateur theatrical group.

I hope the concerned mother will accept her blind daughter-in-law as a normal human being and forget about her sightlessness. Above all, she must not pity her or make excuses for her. Before long she'll discover that all her fears were without foundation. — D.O.N.

Dear D.O.N.: Thank you for a most inspiring letter. It was one of many — but alas, I cannot print them all. My best wishes to you and your bride.

The Expert

Dear Ann: I just caught up with some back columns. A friend saves them for me when I travel. The letter signed "Sick of Sex and Hungry for Love" was a lulu.

The woman complained because her husband wasn't romantic. She said his lovemaking was zero, that she slept with him in exchange for financial security. Her closing words were, "I know how a prostitute feels."

Since she knows how a prostitute feels, why doesn't she go back to work? I'm well acquainted with her kind. They hate sex, put nothing into it, then blame their husbands because they aren't romantic.

These dollies are dead from the neck both ways and they believe a marriage license entitles them to permanent amnesty.

You'd lose your job if you printed this letter so I don't expect to see it in the paper, but I feel better for having written it. — HEY YOU (MY EX-WIFE'S NAME FOR ME).

Dear Hey: Here's your letter, and, so far as I know, I'm still employed. Thanks for writing.

He's Obliging

Dear Ann: How much of his time does a man owe his former wife?

In the last two years my husband has spent hundreds of hours on the phone listening to sad stories about the children's report cards and their inability to get along with other children. She asked him to help her move (he did) and he also helped her with income tax forms.

Every few days he gets a call. Last night she needed some addresses of mutual friends.

Every time the phone rings my blood pressure gose up 20 points. I'll repeat the question: How much of his time does a man owe his former wife? — No. 3.

Dear No. 3: The question can best be answered by the ex-husband. He owes her as much time as he feels he wants to give. And if you are wise you'll be patient, supportive, understanding and silent.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Already Sentenced To 10 Years

Vietnam Monk Convicted Of Aiding Draft Dodgers

SAIGON (AP) — A militant Buddhist leader already sentenced to 10 years at hard labor was convicted today of harboring and assisting deserters and draft dodgers. He was given a second sentence of five years in solitary confinement, to run concurrently with the other.

The monk, Thich Thien Minh, did not attend today's trial, saying he was "too tired" and would accept whatever verdict the court handed down.

His first sentence, for harboring conspirators and illegal possession of weapons, explosives and Communist documents, was imposed Saturday. He had denied all the charges.

The first trial brought a heated protest from the An Quang Buddhist sect, which called the verdict "unjust and inhuman."

Thich Tri Quang, once the most powerful Buddhist leader in South Vietnam, emerged Sunday from two years of seclusion in a pagoda and accused the United States of helping President Nguyen Van Thieu repress Buddhists.

Tri Quang led the Buddhist movement which played a big part in the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime in 1963. Anti-Americanism has been a basic element of his political activity for years, although the U.S. Embassy gave him asylum after Diem's troops started invading pagodas in the summer of 1963.

Tri Quang and other Buddhist leaders published a resolution saying the government of Thieu, a Roman Catholic, is "using the support of foreigners to continue the program of Mr. Diem to destroy Buddhism with different and barbarous forms." Diem also was a Catholic and the brother of the archbishop of Hue.

Asked what foreigners were meant, Tri Quang replied: "Americans are responsible for everything that happens here."

He said no violence was planned to protest Thien Minh's imprisonment, but added: "We have other forms of protest." He did not elaborate, but his remark recalled the self-immolations of Buddhist monks protesting the Diem regime.

Two Army sergeants and a corporal tried with Thien Minh were convicted of desertion and sentenced to prison terms ranging from two to five years. On Saturday eight young men were sentenced to terms ranging from three to 20 years for illegal possession of weapons and actions against national security.

Police said a pro-Communist youth led them to the center, where he was living, and produced a Chinese pistol, some explosives and Communist documents.

Heavy, wet snow has a very high water content and four or five inches of this contains one inch of water; dry, powdery snow may require 14 or more inches to equal one inch of water.

Diem also was a Catholic and the brother of the archbishop of Hue.

Asked what foreigners were meant, Tri Quang replied: "Americans are responsible for everything that happens here."

He said no violence was planned to protest Thien Minh's imprisonment, but added: "We have other forms of protest." He did not elaborate, but his remark recalled the self-immolations of Buddhist monks protesting the Diem regime.

Two Army sergeants and a corporal tried with Thien Minh were convicted of desertion and sentenced to prison terms ranging from two to five years. On Saturday eight young men were sentenced to terms ranging from three to 20 years for illegal possession of weapons and actions against national security.

Police said a pro-Communist youth led them to the center, where he was living, and produced a Chinese pistol, some explosives and Communist documents.

Water resource specialists point out that the "rule - of - thumb" that 10 inches of snow equals one inch of water can vary considerably. Heavy, wet snow has a very high water content and four or five inches of this contains one inch of water; dry, powdery snow may require 14 or more inches to equal one inch of water.

The DOCTOR Says

Hard Arteries Figure In Strokes

Q — What is generalized arteriosclerosis? At what age does it start? Can diet or exercise help?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Generalized arteriosclerosis is hardening of the arteries throughout the body. It starts the day you are born but progresses faster in some persons than in others. Exercises aimed at general fitness and a diet low in cholesterol will check its progress.

Q — I have heard that eating too many eggs can cause hardening of the arteries. Is this true?

A — Although egg yolks are rich in cholesterol, they are an excellent food. Unless there is some special reason to avoid them, you should eat three to six eggs a week.

Q — Does hardening of the arteries cause a stroke or other serious diseases?

A — It is an important factor favoring stroke, coronary heart disease and kidney failure.

Q — What are the symptoms of cerebral arteriosclerosis? At what age does it begin? Can any preventive measures be taken? Is it hereditary?

A—The earliest symptoms are poor memory for recent events, reduced general efficiency and easy fatigability. There is no constant age of onset. It may begin in the early 40s or it may be absent in the 90s. Measures for preventing hardening of the arteries in general should be helpful. These include avoidance of overweight, nervous tension and smoking. If the blood pressure is high it should be controlled. Heredity may be a causative factor but it is not one you can do much about.

Q — I am taking Cyclospasmol to dilate my blood vessels. Can they be dilated too much? Are there any side effects from this drug?

A — Since blood vessel dilators relax contractions in the vessel wall, thus permitting the vessels to dilate, they cannot be said to cause overdilation. The side effects of Cyclospasmol include nausea, flushing of the skin, a feeling of weaknss and rapid pulse.

Q — Is it true that orange juice, water and beef are causative factors in clogging the arteries because of the residue contained in them?

A—No.

Q—In a recent column you said that inhaling tetraethyl lead gasoline fumes can cause brain damage. I am not in the habit of smelling gas fumes but whenever I start my car I get a strong whiff. Can this harm me or my children?

A — No. The true gasoline sniffer inhales the fumes for hours at a time.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Personalities In The News

LONDON (AP) — The widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has become the first woman ever to preach a regular Sunday service in St. Paul's Cathdral.

Coretta King spoke from the same pulpit where her late husband a Baptist, preached in 1964, the first non-Anglican to do so.

Mrs. King, who said she felt "a deep sense of humility and a painful sense of inadequacy," delivered a 15-minute sermon to 2,000 churchgoers.

"Many despair at all the evil and unrest and disorder in the world today," she said. "But beyond the turbulence I see a new social order, I see the dawn of a new day."

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Maleissa Ann Montgomery, actress daughter of singer Dinah Shore and actor George Montgomery, has married David Burk, an actor-producer. It was the first marriage for Miss Montgomery, 21, and the third for Burk, 31.

The ceremony Sunday was performed at Miss Shore's home.

She performed the weekend marriage ceremony as the acting vicar of St. Aidan's church.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pretty Judy Jarosak, a waitress in a taproom called "The Red Baron," says she plans to violate this week a city ordinance which forbids bartending by females.

ROME (AP) — Sofia Loren, who recently became a mother for the first time, will return to movie-making soon with a film called "Il Girasole," Italian for "The Sunflower."

Frank A. Dawson Receives Kent State University Honor

A Distinguished Service Award from Kent State University was presented to Frank A. Dawson of East Liverpool during the university's fifth annual winter commencement Saturday.

Dawson, chairman of the advisory committee of Kent's Columbiana County branch at East Liverpool, was one of five Ohioans honored for "significant" contributions to the university.

The award read:

"With charming wit and gentle warmth, you have endeared yourself to the Kent State University family throughout Northeastern Ohio. This affection, gained by an engaging personality, has been heightened and enhanced by a degree of respect attained by few men and fully earned by fewer still.

"Because you have been willing to pay the price in time and frustration which leadership demands, because you have placed the needs of your community above personal comfort, many young people can look forward to a brighter, more significant future."

"Therefore, as modest evidence of its gratitude, respect and affection, Kent State University is proud to present to you the Distinguished Service Award."

Only One Of 34 Crewmen Lost As Ship Sinks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — All but one of 31 crew members were saved from the foggy Gulf of Mexico after an engine room explosion sent the Liberian freighter Vaniqueur to the bottom 140 miles at sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer escort Hyman, cruising through fog in the area reported by a radio distress signal, picked up 24 men Saturday night after they had drifted 24 hours in two stormtossed lifeboats.

Three hours earlier the British freighter Arbitrator had stumbled on six other men in an inflatable life raft.

The Coast Guard pressed an air-sea search for the only crew member unaccounted for.

"When they found us it was a miracle. A miracle," said Jaime Echeverry, 24, of Cali, Colombia, one of the men in the lifeboats.

Echeverry and other crewmen said the explosion occurred Friday night. Crewman Eusebio Rodolfo Nunez of Buenos Aires said he heard a dull thud and another came to his sleeping quarters and told him "water was inundating the ship."

The Vainqueur, 580 feet long, carried 20,000 tons of sugar en route from Vera Curz to New Orleans.

Lafayette's tomb in Paris is one of only 18 sites in the world where, by presidential proclamation, it is authorized to fly the Stars and Stripes 24 hours a day in patriotic respect.

Federal Authorities 'Cool' To College Student Loan Bid

HARRISBRG (AP) — A Senate proposal for a $60 million direct loan fund for college students may be getting an A-plus for government economy but, so far, it hasn't received a passing grade from federal authorities.

The plan sponsored by five ranking Senate Republicans is aimed at phasing out the current, $46 million scholarship program and replacing it with state funded, federally-insured loans.

There is some question whether it could be insurable by the federal government," William M. Simons Jr., chief of the Insured Loans Branch of the U.S. Office of Education, said in a telephone interview.

Simmons said that while he has not been approached formally on the plan unveiled by Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, last week he has heard about it informally.

"Two other states have direct loan programs — Texas and Wisconsin — and they are not insurable loans," said Simmons. "They cannot be insured by this office if they are made on the basis of financial need."

Regulations, he said, permit his office to "re-insure loans" made by private lending firms and insured initially by states. This program is already in effect in Pennsylvania and Simmons' office is "re - insuring" some $120 million in private loans to college students which are insured by the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Authority.

Under the program, Pennsylvania assures lenders it will pay up to 80 per cent of any loan on which a student defaults and, in turn, the federal government reimburses the state.

Also, the federal government pays 7 per cent interest on students' loans while they are in school so that the student needn't begin repaying his note until he graduates.

If Pennsylvania decides on a direct loan program "without the needs test," said Simmons, the federal government would still pay interest for students whose "adjusted family income is less than $15,000 yearly."

The senators' plan would borrow $60 million yearly from the state employes and public school employes' retirement systems at six per cent interest and re-loan it to the students at 7 per cent. The one per cent difference would cover administrative costs.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Packard, deputy secretary of defense, says the proposed U.S. antiballistic missile system should not escalate the nuclear arms race because "this is not a threatening deployment."

Packard said Sunday the Soviet Union will realize "we are only protecting our defenses."

The deputy secretary was interviewed on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

Packard, who previously had favored an even more extensive ABM program, said defense planners had considered building up the Polaris submarine missile force, but this would have been more provocative to the Soviets.

He defended President Nixon's ABM proposal as practical and workable.

"We are going to have to move ahead with installation on two missile sites and then do the checkout necessary," he said. "I'm convinced that it will work."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Herbert G. Klein, President Nixon's communications director, have traded jabs on the issue of investigating hunger in the United States.

Klein, speaking at a Young Republican Leadership School on Saturday, said: "I think one disgrace of the moment is for Sen. McGovern and others to make hunger a political issue." He said everyone is concerned about hunger and malnutrition, but this will not be solved "by traipsing around the country with television cameras."

A Senate committee headed by McGovern held hearings on hunger last week in Florida.

McGovern said Sunday that hunger knows no politics.

"No problem as serious as human hunger is going to be ended unless it is brought out of the shadows and into the light of the public conscience," McGovern said in a statement. "I would hope that as an expert on communications Mr. Klein would realize that."

McGovern said Klein seems to be aligning himself with those who "react defensively to the fact that our committee has turned the public spotlight on an outrageous situation . . ."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Journalists, business leaders and a union chief were among those who attended Sunday church services at the White House with President and Mrs. Nixon.

The Rev. Louis H. Evans Jr., of La Jolla Presbyterian Church in La Jolla, Calif., called on the congregation to enter into a relationship with Christ "in which love replaces hate and honesty brushes away previous misconceptions."

The President, in introducing Dr. Evans, recalled that 36 years ago when he was in college Dr. Evans' father had given an inspiring speech on the campus.

Guest at the service included Washington newsmen, visiting editors and publishers, members of the National Association of Businessmen, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, congressmen and Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Rogers Firemen Map Plans For Ambulance Duty

ROGERS — Implementation of an ambulance service for Rogers and Elkrun Township was discussed during a special meeting of the Rogers firemen Sunday.

Earl Cusick reported on talks with an attorney concerning the qualifications required for an ambulance driver and back-up man. It was announced Elkrun authorities indicate $1,000 may be available to pay for the service.

The ambulance is to be purchased from Earl DeVan, who obtained the vehicle.

Drivers available for morning duty are Delbert Brown, Ron Coppock and Kenny Ours, and for evening duty, Jim Quetot Jr., Cusick, Bob Huston, Larry Cloud, George Eckert, Bob Whitmore and Dave Burson.

First-aid men available for daylight duty are Art Hostetter, Glenn Rhodes and Floyd Hill and for night duty Phil Brown, Cusick, Whitmore and DeVan.

Fill-in drivers include Paul Esenwein, Larry Hostetter, Jim Quetot Sr., Floyd Hill and Rhodes.

A final decision on Elkrun participation may be made at a special meeting Sunday.

Frank A. Dawson Receives Kent State University Honor

A Distinguished Service Award from Kent State University was presented to Frank A. Dawson of East Liverpool during the university's fifth annual winter commencement Saturday.

Dawson, chairman of the advisory committee of Kent's Columbiana County branch at East Liverpool, was one of five Ohioans honored for "significant" contributions to the university.

The award read:

"With charming wit and gentle warmth, you have endeared yourself to the Kent State University family throughout Northeastern Ohio. This affection, gained by an engaging personality, has been heightened and enhanced by a degree of respect attained by few men and fully earned by fewer still.

"Because you have been willing to pay the price in time and frustration which leadership demands, because you have placed the needs of your community above personal comfort, many young people can look forward to a brighter, more significant future."

"Therefore, as modest evidence of its gratitude, respect and affection, Kent State University is proud to present to you the Distinguished Service Award."

Only One Of 34 Crewmen Lost As Ship Sinks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — All but one of 31 crew members were saved from the foggy Gulf of Mexico after an engine room explosion sent the Liberian freighter Vaniqueur to the bottom 140 miles at sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer escort Hyman, cruising through fog in the area reported by a radio distress signal, picked up 24 men Saturday night after they had drifted 24 hours in two stormtossed lifeboats.

Three hours earlier the British freighter Arbitrator had stumbled on six other men in an inflatable life raft.

The Coast Guard pressed an air-sea search for the only crew member unaccounted for.

"When they found us it was a miracle. A miracle," said Jaime Echeverry, 24, of Cali, Colombia, one of the men in the lifeboats.

Echeverry and other crewmen said the explosion occurred Friday night. Crewman Eusebio Rodolfo Nunez of Buenos Aires said he heard a dull thud and another came to his sleeping quarters and told him "water was inundating the ship."

The Vainqueur, 580 feet long, carried 20,000 tons of sugar en route from Vera Curz to New Orleans.

Federal Authorities 'Cool' To College Student Loan Bid

HARRISBRG (AP) — A Senate proposal for a $60 million direct loan fund for college students may be getting an A-plus for government economy but, so far, it hasn't received a passing grade from federal authorities.

The plan sponsored by five ranking Senate Republicans is aimed at phasing out the current, $46 million scholarship program and replacing it with state funded, federally-insured loans.

There is some question whether it could be insurable by the federal government," William M. Simons Jr., chief of the Insured Loans Branch of the U.S. Office of Education, said in a telephone interview.

Simmons said that while he has not been approached formally on the plan unveiled by Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, last week he has heard about it informally.

"Two other states have direct loan programs — Texas and Wisconsin — and they are not insurable loans," said Simmons. "They cannot be insured by this office if they are made on the basis of financial need."

Regulations, he said, permit his office to "re-insure loans" made by private lending firms and insured initially by states. This program is already in effect in Pennsylvania and Simmons' office is "re - insuring" some $120 million in private loans to college students which are insured by the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Authority.

Under the program, Pennsylvania assures lenders it will pay up to 80 per cent of any loan on which a student defaults and, in turn, the federal government reimburses the state.

Also, the federal government pays 7 per cent interest on students' loans while they are in school so that the student needn't begin repaying his note until he graduates.

If Pennsylvania decides on a direct loan program "without the needs test," said Simmons, the federal government would still pay interest for students whose "adjusted family income is less than $15,000 yearly."

The senators' plan would borrow $60 million yearly from the state employes and public school employes' retirement systems at six per cent interest and re-loan it to the students at 7 per cent. The one per cent difference would cover administrative costs.

Chicago River Dyed Green

Hundreds Of Americans Parade In Irish Capital

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of Americans turned up for the St. Patrick's Day parade in Dublin.

In Chicago, the Chicago River was dyed green for the occasion.

At Grogan's restaurant in South Boston you could order anything you wanted, but what you got was corn beef and cabbage.

They laughed in New York when told that Savannah, Ga., with a planned turnout of 10,000 or so, hoped to have the biggest parade in the country.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, sponsor of the New York parade, counted on 345 contingents totaling 27,000 marchers, including 161 bands. It was New York's 207th annual show in honor of the saint who drove the snakes from the Emerald Isle.

Prominent marchers in Dublin were Bobby Shriver, 14, and his sister Maria, 13, whose mother is Mrs. Sargent Shriver, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The Irish tourist board said Americans were on hand in record numbers and that 400 of them were marching in the parade. The biggest single group, 200, came from Albany, N.Y.

Ireland's 86-year-old president, Eamon De Valera, issued a message of "good wishes to all our kinsfolk and friends beyond the seas."

Prime Minister Jack Lynch pledged his government would "promote the reunification of Ireland."

At the moment, the six counties of Northern Ireland are separated from the republic. As a symbolic protest against this situation, the New York parade marchers were ordered to wear black armbands. Said Michael Delehunty of Montclair, N.J., national president of the Hibernians fraternal organization:

"It is about time that the world paid some attention to the discrimination and suppression of religious and economic freedom in the six counties of Northern Ireland."

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley enlisted William Jones, lord mayor of Waterford, Ireland, to help him lead the big annual parade from the green-dyed Chicago River down the mercantile artery of State Street.

Waterford is the home town of Daley's paternal grandparents, and he visited there in 1964.

William P. Fay, Ireland's ambassador to Washington, had a fresh shamrock flown in from the old country for President Nixon. The shamrock was potted for presentation in a vase engraved with a view of the White House and carrying the inscription:

"The White House, designed by James Hoban of Ireland."

Mrs. Fay had an illustrated book about Ireland as a gift for Mrs. Nixon. The President's wife, whose maiden name was Ryan, decided to call St. Patrick's Day her birthday, although actually she was 56 Sunday.

In South Boston, which many Irish Americans regard as a second capital of Eire, everybody was declared Irish for the day, including those from such outlying counties as Sicily, Poland, Lithuiania and Africa.

In Madison, Wis., the Irish Students Association of the University of Wisconsin marked the day by issuing a list of demands.

They said they wanted the English language replaced by Gaelic in classrooms, lime juice instead of orange juice in the cafeteria dispensing machines, and new administration building painted green.

Katie O'Callaghan, vice president of the associaton, said if the demands were not met students of Irish extraction would sit in classes and stare coldly at their instructors.

The parade in Savannah was the 113th annual. City employes worked most of Sunday night painting a green stripe down the middle of he parade route, covering 3½ miles.

Because St. Patrick's Day is no a legal holiday, some cities held their parades Sunday.

In Jersey City, N.J., one of the marchers was Andrew Minihan, lord mayor of New Ross in County Wexford, Ireland, the ancestral home of the late President Kennedy. The parade was dedicated to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The automatic milk bottle filler and capper was pattented in 1886.

Said Michael Delehunty of Montclair, N.J., national president of the Hibernians fraternal organization:

"It is about time that the world paid some attention to the discrimination and suppression of religious and economic freedom in the six counties of Northern Ireland."

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley enlisted William Jones, lord mayor of Waterford, Ireland, to help him lead the big annual parade from the green-dyed Chicago River down the mercantile artery of State Street.

Waterford is the home town of Daley's paternal grandparents, and he visited there in 1964.

William P. Fay, Ireland's ambassador to Washington, had a fresh shamrock flown in from the old country for President Nixon. The shamrock was potted for presentation in a vase engraved with a view of the White House and carrying the inscription:

"The White House, designed by James Hoban of Ireland."

Mrs. Fay had an illustrated book about Ireland as a gift for Mrs. Nixon. The President's wife, whose maiden name was Ryan, decided to call St. Patrick's Day her birthday, although actually she was 56 Sunday.

In South Boston, which many Irish Americans regard as a second capital of Eire, everybody was declared Irish for the day, including those from such outlying counties as Sicily, Poland, Lithuiania and Africa.

In Madison, Wis., the Irish Students Association of the University of Wisconsin marked the day by issuing a list of demands.

They said they wanted the English language replaced by Gaelic in classrooms, lime juice instead of orange juice in the cafeteria dispensing machines, and new administration building painted green.

Katie O'Callaghan, vice president of the associaton, said if the demands were not met students of Irish extraction would sit in classes and stare coldly at their instructors.

The parade in Savannah was the 113th annual. City employes worked most of Sunday night painting a green stripe down the middle of he parade route, covering 3½ miles.

Because St. Patrick's Day is no a legal holiday, some cities held their parades Sunday.

In Jersey City, N.J., one of the marchers was Andrew Minihan, lord mayor of New Ross in County Wexford, Ireland, the ancestral home of the late President Kennedy. The parade was dedicated to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The automatic milk bottle filler and capper was patented in 1886.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clinical psychologist Martin Schorr takes the stand again today in the Sirhan trial.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Gravy Secret Revealed

DEAR FOLKS: Hold on to your hats 'cause I'm going to tell you something that most people probably don't know. I've tested it for three years now. And consider it way up in the heavens like the Milky Way.

Heloise

It's ARROWROOT!

Comes in cans and jars, looks like starch and can be found in grocery stores on the shelf by the cream of tartar. It's the most fantastic thing to use when making GRAVY — (lumpless too!) — that I ever tried.

I once knew the man who ran one of the most elite dining rooms in the U.S. One night I asked him to let me in on the secret of making that good, CLEAR roast gravy that all elegant dining places whip up.

He said, "Buy some ARROWROOT. But use about one-fourth the amount you ordinarily would when using cornstarch or flour. Mix it with some water and pour it into your gravy."

Sure 'nuff, it makes gravy most delectable and doesn't give you that starchy flavor at all. And it's as clear as our windows should be. . .

The part I like the most — besides being clear — is that once it gets to its thickening point, it DOESN'T GET ANY THICKER! And the gravy may be reheated or kept warm without adding anymore liquid at all.

How about that?

And an ocean of thanks to a kind man for revealing this hot recipe to us homemakers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a suggestion for storing baby's clothes.

The shelves in a plastic, zippered shoe bag work very well for little undershirts, nightgowns, etc.

If you take the bottom shelf out, you can stack diapers on the bottom of the bag. And if you take the top shelf out, you can hang little outfits inside at the top.

Since the bag hangs in the closet, it takes up much less space than a separate bureau just for baby.

LINDA WHEELAND.

DEAR HELOISE: Out of stationery, but plenty of envelopes? Then take your shears and pink the edge all the way around some of the leftover envelopes. And use the front of the envelope for note paper.

Nearly everyone has extra envelopes after the matching paper is gone. You can mix or match these pinked sheets and they are great for short notes.

DOROTHY STORTZ.

DEAR HELOISE: I have tried several of the ideas in your column, and my four children have put up with me so far. But when I decided to try the "chore distributing idea," my second to the youngest boy exploded:

"Why does that Heloise have to put all those ideas into your head?"

But that's all right. . .keep those hints coming.

I love them!

MRS. M. S. HUIGDAK.

DEAR HELOISE: The legs on my plastic-covered dish rack were becoming a bit sticky, though not worn.

I put three coats of natural nail polish on them and it did the trick.

I allowed each coat to dry very thoroughly before adding the next one.

BEARNICE CUDHIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I was having difficulty unsnapping the metal hooks on my shower curtain rod when it occurred to me to use my nut cracker.

The grooves on the cracker kept it from slipping off. Worked just great!

MRS. E. S.

DEAR HELOISE: When you make artificial flower arrangements, use rock salt instead of those expensive small white rocks. Gives the same effect and for practically nothing.

A READER

This column is written for you. . .the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Thief Obtains Money, Rings

A thief obtained $16 in coins and currency and two rings in ransacking a North Side home Sunday during the owner's absence, police reported.

Gary DeGarmo of 454 Orchard Grove Ave. said the loss included a class ring, a wedding ring, $10 in Kennedy half-dollars, four silver dollars and two $1 bills.

DeGarmo told officers he left home about 1:30 p.m. and found the rear door of his home ajar when he returned at 10 p.m. The thief took the money and rings in ransacking a chest of drawers in a bedroom, he reported.

The investigation showed all the windows in the home were secure, officers said. There was no sign the rear door had been forced, they added.

Two vandalism cases also were reported over the weekend.

Mary Laughlin of rear 947 McKinnon Ave. told police Saturday afternoon a 46-by-51-inch window on the south side of her home was broken when a vandal threw a stone between 6 and 10 p.m. Friday.

Carl Graham of 997 Peake St. reported a windshield wiper arm on his 1965 model auto was broken Friday night while the vehicle was parked near his home.

Charlemagne was the most powerful ruler in western Europe in the 500-year period following the fall of Rome.

Took Sheriff Almost 2 Years

Volunteer Riot-Control Force Cited In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — It took him almost two years, but the sheriff of Cook County (Chicago) finally has a volunteer riot-control force. It's outfitted in khaki uniforms with black berets and scarves and paratroop-type boots.

Sheriff Joseph I. Woods has circumvented a Circuit Court decision, which held last year that a proposed 1,000-man riot control unit was illegal under the Illinois Constitution.

At the time, Woods, a Republican, received sharp criticism from Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, and irate citizens sought and won the court injunction barring the unit's formation.

Woods is a former Marine who values the training he received.

He proposed his volunteer force after the summer of 1967, when the western suburb of Maywood was disturbed by racial strife. At that time, Woods recruited some 250 bailiffs and process servers employed by his department to bolster his approximately 250 regulars.

Woods says that relatively untrained and unorganized reserve riot force now has turned into a sharp-looking and well-trained 120-man riot control force.

At the unit's first review over the weekend Woods told the men: "I am delighted with what you look like. I am more delighted with what you have done."

The service is voluntary. The men train on Saturdays and are instructed by sheriff's police and the FBI in crowd control, firearms handling, riot tactics, judo and karate.

"This is nothing new," Woods said in a telephone interview.

"When the Maywood situation arose we had to act quickly and these people came in and did the job.

"I'm an ex-Marine and this unit is trained to act as a Marine unit would. It is trained to act as a unit," Woods added.

"They are trained as a riot unit. Negro sergeants pick on white troops and white sergeants pick on Negro troops. If any one gets mad or breaks down they are taken out of the unit. They are trained to act as an organization."

Woods said, "The purpose is not and never has been to use this unit on the first line in a disturbance."

If more manpower is needed, he said, it would take 40 minutes to an hour to mobilize the reserve unit.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a suggestion for storing baby's clothes.

The shelves in a plastic, zippered shoe bag work very well for little undershirts, nightgowns, etc.

If you take the bottom shelf out, you can stack diapers on the bottom of the bag. And if you take the top shelf out, you can hang little outfits inside at the top.

Since the bag hangs in the closet, it takes up much less space than a separate bureau just for baby.

LINDA WHEELAND.

DEAR HELOISE: Out of stationery, but plenty of envelopes? Then take your shears and pink the edge all the way around some of the leftover envelopes. And use the front of the envelope for note paper.

Nearly everyone has extra envelopes after the matching paper is gone. You can mix or match these pinked sheets and they are great for short notes.

DOROTHY STORTZ.

DEAR HELOISE: I have tried several of the ideas in your column, and my four children have put up with me so far. But when I decided to try the "chore distributing idea," my second to the youngest boy exploded:

"Why does that Heloise have to put all those ideas into your head?"

But that's all right. . .keep those hints coming.

I love them!

MRS. M. S. HUIGDAK.

DEAR HELOISE: The legs on my plastic-covered dish rack were becoming a bit sticky, though not worn.

I put three coats of natural nail polish on them and it did the trick.

I allowed each coat to dry very thoroughly before adding the next one.

BEARNICE CUDHIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I was having difficulty unsnapping the metal hooks on my shower curtain rod when it occurred to me to use my nut cracker.

The grooves on the cracker kept it from slipping off. Worked just great!

MRS. E. S.

DEAR HELOISE: When you make artificial flower arrangements, use rock salt instead of those expensive small white rocks. Gives the same effect and for practically nothing.

Thief Obtains Money, Rings

A thief obtained $16 in coins and currency and two rings in ransacking a North Side home Sunday during the owner's absence, police reported.

Gary DeGarmo of 454 Orchard Grove Ave. said the loss included a class ring, a wedding ring, $10 in Kennedy half-dollars, four silver dollars and two $1 bills.

DeGarmo told officers he left home about 1:30 p.m. and found the rear door of his home ajar when he returned at 10 p.m. The thief took the money and rings in ransacking a chest of drawers in a bedroom, he reported.

The investigation showed all the windows in the home were secure, officers said. There was no sign the rear door had been forced, they added.

Two vandalism cases also were reported over the weekend.

Mary Laughlin of rear 947 McKinnon Ave. told police Saturday afternoon a 46-by-51-inch window on the south side of her home was broken when a vandal threw a stone between 6 and 10 p.m. Friday.

Carl Graham of 997 Peake St. reported a windshield wiper arm on his 1965 model auto was broken Friday night while the vehicle was parked near his home.

Took Sheriff Almost 2 Years

Volunteer Riot-Control Force Cited In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — It took him almost two years, but the sheriff of Cook County (Chicago) finally has a volunteer riot-control force. It's outfitted in khaki uniforms with black berets and scarves and paratroop-type boots.

Sheriff Joseph I. Woods has circumvented a Circuit Court decision, which held last year that a proposed 1,000-man riot control unit was illegal under the Illinois Constitution.

At the time, Woods, a Republican, received sharp criticism from Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, and irate citizens sought and won the court injunction barring the unit's formation.

Woods is a former Marine who values the training he received.

He proposed his volunteer force after the summer of 1967, when the western suburb of Maywood was disturbed by racial strife. At that time, Woods recruited some 250 bailiffs and process servers employed by his department to bolster his approximately 250 regulars.

Woods says that relatively untrained and unorganized reserve riot force now has turned into a sharp-looking and well-trained 120-man riot control force.

At the unit's first review over the weekend Woods told the men: "I am delighted with what you look like. I am more delighted with what you have done."

The service is voluntary. The men train on Saturdays and are instructed by sheriff's police and the FBI in crowd control, firearms handling, riot tactics, judo and karate.

"This is nothing new," Woods said in a telephone interview.

"When the Maywood situation arose we had to act quickly and these people came in and did the job.

"I'm an ex-Marine and this unit is trained to act as a Marine unit would. It is trained to act as a unit," Woods added.

"They are trained as a riot unit. Negro sergeants pick on white troops and white sergeants pick on Negro troops. If any one gets mad or breaks down they are taken out of the unit. They are trained to act as an organization."

Woods said, "The purpose is not and never has been to use this unit on the first line in a disturbance."

If more manpower is needed, he said, it would take 40 minutes to an hour to mobilize the reserve unit.

Fluorescent Lighting Can Go On The Blink

Life was comparatively simple with ordinary incandescent light bulbs.

When one burned out, you simply replaced it with a new bulb and threw the old one away.

Fluorescent lamps are not quite as simple to figure out when problems appear.

Sometimes they flicker, go on and off, glow at the ends, won't light or will light only reluctantly, may flash or may not offer as much light as one might expect.

—:—

BECAUSE the light is better, cooler and the lamps less expensive to operate, the advantages are worth learning to live with. Learn to live with them properly and they'll tell you what you have to do to cure them.

When a lamp starts to blink it may be that it is at the end of its life. Or it may mean that the starter is beginning to wear out.

Figure one starter will outlast about two fluorescent tubes. It's a good idea to replace the starter with every second lamp change.

Keep duplicate lamps and starters on hand. Replace with a new one to be certain which is giving trouble.

Before replacing, always check the connection. Turn the tube gently in the socket to make certain the connection is a good one.

When you replace a starter make certain it is the proper size for the lamp you are using. Make certain the starter is tight in its socket.

Once in a great while the ballast (a transformer that controls and limits voltage) will go bad. Check this after trying bulb, starter and checking all connections, including wiring to the fixture.

—:—

OTHER conditions can cause trouble. A fluorescent light in the garage may flicker on and off and a new lamp may continue to do the same thing.

If the temperature of the garage is cold or if a cold draft hits the lamp it will cause the light to blink on and off. Shield the lamp or use a special low temperature lamp or a thermal starter.

If a brand new lamp flashes on and off, be patient. This often is a temporary defect in a new lamp. Turn it on and off several times and chances are it will work perfectly after that.

Fluorescent lamps will last several times as long as ordinary light bulbs. If yours do not, figure out why. There may be a defective starter at fault. Voltage that is too high or too low will shorten lamp life. Check or replace the ballast.

You may be turning them on and off too frequently. Starting shortens the lamp's life. Since they burn so little current compared to an ordinary bulb it is cheaper to leave them on for longer periods of time.

Stain Could Be Villain In Refinishing Efforts

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There's something very satisfying about transforming an old and perhaps discarded piece of furniture into a smooth-surfaced, sparkling addition to the home.

Taking the first step, however, is another matter. Very few persons like the initial chore of removing the old finish. Once in a great whilt it proves to be an almost effortless task, with the finish, usually varnish, yielding quickly to a wipe on-wipe off process.

—:—

MUCH MORE often, it's an annoying, messy job, necessitating the use of a putty knife or other scraping tool after the varnish remover has been given time to do its work.

And when the old finish is made up of many coats, applied on more than one occasion with several intervening years, additional work is required after the scraping has been completed.

The troublemaker sometimes is not the so - called final finish —that is, the varnish, shellac, lacquer or whatever — but the stain, which may have penetrated deeply enough to resist all efforts to remove it. Traces of it remain no matter how many applications of remover are applied.

One trick that occasionally works is to rub steel wool into the stained areas after first soaking the wool in a mixture of detergent and water.

This tends to pull some of the coloring up and out of the wood, which is then rubbed again with a new piece of steel wool, which this time is soaked in turpentine.

SHOULD the wood still have an unsatisfactory appearance, bleaching it with a ready-made commercial bleach may be the only answer.

It is important (1) that the manufacturer's instructions be followed to the letter, since different bleaches call for different methods, and (2) that caution be exercised in the use of the product, since it is a strong chemical. The same thing, of course, is true in handling the varnish remover.

In scraping the softened finish with a putty knife, hold the latter in a nearly horizontal position so as not to gouge the wood.

And don't begin the scraping until you are certain that the remover has done its work, which usually is between 15 minutes and half an hour. Test a portion of the surface. If the finish does not yield easily, it means that the remover has not penetrated deeply enough or that more remover is needed.

Wait another 10 minutes and try again. If the finish continues to resist your efforts, apply another coat of remover right over the first.

In applying both coats, spread evenly and fully, but without going back over areas just covered. Use a clean, full-haired paint brush, applying with a flowing stroke and utilizing more of the flat of the brush than the bristle tips.

Steel Demand Still Strong

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Demand for finished steel continues to show strength and producers say March shipments might top February's by 10 to 15 per cent, Steel magazine said Monday.

"That will bring the first quarter mill movement to an estimated 22 million net tons," the magazine said.

Steel said second quarter shipments are expected to be one million tons over the first three months of the year and this would "bring the total for the first six months of 1969 to around 45 million tons."

The magazine added that the figure would be 14 per cent under the 52.6 million shipped in the same period of 1968 but "six per cent more than the 42.3 million tons moved in the same period in 1967".

Steel estimated raw production for the week ended March 15 at 2,750,000 net tons, unchanged from the two preceeding weeks.

Holding back production are labor shortages and maintenance, Steel said, adding that "coal miners' strikes have caused a cutback in coke production."

Active buying in recent weeks was attributed to "completion by many consumers of strike-hedge inventory liquidation that has been under way since last July."

"Some users are maintaining inventories at higher than normal levels," Steel said. "in addition, the dock strike at East Coast and Gulf ports is believed to have generated substantial domestic consumers . . ."

Products in strongest demand are tin plate, structurals, plates, bars, rods and railroad items, Steel said.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap remains unchanged at $27.33 a gross ton.

If Repairing Bad Faucet, First Shut Off The Water

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A leaky faucet wastes water and causes discoloration of the sink, important reasons why it should be fixed.

But it is likely that more persons are annoyed by the persistent drip-drip than are worried by the waste of the resulting stain.

Whatever the reason for the decision to halt the leak, the repair usually can be made effectively, even by someone to whom most plumbing problems are something of a mystery. The most important step is the first one—shutting off the water.

IN SOME fixtures, this is done by turning the handle underneath the sink in a clockwise direction. In others, the shutoff valve to that particular line may be in the basement or the utility room. And in a small minority of instances, it is necessary to close the main shutoff valve.

Step No. 2 is to loosen the cap or packing nut just under the handle. Use a wrench with smooth jaws so as not to mar the nut. To be double sure of not causing any damage, wrap adhesive tape around the nut, which is turned counterclockwise.

When the cap nut is loose, turn the handle in the same direction as when you turn on the water, going as far as you can. The shaft or stem of the faucet can then be removed, either by lifting it out or unscrewing it.

THE WASHER at the end of the stem will be worn or chewed up. Remove it by taking out the holding screw. Put a new washer of the same size in its place, replace the parts in the opposite order in which they were removed, turn on the water and the job is done.

In nearly all cases, it's as simple as that. Once in a while, you'll run into trouble. The screw won't come out. Or there will still be a leak after the washer has been replaced. Or your faucet won't be of the compression type still in use in the majority of homes.

In any of these events, you can take the stem to your hardware dealer and ask his advice —or you can call a plumber.

In discussing the matter with the hardware dealer, ask him about the possibility of using a gadget other than a washer. Some work well, some don't. If he's a neighborhood merchant, he wants your business and, therefore, will recommend only what he knows will do the job.

IF YOU'RE having a lot of trouble with old faucet fixtures and you're in the mood to spend more money for something better, consider the purchase of the single lever or other type of modern faucet, some of which do not utilize conventional washers.

But if you do purchase a washer, be sure to get one of the same size as the old one. In this area, too, you have a choice. There are different kinds of washers, some made of materials which last longer than others and some of which work better with hot water faucets.

Police Without Clues In Slaying Of Youth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police were without clues today in the murder of a 19-year-old filling station attendant shot to death in the early morning hours Sunday during a robbery.

The youth, Harry Glen Ice, was found lying face down with a bullet wound behind his right ear. An open safe and coin box were nearby.

Police said Ice was last seen alive at approximately 5 a.m. Sunday by an attendent at a gas station across the street.

About $130 was taken from the safe.

Varied Remedies Suggested In Common Door Problems

AP Newsfeatures

Having trouble with a door? Let's look at some of the common problems and what to do about them.

When the door sticks or binds, check the hinges. If there is even the tiniest movement of a hinge when the door is opened or closed, one or more of the screws is loose. Test each screw to see if there is any play in it. If so, tighten it. When necessary, remove the screw, fill the hole with wood putty or plastic wood. When the filler has hardened, redrive the screw into place. Keep the door closed while the filler is hardening.

When the door sticks or binds but there are no loose hinge screws, mark the places where the door is touching another surface. Use a rasp to take off the surplus wood, but not if the condition is severe, in which case follow the next step.

WHEN a lot of wood must be taken off—remove the door. Do this by driving the hinge pins upward by tapping with a hammer and old screwdriver. Hold the knob firmly in one hand, the back part of the door in the other and carefully lift the door off its hinges. Plane or scrape off as much surplus wood as necessary, but not too much, otherwise you will wind up with a loose - fitting door.

When a door closes easily but rattles or will not stay closed, examine the strike plate, the piece of metal into which the latch bolt enters. Either the bolt is not fitting the strike plate opening properly or it is not even entering it.

Keep opening and shutting the door until you determine where the misalignment is. Fix it by filing the opening to provide additional clearance for the bolt or unscrewing the strike plate and resetting it in the required new position. In either of these cases, remember that you are trying to correct a condition which involves only a fraction of an inch.

WHEN a door rattles even though the latch bolt fits neatly into the strike plate, remove the stop molding along the lock side. Pry off the molding very carefully. Test to see the proper position in which there is no play between the door and the molding, then renail the molding in place.

When a door sticks or binds and it is obvious that it is swollen because of excessive moisture or dampness, remove it from the hinges in the manner previously described. Place it in the sun for a few days to dry it out. Turn it over a few times so that the sun hits both sides.

Where there is a decided warpage, put the door on a couple of sawhorses and place weights or bricks on the warped portions. Check daily to see that you don't get too much warpage in the opposite direction. A little of this opposite warpage won't matter, as the door will naturally straighten in a couple of days.

After any of the above remedies have been put into effect, be sure to seal any parts of the door where the bare wood has been exposed. In fact, it's a good idea to seal all ends and edges, as they are generally the areas where moisture enters.

How Can I?

Q.—How can I repair veneer on furniture that has blistered?

A.—First slit the blister with a razor blade, cutitng parallel to the grain. Cover with a cloth pad moistened in hot water and let soak on the veneer until it softens. Then immediately work fresh stainproof glue under the blistered surface with a thin spatula or knife blade. Press flat, cover with waxed paper, and weight down until the glue has set. Any glue that has oozed out can be carefully scraped off, and a fresh coat of wax or furniture polish applied to effectively hide the repair.

Q.—How about the care of pewter?

A.—To keep pewter brilliant, merely wash it with hot suds, rinse, and dry. Silver polish helps, too.

Q.—How can I encourage buttons to stay on longer?

A.—By coating the center with colorless fingernail polish. This seals the thread.

Ways And Means Committee Eyes Assessment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate Ways and Means Committee will review a bill Tuesday aimed at postponing a court-ordered assessment of Ohio real property until 1972.

The committee is headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, the bill's author.

According to Maloney, there will be financial chaos if the State Board of Tax Appeals amends its regulations to set a state-wide uniform assessment of 40 per cent of true value on property. Current assessments, Maloney said, range from 30 per cent in Van Wert County to 44 per cent in Hamilton County. The average assessment is 37.6 per cent.

The legislature, he said, must move quickly because the tax board is beginning hearings March 24 on the proposed regulations. If the board fails to act on Supreme Court rulings on the issue, it could be threatened with contempt of court proceedings.

The high court made the uniform assessment ruling retroactive to Jan. 1, 1969.

Maloney said if the court ruling is enacted immediately many counties will owe money and others would gain. No county, said Maloney, now assesses at 40 per cent of true value. Hamilton County, he said, would lose roughly $9,520,000 in taxes.

Both the House and Senate reconvene tonight at 8 p.m.

Professional Advice Urged In Wall Work

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have decided to make our living room larger by removing the wall that separates it from the dining room. Is this a job that I can do myself?

Answer: There are two kinds of walls — those which are used as dividers between rooms and those which are part of the structure and are called bearing walls.

The nonbearing walls can be safely removed without destroying the strength of the house's framework. The removal of a bearing wall should never be undertaken by anyone except a professional. And even a professional often will examine the original plans of the house to determine whether a wall is nonbearing, even though most of them can make this determination by a visual examination.

Our advice, therefore, is to get the assistance of a professional, if not to do the actual work, then at least to advise you whether the wall is bearing or nonbearing.

QUESTION: I replastered part of a wall a few months ago. Some small cracks have developed in this area. They appear to be only on the surface, not all the way through the plaster. Before I repair them, can you tell me what caused them?

Answer: Any one of a number of factors could be responsible, but the most common one is that the plaster was allowed to dry too rapidly. When making the repairs — or when doing any future work of this kind —be sure to keep the patched spots damp for a couple of days.

QUESTION: Our hot water is starting to run a little rusty. What is the reason for this? It can't be rusty pipes — I don't think—because the cold water is not affected.

Answer: This usually means there is excessive mineral matter in the water. It is harmless, but shows up when the water is heated. Try draining off a few gallons of water from the bottom of the hot water storage tank. If this doesn't work, you can buy a device which is attached to the water heater for the purpose of correcting the condition. Check to be sure local ordinances don't forbid its use.

Body Is Found

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — The body of Ralph Rhotehamel, 58, Dayton, who disappeared Nov. 21 while duck hunting, was found Saturday in the water on the south side of Grand Lake St. Marys.

The phrase "in mufti," meaning dressed in civilian clothes as opposed to a uniform, originally meant the loose robes of the mufti, an Islamic canon law expert on the Koran.

When the cap nut is loose, turn the handle in the same direction as when you turn on the water, going as far as you can. The shaft or stem of the faucet can then be removed, either by lifting it out or unscrewing it.

THE WASHER at the end of the stem will be worn or chewed up. Remove it by taking out the holding screw. Put a new washer of the same size in its place, replace the parts in the opposite order in which they were removed, turn on the water and the job is done.

In nearly all cases, it's as simple as that. Once in a while, you'll run into trouble. The screw won't come out. Or there will still be a leak after the washer has been replaced. Or your faucet won't be of the compression type still in use in the majority of homes.

In any of these events, you can take the stem to your hardware dealer and ask his advice—or you can call a plumber.

In discussing the matter with the hardware dealer, ask him about the possibility of using a gadget other than a washer. Some work well, some don't. If he's a neighborhood merchant, he wants your business and, therefore, will recommend only what he knows will do the job.

IF YOU'RE having a lot of trouble with old faucet fixtures and you're in the mood to spend more money for something better, consider the purchase of the single lever or other type of modern faucet, some of which do not utilize conventional washers.

But if you do purchase a washer, be sure to get one of the same size as the old one. In this area, too, you have a choice. There are different kinds of washers, some made of materials which last longer than others and some of which work better with hot water faucets.

Police Without Clues In Slaying Of Youth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police were without clues today in the murder of a 19-year-old filling station attendant shot to death in the early morning hours Sunday during a robbery.

The youth, Harry Glen Ice, was found lying face down with a bullet wound behind his right ear. An open safe and coin box were nearby.

Police said Ice was last seen alive at approximately 5 a.m. Sunday by an attendent at a gas station across the street.

About $130 was taken from the safe.

Varied Remedies Suggested In Common Door Problems

AP Newsfeatures

Having trouble with a door? Let's look at some of the common problems and what to do about them.

When the door sticks or binds, check the hinges. If there is even the tiniest movement of a hinge when the door is opened or closed, one or more of the screws is loose. Test each screw to see if there is any play in it. If so, tighten it. When necessary, remove the screw, fill the hole with wood putty or plastic wood. When the filler has hardened, redrive the screw into place. Keep the door closed while the filler is hardening.

When the door sticks or binds but there are no loose hinge screws, mark the places where the door is touching another surface. Use a rasp to take off the surplus wood, but not if the condition is severe, in which case follow the next step.

WHEN a lot of wood must be taken off—remove the door. Do this by driving the hinge pins upward by tapping with a hammer and old screwdriver. Hold the knob firmly in one hand, the back part of the door in the other and carefully lift the door off its hinges. Plane or scrape off as much surplus wood as necessary, but not too much, otherwise you will wind up with a loose - fitting door.

When a door closes easily but rattles or will not stay closed, examine the strike plate, the piece of metal into which the latch bolt enters. Either the bolt is not fitting the strike plate opening properly or it is not even entering it.

Keep opening and shutting the door until you determine where the misalignment is. Fix it by filing the opening to provide additional clearance for the bolt or unscrewing the strike plate and resetting it in the required new position. In either of these cases, remember that you are trying to correct a condition which involves only a fraction of an inch.

WHEN a door rattles even though the latch bolt fits neatly into the strike plate, remove the stop molding along the lock side. Pry off the molding very carefully. Test to see the proper position in which there is no play between the door and the molding, then renail the molding in place.

When a door sticks or binds and it is obvious that it is swollen because of excessive moisture or dampness, remove it from the hinges in the manner previously described. Place it in the sun for a few days to dry it out. Turn it over a few times so that the sun hits both sides.

Where there is a decided warpage, put the door on a couple of sawhorses and place weights or bricks on the warped portions. Check daily to see that you don't get too much warpage in the opposite direction. A little of this opposite warpage won't matter, as the door will naturally straighten in a couple of days.

After any of the above remedies have been put into effect, be sure to seal any parts of the door where the bare wood has been exposed. In fact, it's a good idea to seal all ends and edges, as they are generally the areas where moisture enters.

How Can I?

Q.—How can I repair veneer on furniture that has blistered?

A.—First slit the blister with a razor blade, cutitng parallel to the grain. Cover with a cloth pad moistened in hot water and let soak on the veneer until it softens. Then immediately work fresh stainproof glue under the blistered surface with a thin spatula or knife blade. Press flat, cover with waxed paper, and weight down until the glue has set. Any glue that has oozed out can be carefully scraped off, and a fresh coat of wax or furniture polish applied to effectively hide the repair.

Q.—How about the care of pewter?

A.—To keep pewter brilliant, merely wash it with hot suds, rinse, and dry. Silver polish helps, too.

Q.—How can I encourage buttons to stay on longer?

A.—By coating the center with colorless fingernail polish. This seals the thread.

Ways And Means Committee Eyes Assessment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate Ways and Means Committee will review a bill Tuesday aimed at postponing a court-ordered assessment of Ohio real property until 1972.

The committee is headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, the bill's author.

According to Maloney, there will be financial chaos if the State Board of Tax Appeals amends its regulations to set a state-wide uniform assessment of 40 per cent of true value on property. Current assessments, Maloney said, range from 30 per cent in Van Wert County to 44 per cent in Hamilton County. The average assessment is 37.6 per cent.

The legislature, he said, must move quickly because the tax board is beginning hearings March 24 on the proposed regulations. If the board fails to act on Supreme Court rulings on the issue, it could be threatened with contempt of court proceedings.

The high court made the uniform assessment ruling retroactive to Jan. 1, 1969.

Maloney said if the court ruling is enacted immediately many counties will owe money and others would gain. No county, said Maloney, now assesses at 40 per cent of true value. Hamilton County, he said, would lose roughly $9,520,000 in taxes.

Both the House and Senate reconvene tonight at 8 p.m.

Stain Could Be Villain In Refinishing Efforts

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There's something very satisfying about transforming an old and perhaps discarded piece of furniture into a smooth-surfaced, sparkling addition to the home.

Taking the first step, however, is another matter. Very few persons like the initial chore of removing the old finish. Once in a great whilt it proves to be an almost effortless task, with the finish, usually varnish, yielding quickly to a wipe on-wipe off process.

MUCH MORE often, it's an annoying, messy job, necessitating the use of a putty knife or other scraping tool after the varnish remover has been given time to do its work.

And when the old finish is made up of many coats, applied on more than one occasion with several intervening years, additional work is required after the scraping has been completed.

The troublemaker sometimes is not the so - called final finish—that is, the varnish, shellac, lacquer or whatever — but the stain, which may have penetrated deeply enough to resist all efforts to remove it. Traces of it remain no matter how many applications of remover are applied.

One trick that occasionally works is to rub steel wool into the stained areas after first soaking the wool in a mixture of detergent and water.

This tends to pull some of the coloring up and out of the wood, which is then rubbed again with a new piece of steel wool, which this time is soaked in turpentine.

SHOULD the wood still have an unsatisfactory appearance, bleaching it with a ready-made commercial bleach may be the only answer.

It is important (1) that the manufacturer's instructions be followed to the letter, since different bleaches call for different methods, and (2) that caution be exercised in the use of the product, since it is a strong chemical. The same thing, of course, is true in handling the varnish remover.

In scraping the softened finish with a putty knife, hold the latter in a nearly horizontal position so as not to gouge the wood.

And don't begin the scraping until you are certain that the remover has done its work, which usually is between 15 minutes and half an hour. Test a portion of the surface. If the finish does not yield easily, it means that the remover has not penetrated deeply enough or that more remover is needed.

Wait another 10 minutes and try again. If the finish continues to resist your efforts, apply another coat of remover right over the first.

In applying both coats, spread evenly and fully, but without going back over areas just covered. Use a clean, full-haired paint brush, applying with a flowing stroke and utilizing more of the flat of the brush than the bristle tips.

Professional Advice Urged In Wall Work

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have decided to make our living room larger by removing the wall that separates it from the dining room. Is this a job that I can do myself?

Answer: There are two kinds of walls — those which are used as dividers between rooms and those which are part of the structure and are called bearing walls.

The nonbearing walls can be safely removed without destroying the strength of the house's framework. The removal of a bearing wall should never be undertaken by anyone except a professional. And even a professional often will examine the original plans of the house to determine whether a wall is nonbearing, even though most of them can make this determination by a visual examination.

Our advice, therefore, is to get the assistance of a professional, if not to do the actual work, then at least to advise you whether the wall is bearing or nonbearing.

QUESTION: I replastered part of a wall a few months ago. Some small cracks have developed in this area. They appear to be only on the surface, not all the way through the plaster. Before I repair them, can you tell me what caused them?

Answer: Any one of a number of factors could be responsible, but the most common one is that the plaster was allowed to dry too rapidly. When making the repairs — or when doing any future work of this kind—be sure to keep the patched spots damp for a couple of days.

QUESTION: Our hot water is starting to run a little rusty. What is the reason for this? It can't be rusty pipes — I don't think—because the cold water is not affected.

Answer: This usually means there is excessive mineral matter in the water. It is harmless, but shows up when the water is heated. Try draining off a few gallons of water from the bottom of the hot water storage tank. If this doesn't work, you can buy a device which is attached to the water heater for the purpose of correcting the condition. Check to be sure local ordinances don't forbid its use.

Body Is Found

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — The body of Ralph Rhotehamel, 58, Dayton, who disappeared Nov. 21 while duck hunting, was found Saturday in the water on the south side of Grand Lake St. Marys.

The phrase "in mufti," meaning dressed in civilian clothes as opposed to a uniform, originally meant the loose robes of the mufti, an Islamic canon law expert on the Koran.

Steel Demand Still Strong

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Demand for finished steel continues to show strength and producers say March shipments might top February's by 10 to 15 per cent, Steel magazine said Monday.

"That will bring the first quarter mill movement to an estimated 22 million net tons," the magazine said.

Steel said second quarter shipments are expected to be one million tons over the first three months of the year and this would "bring the total for the first six months of 1969 to around 45 million tons."

The magazine added that the figure would be 14 per cent under the 52.6 million shipped in the same period of 1968 but "six per cent more than the 42.3 million tons moved in the same period in 1967".

Steel estimated raw production for the week ended March 15 at 2,750,000 net tons, unchanged from the two preceeding weeks.

Holding back production are labor shortages and maintenance, Steel said, adding that "coal miners' strikes have caused a cutback in coke production."

Active buying in recent weeks was attributed to "completion by many consumers of strike-hedge inventory liquidation that has been under way since last July."

"Some users are maintaining inventories at higher than normal levels," Steel said. "in addition, the dock strike at East Coast and Gulf ports is believed to have generated substantial domestic consumers . . ."

Products in strongest demand are tin plate, structurals, plates, bars, rods and railroad items, Steel said.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap remains unchanged at $27.33 a gross ton.

Doubts Trial Would Have Cleared Air

Judge Claims Questions Left Hanging In Ray Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The judge who received James Earl Ray's guilty plea says a number of questions about the Martin Luther King assassination were left outstanding. But he doubts that a trial by jury would have cleared the air.

These views were expressed in an interview Sunday by Judge W. Preston Battle of Criminal Court, who last week sentenced Ray to 99 years in prison.

Meanwhile Ray's lawyer, Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., reiterated in a television interview his belief that "no other person, organization or group except James Earl Ray was concerned in the killing."

Judge Battle remarked in his interview, "There has been much talk of a conspiracy, but no one saying so has yet produced a single shred of evidence or named an associate or conspirator."

The judge said he is himself puzzled by a number of questions:

"I would truly like to know how Ray actually found the spot from which to fire. How did Ray know where Rev. King would be? How did he determine the type of weapon to be used? What are the details of the actual purchase and selection of the weapon? Was he alone in surveillance of the Lorraine Motel?

"Most puzzling of all is his escape form Memphis. To me, it seems miraculous that he was able to flee to Atlanta despite the all-points bulletins without his white Mustang being spotted on a highway."

King, standing on a balcony of the motel, was shot last April 4 by a rifleman firing from a rooming house across the street.

Judge Battle said he was convinced that a trial would only have "muddied our understanding of the substanial evidence which established Ray as the killer."

"It is an error to assume that the prosecution would have had a chance to cross-examine Ray about his finances, or how he escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary, or about persons who gave him any aid before or after the slaying of Dr. King," he said.

"That assumes Ray would haven taken the stand. I doubt very seriously that defense counsel would have risked placing Ray in such a position."

Foreman told CBS news correspondent Harry Reasoner those who suspect a conspiracy in King's killing are "the same people that gossip over the back fence."

"If they werent' curious about the assassination of Martin Luther King they would have something else to be just as curious about," Foreman said.

Lady Iowa Senator Fights To Liberalize Abortion Law

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A lady senator who is fighting to liberalize Iowa's century-old abortion law says the sharp comments of critics "shook me up at first, but I've become hardened to them."

For example, a recent letter to state Sen. Minnette Dederer began:

"Senator Dederer: You are a murderer!"

The letter from a constituent went on to voice opposition typical of many to the campaign by the 45-year-old mother of two children.

The blonde senator so far has been unsuccessful in efforts to convince fellow legislators—most of them men—that the state's ban on practically all abortions should be relaxed.

But Mrs. Dederer—Iowa's Democratic national committeewoman and a scrappy fighter who lists her occupation as "legislator"—isn't giving up her fight to make abortion a decision of the woman and her doctor.

"I don't really know how I feel about abortion," she says. "I would never have an abortion and I would never urge one on another person.

"I just don't believe the state has the right to make the decision about abortion for a woman."

She calls Iowa's present law "barbaric" and supports a measure which would have made abortions legal if pregnancy endangered the health or life of a woman, was caused by rape or incest, or if doctors concluded the infant would be born with serious mental or physical defects.

The bill was defeated by a close vote in the Republican-dominated state Senate and the law remains as it has for 100 years—prohibiting abortion except when necessary to save the woman's life.

"To me, having a baby is a beautiful thing; it's a joy. It never should be forced on a woman as punishment," she says.

Since the defeat of the liberalization bill, she has introduced two other measures. They would insure that the choice of having an abortion is given solely to a woman and her doctor.

Written encouragement comes in along with the mail against her stand.

One woman wrote she resents "having other people who are completely untouched by these problems tell us that we simply must suffer because that is their belief."

Former School Teacher To Seek UMW No. 2 Post

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—Former school teacher Luther Huffman of nearby Montcalm has been selected as the running mate of Steve Kochis in a bid to unseat W. A. "Tony" Boyle from leadership of the giant United Mine Workers union.

Huffman said he was asked to run for the UMW's vice presidency by Kochis in a telephone conversation Sunday evening. The election will be held this December.

Huffman is a 40-year-old "designated helper" at the Herndon mine of Eastern Associated Coal Co. He once taught physical education and biology at Rocky Gap High School in Virginia.

He said he and Kochis first plan to concentrate their campaign in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, Kochis's home state, then move into other coal-producing states.

"I feel we have a real good chance of winning," Huffman said in a telephone interview. "I believe the miners want a change."

Huffman said miners under Boyle's leadership have no say in what goes in their contract, whether it should be approved or not or who their district and field directors will be.

"All this will change when Steve and I get into office," he said.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives follows the vice president on the succession list to the presidency of the United States, and he is followed by the president pro tempore of the Senate.

She calls Iowa's present law "barbaric" and supports a measure which would have made abortions legal if pregnancy endangered the health or life of a woman, was caused by rape or incest, or if doctors concluded the infant would be born with serious mental or physical defects.

The bill was defeated by a close vote in the Republican-dominated state Senate and the law remains as it has for 100 years—prohibiting abortion except when necessary to save the woman's life.

"To me, having a baby is a beautiful thing; it's a joy. It never should be forced on a woman as punishment," she says.

Since the defeat of the liberalization bill, she has introduced two other measures. They would insure that the choice of having an abortion is given solely to a woman and her doctor.

Written encouragement comes in along with the mail against her stand.

One woman wrote she resents "having other people who are completely untouched by these problems tell us that we simply must suffer because that is their belief."

Former School Teacher To Seek UMW No. 2 Post

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—Former school teacher Luther Huffman of nearby Montcalm has been selected as the running mate of Steve Kochis in a bid to unseat W. A. "Tony" Boyle from leadership of the giant United Mine Workers Union.

Huffman said he was asked to run for the UMW's vice presidency by Kochis in a telephone conversation Sunday evening. The election will be held this December.

Huffman is a 40-year-old "designated helper" at the Herndon mine of Eastern Associated Coal Co. He once taught physical education and biology at Rocky Gap High School in Virginia.

He said he and Kochis first plan to concentrate their campaign in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, Kochis's home state, then move into other coal-producing states.

"I feel we have a real good chance of winning," Huffman said in a telephone interview. "I believe the miners want a change."

Huffman said miners under Boyle's leadership have no say in what goes in their contract, whether it should be approved or not or who their district and field directors will be.

"All this will change when Steve and I get into office," he said.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives follows the vice President on the succession list to the presidency of the United States, and he is followed by the president pro tempore of the Senate.

State High On Substandard List

Housing Activity Slated

By JOHN R. THOMAS
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ever since the 1960 census was published, anyone in the Ohio General Assembly who wanted to take the time to look at the statistics knew that the state's substandard housing situation was among the worst in the nation.

Worse, say the statistics, than New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan, in terms of the proportion of total housing to the number of substandard dwelings, including dilapidated buildings declared unfit for human habitation.

Some Talked, None Acted

Unfit, say the statistics, but lived in, nonetheless. Few legislators apparently looked; some talked, but none acted.

Finally — eight years after the census was completed — there are stirrings in the Statehouse that the governor's office and the Ohio legislature will act in concert on programs designed to make it easier to build low-cost housing and improve the quality of life in the state's ghettos and slums.

Some of the facts and figures that filled volumes of reports during the eight-year interim include:

NINETEEN per cent, or more than 600,000, of the state's dwellings were substandard — a conservative number, some contend, since rundown houses vacant when the census-takers came around might be inhabited the next month.

HOUSING in some areas was unbelievably bad. Canton, for example, had more than 7,700 substandard dwellings, or 21 per cent of the total housing market. Canton ranked highest in the state for substandard housing.

SMALL Adams County in Ohio Appalachia had the highest proportion of substandard housing of any county, with 76 per cent either substandard or dilapidated.

Cause and Effect

Or, legislators worrying about an alleged breakdown in law and order, could have read a report published midway through the decade by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which stated:

"In one direction the evidence is overwhelming: extremely poor housing conditions perceptibly influence behavior and attitudes."

Or, as Gunnary Myrdal pointed out in 1944 when his classic, "The American Dilemma," was published, "... any common sense evaluation will tell us that the causation, in part, goes from poor housing to bad moral, mental and physical health."

The Hough section of Cleveland — probably one of the worst sustained substandard housing areas in the state — reported a death rate from influenza and pneumonia of 44.7 per 100,000 population as against a rate of 29.7 for the city as a whole.

Officials Talk of Action

That statistic was only one of a list of dismal facts which emerged from a book published not long ago — "The Slums: Challenge and Response."

Now, armed with the statistics they apparently ignored for years, the state's public officials and legislators are thinking about doing something about substandard housing.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, in his February State of the State message, summed up in a few paragraphs what was contained in a 30-page report prepared by the Ohio Department of Urban Affairs, when he said:

"Housing is a pressing problem in our cities. Our objective is to make low-cost housing available to people in low and middle-income groups. Every citizen of this state is entitled to a decent place in which to live."

17 Recommendations

The brightest light of the state's sudden interest in decent housing for more of its citizens, however, came last week when a long-awaited report of the Joint Legislative Committee on Substandard Housing was released.

State Rep. Keith McNamara, R-Columbus, who headed the six-month-long probe into the housing problem in Ohio, listed 17 specific legislative recommendations during an interview.

Perhaps the recommendation with the most immediate effect on improving housing was the committee's call for a statewide building code — also a proposal contained in Rhodes' State of the State message.

"One of the most revealing things to me," McNamara said, "was the degree of (local) governmental inefficiency." He then told of a builder who constructed a sound house designed to be sold for $12,500.

Inspections Hike Cost

By the time 40 inspections by local authorities were made, the cost of the house was up $1,000 because of the inspection charges.

Gov. Rhodes said there is nothing constitutionally wrong with the legislature "authorizing the state to adopt a uniform, minimum housing code that will supersede laggard local building codes."

Time and money both, McNamara charged, will be saved if a builder knows he can construct a house anywhere in the state without first familiarizing himself with the myriad of local housing codes.

Counties which have more than two municipal court judges would be directed to designate one as a "housing court judge," another legislative recommendation reads.

Responsibility for Code

"Judges would have the responsibility of hearing all code violations, and cases involving landlord-tenant relations. They should also have authority to appropriate and collect rent and make repairs," the Columbus lawmaker said.

Other recommendations made by the committee include:

GIVING appeals in building and house code enforcement cases priority, similar to that afforded in election law cases, on court trial lists.

AUTHORIZING the Department of Urban Affairs to provide technical assistance to nonprofit corporations and others interested in replacing or rehabilitating substandard housing.

TRAINING housing inspectors, and educating inner-city residents in urban living and tenant responsibilities.

SUBSIDIZING persons whose homes are displaced by highways — both state and federal — with enough money to make up the difference between what they received from their old houses and what it cost to replace them in today's housing market.

Plan Rests With People

All of which, McNamara emphasized will cost money. Guts of nearly all the proposals is a recommendation that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the voters which, if accepted, would specifically authorize the issuance of non-tax supported revenue bonds to finance low and middle-income housing.

There is no provision in the constitution now that will permit the legislature and the governor to move into the housing field.

So, the success of the proposals rests ultimately with the people, who must approve the constitutional amendment the governor hopes to get on the November ballot.

It will take a selling job by the governor, the legislature and others concerned with the quality of housing in the cities and poor rural areas.

No Humor Intended

There wasn't much humor — there wasn't meant to be — when McNamara said:

"There's enough here (in the list of recommendations) to offend everyone. The conservatives will think we've gone too far, the liberals will think we haven't gone far enough."

Despite urban renewal and highways — the biggest factors in removing much of the state's blighted housing — there are those who claim the 1970 census will reveal an even worse housing picture than was presented 10 years earlier.

But, if the people follow the governor's and the legislature's lead, by 1980 the census-takers might be able to report a much improved housing story.

Killed In Crash

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)— Mary Miller, 54, Hicksville, Ohio, was killed Saturday night when the car driven by her husband, Henry, 50, crashed off Indiana 37 northeast of here. Miller was hospitalized.

The Asmat, New Guinea's former headhunters, seldom send a visiter away empty-handed, reports the National Geographic. To praise an Asmat's property is to request it. The owner must then give it away to avoid seeming stingy.

Midland Pupils Plan For Second Quiz Appearance

Members of Midland's eighth-grade team will find themselves in Washington if they continue their winning ways in "Junior High Quiz" competition being sponsored by WTAE, Channel 4, at Pittsburgh.

The team won its first match earlier this month and will appear again April 6.

Teams compete in seven week cycles, with four eventually emerging as champions. Following a playoff, the first-and second-place teams are awarded a trip to the nation's capital. In addition to the question-and-answer portion of the show, prefilmed highlights of both teams are featured on the program.

During the trip to the capital, both silent and sound-on-film segments are made, which ultimately become part of a half-hour special on WTAE.

In 1964, the show was selected by the American Legion Auxiliary as the outstanding television program of its kind in the state of Pennsylvania. On Feb. 22, 1965, the trustees and officers of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., awarded the Honor Certificate of Award to the program.

Bid Due For Road Workers Pay Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A request for an immediate $35 per week raise for all workers in the Ohio Department of Highways will go to the Ohio Legislature.

Union representatives from 12 divisions of the department met in Columbus Sunday and voted to ask the state for the salary increase and free health insurance for employes and their families.

The representatives met as the Joint Organizing Council of Operating Engineers and Laborers Unions of the AFL-CIO. The council, a union coalition, represents some 2,000 of the employes.

McKinley, Columbus East, Toledo Libbey In Semi-Finals

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

One of the most amazing turnarounds in sports this year is the performance of the Baltimore Bullets.

Last year the Bullets resided in the lower depths of the National Basketball Association, but this year they are leading the Eastern Division as the season draws to a close.

Two players are given credit for leading an expansion team (originally the Chicago Packers) to the status of league leader — rookie Wes Unseld and second-year man Earl (The Pearl) Monroe. Off Friday night's performance against Cincinnati in Cleveland, everything said about Unseld is true, while maybe half the praises of Monroe are deserved.

Unseld is "only" 6-7½, quite short compared with pro centers like 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain. But he is very strong and quick, excellent on rebounding and defense, and has a good shooting touch. Friday he scored 26 points and had a game-high 26 rebounds.

MONROE makes some fantastic moves. He has even better body control than North Carolina's Charlie Scott, and he can shoot from all over the court. But he took a few too many shots and made a few too many bad passes.

The Royals, except briefly in the opening minutes, led all the way until the final two minutes of regulation time. Then Jack Marin, who isn't getting the publicity that Unseld and Monroe are, but who has improved tremendously, started to make his presence felt. Marin put Baltimore ahead 111-110 with a pair of free throws with 59 seconds to go. Monroe hit a long jumper with 24 seconds left to give the Bullets a three-point lead, but Tom Van Arsdale made a clutch three-point play to send the game into overtime. Marin then went wild, scoring 10 of 17 Bullet points as they eked out a 130-128 win. Marin got the last four, including a pair of fouls with four seconds to go to sew it up. Despite only six points in the first half, he scored a game-high 35.

Cincinnati was eliminated from playoff contention by the loss, and it's hard to believe that a team with Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas on it should suffer such a fate. The Royals start no one under 6-5, but lack of a good big man is their problem. Walt Wesley, 6-11 former All-American at Kansas, started, but did nothing at either end of the floor. He got a rare rebound in the overtime, but the ball was stolen from him and converted into a key Bullet basket. Connie Dierking, 6-10, is Wesley's replacement, and while he is a good shooter, he is not a good rebounder or defensive player. Fred Hetzel, recently acquired in a trade, came off the bench to hit 9 of 12 shots, but he is is not a well-rounded player.

THE BACKCOURT of Robertson and Van Arsdale is excellent. The latter did an excellent job on Monroe, and got 21 points, including the key three-pointer. Robertson makes everything look easy. Almost unnoticed, he scored 33 points, and made few mistakes.

Lucas is the Mickey Mantle of pro basketball. He is great, but there is no telling how much better he would be if his knees were sound. Rarely shooting a short shot, he hit eight baskets. He plays tough defense, seldom loses the ball and sweeps the boards at both ends, grabbing 20 rebounds Friday. Al Tucker, recently obtained from Seattle, started at the other forward position, and looked good, making the most spectacular shot of the night, a long hook. He scored 15, alternating with Hetzel.

The Cleveland Arena crowd of 11,082, the largest ever to see a pro cage game in Cleveland, cheered on the Royals despite their lowely standing. But if Cincinnati had Unseld, instead of Wesley and Dierking, it would be the Royals in first and the Bullets in fifth.

Chaminade Five Cinderella Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Class will tell," says Bob Hart as he prepares to take his unbeaten Columbus East team into this weekend's state high school basketball tournament.

And the field looks classy enough to support the Columbus coach's contention.

All four earned tickets to the St. John Arena spectacle with regional championship victories Saturday night.

East survived a 55-50 scare from Newark; Canton McKinley demolished Cleveland St. Joseph, 99-54; Libbey romped over Cleveland John Adams, 72-51 and Chaminade socked Cincinnati Purcell, 85-62.

In the Class A competition, fifth ranked Fort Recovery outlasted Upper Scioto Valley 72-68; No. 7 Bridgeport shaded Springfield Local, 59 - 54; Arcanum got by Lincoln Heights 66-59, and Portsmouth Clay surprised No. 2 Ross Zane Trace, 64-53, handing Trace its only loss of the season.

Friday night's semifinal twinbill opens with McKinley, 24-1, opposing Dayton Chaminade, 19-6, at 7:30 p.m. and East, 23-0, tangling with Libbey, 23-1, in the 9:30 nightcap.

Class A combat opens at 1:30 p.m. Friday with Bridgeport, 24-1, opposing Fort Recovery, 26 - 1, and Arcanum, 25 - 2, challenging Portsmouth Clay, 26-1, in the 3:30 p.m. windup.

The winners duel on Saturday at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

East, winnings its 47th in a row over two seasons, almost didn't make the scene in defense of its title. Aroused Newark bolted out to a 12 - point lead in the first half but fine shooting by Dwight Lamar carried the Tigers back in the second half from the brink of disaster.

Lamar's 20 points led the attack but the Tigers weren't home free until the final seconds.

Ralph Owens scored 24 and teammate Nick Weatherspoon delivered 23 as McKinley romped over St. Joseph. Libbey also had an easy time with Abe Steward and Ed Trail each scoring 19.

Chaminade, which whipped Libbey for the state crown in 1966, outscored Purcell 30 - 11 in the fourth quarter to cop the Cincinnati regional. Dan Gerhard's 33 points topped the scoring with Derrek Dickey hitting 24 for Purcell.

Unranked Clay stunned Zane Trace by taking the lead in the third period and holding it as Dave Blevins led the way with 22. The Pioneers, who finished 26-1, were sparked by Jeff Reisinger's 21 points and 22 rebounds.

Arcanum, behind Dave Gray's 32 points, opened a big lead and then held off Lincoln Heights. Mike Battle scored 17 for the losers.

Tall Fort Recovery, which only last Thursday eliminated Mansfield St. Peter, the defending Class A king, broke away from Upper Scioto late in the game. Dale Metzger with 23 and Bob Meiring with 21 paved the way while Bill Lowery netted 23 and Steve Longbrake 20 for Valley.

Bridgeport used Lou Burke's 23 to topple Springfield Local, which lost in the state finals a year ago. Bridgeport took the lead late in the first quarter and never relinquished it.

Hart, attending a coaches' confab Sunday, paid tribute to the strong field.

"It's going to take two real good ball games for anyone to win this thing," he said.

Other coaches, and their observations:

Bob Rupert, McKinley — We're going to try to play our type of ball game and execute, regardless of the team we're playing and the situation we find ourselves in.

Burt Spice, Libbey—Defense is the key. We have to do an excellent job blocking out on the boards to go somewhere here.

Jim Monroe, athletic director at Chaminade — We have the boys and it's just a matter of putting things together, like we have in the tournaments.

Allen Souder, Fort Recovery — Everyone's tough but we have Ken Heiby's shooting and good size up front.

Frank Baxter, Bridgeport—Our pressure defense is going to have to be at its best. We can't match these teams for size.

Dick Graeff, Arcanum, who was a junior high coach when Arcanum won the title in 1956 and who was at the helm of the Darke County school when it lost the championship to Strasburg in 1967—Dave Gray and Jim Troutwine, our top boys, were sophomores in that Strasburg game and that experience should be invaluable.

Areh Justus, Portsmouth Clay—We'll try to play the same way we've been playing all along. It's too late to be making any major changes now.

Lakers Crush Celtics, Clinch Western Title

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles' Big Three—Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West—took the Lakers to the summit, but when the time came to go over the top, Coach Bill Von Breda Kolff said: "Do it, Hewitt."

Rookie Bill Hewitt, the Lakers' No. 1 draft choice last year, led the way with 19 points Sunday afternoon in a 108-73 parade past Boston that gave Los Angeles the National Basketball Association Western Division crown.

Second place Atlanta edged Seattle 131-127 in overtime Sunday night, but the Hawks trail the Lakers by five games with just four to play.

San Diego topped Detroit 120-111 in the only other game on the NBA schedule.

The Lakers flashed to a 55-36 halftime lead at Boston and went on to hand the Celtics their 34th setback of the season. With four games remaining, the defending NBA champs are two losses short of their 1955-club record.

Baylor scored 17 points, Mel Counts 15, West 14 and Chamberlain 11 for Los Angeles, but Von Breda Kolff was particularly happy with Hewitt's showing.

"He has been a pleasant surprise," the coach said of the youngster from Southern California. "A lot of first draft choices aren't doing that well. Sometimes the problem is getting him ready to play. But he was ready today.

"Do it Hewitt! I like the sound of the phrase."

Lou Hudson scored nine of the 25 points in overtime, leading the Hawks past Seattle after they had blown a 19-point third quarter lead. Joe Caldwell also hit for 25 Atlanta points while Art Harris was high for the SuperSonics with 31-18 of them in the third period.

San Diego's victory over Chicago boosted the Rockets' fourth-place lead over the Bulls to 1½ games in their battle for the final playoff spot in the Western Division.

Don Kojis spearheaded San Diego with 34 points as the Rockets had seven players in double figures for the first time in their two-year history. Happy Hairston topped Detroit with 22 points.

Elvin Hayes, the leading scorer in the NBA, tallied 15 points for San Diego before being sidelined for the last 11 minutes with a muscle strain in his left leg. The injury was believed not serious.

In Saturday action, Baltimore edged Boston 99-98, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 122-120, New York turned back Cincinnati 121-108, Chicago whipped Seattle 101-83 and San Diego overwhelmed Phoenix 141-124.

Lefty Driesell To Take Job At Maryland

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Lefty Driesell, who brought basketball out of the doldrums at Davidson, said Sunday he will sign a contract to become head coach at Maryland "where there is a tremendous challenge."

Diresell said he'll meet with Maryland officials in College Park Wednesday to sign the pact. It reportedly calls for $16,000 a year for five years, plus all of the scholarships for players that the Atlantic Coast Conference will allow.

He will succeed Frak Fellows, dismissed two weeks ago after two losing seasons in which the Terps won only 16 games and lost 34. The Terps haven't had a winning season since 1964-65, when a team under Bud Milliken finished 18-8.

Marichal In Form In First Exhibition

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal, who waited two weeks for the San Francisco Giants to pay his price, has served shorter notice on National League hitters.

Marichal, who signed a $115,000 contract Sunday night, ending a two-week holdout, hurled four perfect innings Sunday in the Giants' 9-2 exhibition victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The 30-year-old Giants ace, 26-9 last season, threw only an occasional fastball in his spring debut but disposed of the 12 Cubs he faced on 41 pitches. "I figured if I got it over, I'd get somebody out," he said. "They'd hit it somewhere, maybe over the fence."

The Cubs hit three fair balls out of the infield while Marichal was on the mound.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians kept exhibition winning streaks alive —with considerably less ease than Marichal and the Giants tamed the Cubs.

Eighth-inning doubles by Brooks Robinson and Merv Rettenmund keyed a two-run rally that carried the Orioles past Cincinnati 3-2 for their sixth straight victory. Cleveland outlasted California 14-10, running its string to seven, in a struggle that produced 26 hits, 13 walks and eight errors.

Atlanta nipped Washington 4-3, pinning Ted Williams' Senators with their ninth loss in 10 starts; Kansas City shaded the Pittsburgh B team 2-1; the New York Yankees topped Detroit 5-3; Oakland bombed Seattle 13-6; Los Angeles shaded the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and San Diego beat Arizona Western College 6-1.

Rain washed out four scheduled games—Houston-Minnesota, Montreal-New York Mets, Philadelphia-Pittsburgh and St. Louis-Boston.

Trailing 2-1 in the eighth, the Orioles slipped past Cincinnati on Dave May's two-out single and the doubles by Robinson and Rettenmund. Dave Nelson paced Cleveland's 13-hit attack with four singles in as many trips to the plate.

The Braves scored twice in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Washington lead, Hank Aaron driving in the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly. Pinch hitter Ed Kirkpatrick tripled home two runs in the eighth, powering Kansas City past the Pirates B squad.

A five-run sixth inning burst, triggered by Billy Cowan's two-run single, and newcomer Mike Kekich's strong pitching enabled the Yanks to get by Detroit. Jim Pagliaroni led the Oakland assault against Seattle with a double and three singles. Tommy Davis had a triple, double and two singles for the losers.

Willie Davis stroked three hits as the Dodgers trimmed the White Sox at Nassau, the Bahamas. Singles by Tom Haller and rookie Bill Russell and a sacrifice fly by Jim Lefebvre delivered the Los Angeles runs.

Louisville, Boston College Win Sunday NIT Contests

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is showdown week in major college basketball.

By dusk Saturday night, two teams will have plucked the prize plums for 1969 in action at Louisville, Ky., and New York City.

Defending champion UCLA, with the great Lew Alcindor; Drake, Purdue and North Carolina go for the big prize at Louisville. In Thursday night's NCAA semifinals, Drake collides with UCLA and North Carolina battles Purdue.

Eight teams remain in the National Invitation Tournament in New York, including St. Peter's of New Jersey, Temple, Ohio University, Tennessee, South Carolina, Army, Louisville and Boston College.

St. Peters meets Temple and Ohio University takes on Tennessee tonight in the first of the NIT's quarter-final fireworks.

Finals in both tournaments are scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Drake got its golden opportunity to try its luck against UCLA last Saturday when the Bulldogs tripped Colorado State University 84-77 in the Midwest Regional finals at Manhattan, Kan. UCLA, with Alcindor contributing 17 points, breezed past Santa Clara 90-52 in the Western Regionals at Los Angeles.

North Carolina and Purdue survived the Regionals in identical fashion—on 20-foot jump shots in the final seconds that brought defeat for their respective opponents.

The Tar Heels edged Davidson 87-85 on Charlie Scott's 20-footer at College Park, Md., in the Eastern Regionals. Purdue's Boilermakers nipped Marquette 75-73 on a similar field goal by All-American Rick Mount at Madison, Wis., in overtime in the Mideast Regionals.

Louisville remained in the NIT Sunday by wearing down Fordham 73-70, and Boston College advanced with a 78-62 triumph over Kansas. In last Saturday's first-round activity, South Carolina rolled over Southern Illinois 72-63 and Army disposed of Wyoming 51-49.

Drake will face giant-killer UCLA with a 12-game victory streak in the record books. Willie McCarter, who chipped in with 21 points in the conquest of CSU, doesn't hesitate to say he thinks the Bulldogs can beat the proud Bruins.

"That's the one we want, UCLA," McCarter said after the Bulldogs found out the Bruins were their next foe. "That's who we want to play."

Drake Coach Maury John said his team won't hold the ball in an effort to beat UCLA. "I doubt if our plan will call for a drastic departure from our regular game," John said. "The thing we've got to hope for is a good shooting night."

UCLA is seeking its third straight national title, unprecedented in college basketball, and the Bruins would like nothing better than to snare it as the climax to Alcidor's illustrious career.

Johnny Wooden, the UCLA coach, sounded this warning:

"I think we're sharp again and ready mentally."

One second remained when Scott canned his winning jump shot for North Carolina after the Tar Heels had clung to the ball for more than the final 60 seconds. Scott's shot gave him 32 points for the see-saw struggle, 23 in the second half.

Mount regarded his 20-footer in Purdue's victory over Marquette as "the biggest shot I've ever made." He collected 26 points. The regulation game had ended 63-63. Marquette once trailed by 11 points.

Saturday night's four regional consolations saw Kentucky squeeze by Miami, Ohio, 72-71; Duquesne down St. John's, N.Y., 75-72; Colorado thrash Texas A&M 97-82, and Weber State Edge New Mexico State 58-56.

E. Liverpool, Oak Glen In 'Dollar' Final

Oak Glen will meet East Liverpool for the championship of the "Dollars For Scholars" faculty tournament at East Liverpool tomorrow night.

Midland and Beaver Local will meet in a consolation game at 6:45. Oak Glen downed Beaver Local 82-76 and East Liverpool tripped Midland 65-51 in the semi-finals. Midland was in the game the first half, but Nick Aloi, who had scored 15 points, was sidelined when he got a finger in the eye, resulting in a cut from his contact lens. He is confined to Rochester Hospital. Wally Beattie led the losers with 22. Jim Quinn had 22 to pace East Liverpool, while Randy Stover and Jim Potts added 14 each.

The Midland girls took the East Liverpool cheerleaders 31-9, as Janet Smith had 12 for the winners and Vicki Sprague 5 for the losers.

Courtney, Lewis All Tri-County

MINERVA — Varsity basketball coaches of the seven Tri-County League schools elected first, second and honorable mention teams Sunday afternoon at the high school here.

Results of the balloting follow:

First Team: Joe Lewis, 6 feet 2 inches, East Palestine; Jim Courtney, 6-2, Lisbon; Jim Knudsen, 5-11, Minerva; Greg Wilson, 6-2, Sebring; and Jeff Laughlin, 5-11, Poland. Lewis and Laughlin are seniors, the others juniors.

Second team: Frank Ringel, 6-3, Columbiana; Terry Lipp, 6-2, East Palestine; Allan Gibson, 6-1, Leetonia; Dave Mort, 6-3, Poland; and Joe Bowers, 6-2, Sebring. All are seniors.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians kept exhibition winning streaks alive —with considerably less ease than Marichal and the Giants tamed the Cubs.

Eighth-inning doubles by Brooks Robinson and Merv Rettenmund keyed a two-run rally that carried the Orioles past Cincinnati 3-2 for their sixth straight victory. Cleveland outlasted California 14-10, running its string to seven, in a struggle that produced 26 hits, 13 walks and eight errors.

Atlanta nipped Washington 4-3, pinning Ted Williams' Senators with their ninth loss in 10 starts; Kansas City shaded the Pittsburgh B team 2-1; the New York Yankees topped Detroit 5-3; Oakland bombed Seattle 13-6; Los Angeles shaded the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and San Diego beat Arizona Western College 6-1.

Rain washed out four scheduled games—Houston-Minnesota, Montreal-New York Mets, Philadelphia-Pittsburgh and St. Louis-Boston.

Trailing 2-1 in the eighth, the Orioles slipped past Cincinnati on Dave May's two-out single and the doubles by Robinson and Rettenmund. Dave Nelson paced Cleveland's 13-hit attack with four singles in as many trips to the plate.

The Braves scored twice in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Washington lead, Hank Aaron driving in the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly. Pinch hitter Ed Kirkpatrick tripled home two runs in the eighth, powering Kansas City past the Pirates B squad.

A five-run sixth inning burst, triggered by Billy Cowan's two-run single, and newcomer Mike Kekich's strong pitching enabled the Yanks to get by Detroit. Jim Pagliaroni led the Oakland assault against Seattle with a double and three singles. Tommy Davis had a triple, double and two singles for the losers.

Willie Davis stroked three hits as the Dodgers trimmed the White Sox at Nassau, the Bahamas. Singles by Tom Haller and rookie Bill Russell and a sacrifice fly by Jim Lefebvre delivered the Los Angeles runs.

Chaminade Five Cinderella Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Class will tell," says Bob Hart as he prepares to take his unbeaten Columbus East team into this weekend's state high school basketball tournament.

And the field looks classy enough to support the Columbus coach's contention.

All four earned tickets to the St. John Arena spectacle with regional championship victories Saturday night.

East survived a 55-50 scare from Newark; Canton McKinley demolished Cleveland St. Joseph, 99-54; Libbey romped over Cleveland John Adams, 72-51 and Chaminade socked Cincinnati Purcell, 85-62.

In the Class A competition, fifth ranked Fort Recovery outlasted Upper Scioto Valley 72-68; No. 7 Bridgeport shaded Springfield Local, 59 - 54; Arcanum got by Lincoln Heights 66-59, and Portsmouth Clay surprised No. 2 Ross Zane Trace, 64-53, handing Trace its only loss of the season.

Friday night's semifinal twinbill opens with McKinley, 24-1, opposing Dayton Chaminade, 19-6, at 7:30 p.m. and East, 23-0, tangling with Libbey, 23-1, in the 9:30 nightcap.

Class A combat opens at 1:30 p.m. Friday with Bridgeport, 24-1, opposing Fort Recovery, 26 - 1, and Arcanum, 25 - 2, challenging Portsmouth Clay, 26-1, in the 3:30 p.m. windup.

The winners duel on Saturday at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

East, winnings its 47th in a row over two seasons, almost didn't make the scene in defense of its title. Aroused Newark bolted out to a 12 - point lead in the first half but fine shooting by Dwight Lamar carried the Tigers back in the second half from the brink of disaster.

Lamar's 20 points led the attack but the Tigers weren't home free until the final seconds.

Ralph Owens scored 24 and teammate Nick Weatherspoon delivered 23 as McKinley romped over St. Joseph. Libbey also had an easy time with Abe Steward and Ed Trail each scoring 19.

Chaminade, which whipped Libbey for the state crown in 1966, outscored Purcell 30 - 11 in the fourth quarter to cop the Cincinnati regional. Dan Gerhard's 33 points topped the scoring with Derrek Dickey hitting 24 for Purcell.

Unranked Clay stunned Zane Trace by taking the lead in the third period and holding it as Dave Blevins led the way with 22. The Pioneers, who finished 26-1, were sparked by Jeff Reisinger's 21 points and 22 rebounds.

Arcanum, behind Dave Gray's 32 points, opened a big lead and then held off Lincoln Heights. Mike Battle scored 17 for the losers.

Tall Fort Recovery, which only last Thursday eliminated Mansfield St. Peter, the defending Class A king, broke away from Upper Scioto late in the game. Dale Metzger with 23 and Bob Meiring with 21 paved the way while Bill Lowery netted 23 and Steve Longbrake 20 for Valley.

Bridgeport used Lou Burke's 23 to topple Springfield Local, which lost in the state finals a year ago. Bridgeport took the lead late in the first quarter and never relinquished it.

Hart, attending a coaches' confab Sunday, paid tribute to the strong field.

"It's going to take two real good ball games for anyone to win this thing," he said.

Other coaches, and their observations:

Bob Rupert, McKinley — We're going to try to play our type of ball game and execute, regardless of the team we're playing and the situation we find ourselves in.

Burt Spice, Libbey—Defense is the key. We have to do an excellent job blocking out on the boards to go somewhere here.

Jim Monroe, athletic director at Chaminade — We have the boys and it's just a matter of putting things together, like we have in the tournaments.

Allen Souder, Fort Recovery — Everyone's tough but we have Ken Heiby's shooting and good size up front.

Frank Baxter, Bridgeport—Our pressure defense is going to have to be at its best. We can't match these teams for size.

Dick Graeff, Arcanum, who was a junior high coach when Arcanum won the title in 1956 and who was at the helm of the Darke County school when it lost the championship to Strasburg in 1967—Dave Gray and Jim Troutwine, our top boys, were sophomores in that Strasburg game and that experience should be invaluable.

Areh Justus, Portsmouth Clay—We'll try to play the same way we've been playing all along. It's too late to be making any major changes now.

Lakers Crush Celtics, Clinch Western Title

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles' Big Three—Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West—took the Lakers to the summit, but when the time came to go over the top, Coach Bill Von Breda Kolff said: "Do it, Hewitt."

Rookie Bill Hewitt, the Lakers' No. 1 draft choice last year, led the way with 19 points Sunday afternoon in a 108-73 parade past Boston that gave Los Angeles the National Basketball Association Western Division crown.

Second place Atlanta edged Seattle 131-127 in overtime Sunday night, but the Hawks trail the Lakers by five games with just four to play.

San Diego topped Detroit 120-111 in the only other game on the NBA schedule.

The Lakers flashed to a 55-36 halftime lead at Boston and went on to hand the Celtics their 34th setback of the season. With four games remaining, the defending NBA champs are two losses short of their 1955-club record.

Baylor scored 17 points, Mel Counts 15, West 14 and Chamberlain 11 for Los Angeles, but Von Breda Kolff was particularly happy with Hewitt's showing.

"He has been a pleasant surprise," the coach said of the youngster from Southern California. "A lot of first draft choices aren't doing that well. Sometimes the problem is getting him ready to play. But he was ready today.

"Do it Hewitt! I like the sound of the phrase."

Lou Hudson scored nine of the 25 points in overtime, leading the Hawks past Seattle after they had blown a 19-point third quarter lead. Joe Caldwell also hit for 25 Atlanta points while Art Harris was high for the SuperSonics with 31-18 of them in the third period.

San Diego's victory over Chicago boosted the Rockets' fourth-place lead over the Bulls to 1½ games in their battle for the final playoff spot in the Western Division.

Don Kojis spearheaded San Diego with 34 points as the Rockets had seven players in double figures for the first time in their two-year history. Happy Hairston topped Detroit with 22 points.

Elvin Hayes, the leading scorer in the NBA, tallied 15 points for San Diego before being sidelined for the last 11 minutes with a muscle strain in his left leg. The injury was believed not serious.

In Saturday action, Baltimore edged Boston 99-98, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 122-120, New York turned back Cincinnati 121-108, Chicago whipped Seattle 101-83 and San Diego overwhelmed Phoenix 141-124.

Lefty Driesell To Take Job At Maryland

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Lefty Driesell, who brought basketball out of the doldrums at Davidson, said Sunday he will sign a contract to become head coach at Maryland "where there is a tremendous challenge."

Diresell said he'll meet with Maryland officials in College Park Wednesday to sign the pact. It reportedly calls for $16,000 a year for five years, plus all of the scholarships for players that the Atlantic Coast Conference will allow.

He will succeed Frak Fellows, dismissed two weeks ago after two losing seasons in which the Terps won only 16 games and lost 34. The Terps haven't had a winning season since 1964-65, when a team under Bud Milliken finished 18-8.

Louisville, Boston College Win Sunday NIT Contests

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is showdown week in major college basketball.

By dusk Saturday night, two teams will have plucked the prize plums for 1969 in action at Louisville, Ky., and New York City.

Defending champion UCLA, with the great Lew Alcindor; Drake, Purdue and North Carolina go for the big prize at Louisville. In Thursday night's NCAA semifinals, Drake collides with UCLA and North Carolina battles Purdue.

Eight teams remain in the National Invitation Tournament in New York, including St. Peter's of New Jersey, Temple, Ohio University, Tennessee, South Carolina, Army, Louisville and Boston College.

St. Peters meets Temple and Ohio University takes on Tennessee tonight in the first of the NIT's quarter-final fireworks.

Finals in both tournaments are scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Drake got its golden opportunity to try its luck against UCLA last Saturday when the Bulldogs tripped Colorado State University 84-77 in the Midwest Regional finals at Manhattan, Kan. UCLA, with Alcindor contributing 17 points, breezed past Santa Clara 90-52 in the Western Regionals at Los Angeles.

North Carolina and Purdue survived the Regionals in identical fashion—on 20-foot jump shots in the final seconds that brought defeat for their respective opponents.

The Tar Heels edged Davidson 87-85 on Charlie Scott's 20-footer at College Park, Md., in the Eastern Regionals. Purdue's Boilermakers nipped Marquette 75-73 on a similar field goal by All-American Rick Mount at Madison, Wis., in overtime in the Mideast Regionals.

Louisville remained in the NIT Sunday by wearing down Fordham 73-70, and Boston College advanced with a 78-62 triumph over Kansas. In last Saturday's first-round activity, South Carolina rolled over Southern Illinois 72-63 and Army disposed of Wyoming 51-49.

Drake will face giant-killer UCLA with a 12-game victory streak in the record books. Willie McCarter, who chipped in with 21 points in the conquest of CSU, doesn't hesitate to say he thinks the Bulldogs can beat the proud Bruins.

"That's the one we want, UCLA," McCarter said after the Bulldogs found out the Bruins were their next foe. "That's who we want to play."

Drake Coach Maury John said his team won't hold the ball in an effort to beat UCLA. "I doubt if our plan will call for a drastic departure from our regular game," John said. "The thing we've got to hope for is a good shooting night."

UCLA is seeking its third straight national title, unprecedented in college basketball, and the Bruins would like nothing better than to snare it as the climax to Alcidor's illustrious career.

Johnny Wooden, the UCLA coach, sounded this warning:

"I think we're sharp again and ready mentally."

One second remained when Scott canned his winning jump shot for North Carolina after the Tar Heels had clung to the ball for more than the final 60 seconds. Scott's shot gave him 32 points for the see-saw struggle, 23 in the second half.

Mount regarded his 20-footer in Purdue's victory over Marquette as "the biggest shot I've ever made." He collected 26 points. The regulation game had ended 63-63. Marquette once trailed by 11 points.

Saturday night's four regional consolations saw Kentucky squeeze by Miami, Ohio, 72-71; Duquesne down St. John's, N.Y., 75-72; Colorado thrash Texas A&M 97-82, and Weber State Edge New Mexico State 58-56.

E. Liverpool, Oak Glen In 'Dollar' Final

Oak Glen will meet East Liverpool for the championship of the "Dollars For Scholars" faculty tournament at East Liverpool tomorrow night.

Midland and Beaver Local will meet in a consolation game at 6:45. Oak Glen downed Beaver Local 82-76 and East Liverpool tripped Midland 65-51 in the semi-finals. Midland was in the game the first half, but Nick Aloi, who had scored 15 points, was sidelined when he got a finger in the eye, resulting in a cut from his contact lens. He is confined to Rochester Hospital. Wally Beattie led the losers with 22. Jim Quinn had 22 to pace East Liverpool, while Randy Stover and Jim Potts added 14 each.

The Midland girls took the East Liverpool cheerleaders 31-9, as Janet Smith had 12 for the winners and Vicki Sprague 5 for the losers.

Goalies Blasted In NHL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The luck of the Irish must have been riding with National Hockey League goaltenders Sunday night. They all came out of the biggest night of the season for shooters in one piece.

Boston tied a record, bunching eight goals in one period and running through two Toronto goalies in an 11-3 romp that set the tone. New York wore down some sensational goaltending by Roy Edwards with a 25-shot third-period barrage that produced four goals and a 6-4 victory over Detroit.

In other games, Oakland whacked Pittsburgh 7-2, Bobby Hull scored his 52nd and 53rd goals of the season in Chicago's 6-2 romp over Philadelphia and Minnesota edged St. Louis 3-2.

In Saturday's action, Montreal dropped Chicago 3-1, Toronto bombed Boston 7-4, St. Louis nipped Detroit 3-2, Los Angeles dropped Pittsburgh 3-1 and Philadelphia and Minnesota played to a 2-2 tie.

Derek Sanderson led the Bruins' assault with the three-goal hat trick and three assists while Phil Esposito, Boston point-making king, collected his 44th goal of the season and four assists, hiking his record total to 118 points.

The eight Boston goals in the second period matched a mark set by Detroit in 1944 and Esposito shattered Dickie Moore's total points record of 113 for regular season and playoff competition, set in 1959.

Ken Hodge had his 40th and 41st goals and rookie Garnet Bailey added a pair for Boston, which moved within three points of idle Montreal for the East Division lead.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 43rd and 44th goals of the season for Detroit and assisted on Gordie Howe's 40th and Alex Delvecchio's 23rd as the Red Wings' modern version of the Production Line ran its total points for the season to a record 230, breaking the mark of 226 established by Howe, Delvecchio and Ted Lindsay in 1955-56.

But the Rangers innundated Edwards with 57 shots and two goals by Ron Stewart sparked a third-period rally that gave New York the victory. Jean Ratelle also scored twice for New York.

Seven different players shared in Oakland's biggest offensive show of the season as the Seals opened a nine-point lead over Los Angeles and virtually cinched second place in the West Division.

Rookie Norm Ferguson netted his 30th, matching the mark for rookies set in 1951 by Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion and broken earlier this season by Minnesota's Danny Grant.

Hull moved within one goal of his own single season record of 54 by scoring twice against the Flyers. Pit Martin also had a pair of goals for the Black Hawks, who are buried in the East Division basement.

It was a key defeat for Philadelphia, locked in a three-way struggle with Los Angeles and Minnesota in the West. The Flyers, in fourth place, have 52 points, one less than Los Angeles and two more than Minnesota which stood off a third-period rally to beat West champ St. Louis.

Jean Paul Parise and Walt McKechnie scored the third-period goals that carried the North Stars to their victory over the Blues.

Barbara Jo Rubin Winning At 'Big A'

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Elect the Ruler put himself into the Santa Anita Derby picture, and little Miss R. kept herself in the limelight at the Big A.

Longshot Elect the Ruler closed with a rush to win the $58,550 San Felipe Handicap last Saturday at Santa Anita in the final test for the March 29, $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby, the major race for 3-year-olds on the West Coast.

Little Miss R.—19-year-old Barbara Jo Rubin—won her second race in as many tries at Aqueduct by booting home the 7-year-old mare, May Berry, who paid $7.20. Miss Rubin won with Bravy Galaxy, $28.20, Friday when she became the first woman ever to ride at a New York pari-mutuel track.

Eddie Belmonte got Mrs. Gerry Dreier's Elect the Ruler, $26.40, up in the final yards to edge Poltex Stable's Lonny's Secret by a neck, with Mrs. J.T. Forno's Mr. Joe F. third in the field of nine for the San Felipe.

Three-year-olds also were busy at Pimlico and Oaklawn Park Saturday.

Nathan L. Cohen's Mister Diz beat other Maryland breds in the $29,700 Challedon Stakes at Pimlico. Mister Diz, carrying high weight of 122 pounds included Braulio Baeza, ran the 1 1-16 miles in 1:44 2-5 for a neck victory over Guy H. Burt's 19-1 Baron Bedros, who carried 110 pounds. Mister Diz paid $2.60.

The Oaklawn feature—the $15,000-added Rebel Handicap, a stepping stone to the Arkansas Derby April 5—went to Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Roberts' Traffic Mark, $6, who beat Sheik of Bagdad by three-quarters of a length, covering the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 4-5.

The Aqueduct feature was the $26,900 Paumonok Handicap at six furlongs, and Steve B. Wilson's Pappa Steve, top-weighted at 126 pounds, won it by a half length, with Jack Drefus Jr.'s Beaukins, 113, second in the field of five. Pappa Steve, timed in 1:09 4-5, returned $8.80.

Warner L. Jones Jr's Go Marching, $4, shot between horses to win the 1 1-16-mile, $36,550 Canadian Turf Handicap at Gulfstream Park by three-quarters of length over James R. Chapman's Out The Window in 1:43 4-5. Go Marching, top-weighted at 123, gave 11 pounds to Out The Window.

The richest race of the day was the $70,700 New Orleans Handicap at the Fair Grounds, and victory went to J.E. and T. Alie Grissom's Miracle Hill by a nose over Lazy F. Ranch's San Roque. The winner, $9.40, covered the 1⅛ miles in 1:54 4-5.

Realignment Topic At Pro Grid Meeting

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Realignment will be the chief topic of discussion at the joint winter meeting of the American and National football leagues, but the 26 owners also will kick around some other matters, such as the experimental conversion rule.

The meetings got under way today with the owners gathering at a joint session, then breaking up into separate league meetings.

Before the week is over, they hope to arrive at agreement on the alignment of pro football for 1970, the year the 1966 merger takes complete effect.

Such agreement will not be easy to reach since there are owners who favor maintaining the status quo, the 16-man NFL and the 10-man AFL, and those who prefer a complete reshuffling of the 26 teams.

Before they hear the various plans on future alignment prepared by a six-man joint committee, though, they'll have to make some other decisions.

The conversion rule is one subject which must be resolved.

The AFL has used the two-point option, for a run or a pass, since the league's inception in 1960. The NFL has only the routine one-point kick rule.

Obviously, they have to decide what to do with the two-point play in time for the 1970 season, when as many as five interleague games could be each team's regular season schedule.

The owners will very likely decide to extend for another exhibition season the experiment tried last year.

In all interleague exhibition games in 1968, the teams could not kick for the point after touchdown but instead had to run or pass for one point.

Whereas conversions made by kicking are successful 98 per cent of the time, the run or pass rule produced only a 56.6 per cent efficiency.

Many football people like the idea of eliminating the automatic nature of the kick and instilling an extra bit of excitement into the game with the run or the pass.

"The fan reaction was great," Mark Duncan, chairman of the league's competition committee, referring to last year's experiment. "We'll hear what the owners have to say and then decide what to do this year."

Indiana Opens Lead In ABA East Race

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers have opened up breathing room in the American Basketball Association's tight Eastern Diivsion race.

The Pacers owned a two-game lead over the Kentucky Colonels and the Miami Floridians today after they thrashed Minnesota 144-113 Sunday while the Colonels bowed to the Dallas Chaparrals 104-100 and Miami conquered the New York Nets 116-103.

In Sunday's other ABA action, the Denver Rockets whipped the Western Division-Leading Oakland Oaks 131-119.

Indiana, with Fred Lewis going on a 19-point third-quarter scoring spree, picked up its ninth straight vitcory in beating the Pipers, who lost more ground and are now 4½ games behind Indiana. Lewis finished with 36 points and Charlie Williams led the Pipers with 32.

Kentucky couldn't keep up with the Chaparrals in the third period when they were outscored 23-17. Glen Combs hit for 28 points for Dallas and Louie Dampier topped Kentucky with 19.

Miami broke open a close game with seven straight points in the third period against the Nets, who suffered their sixth straight loss. Skip Thoren contributed 32 points for Miami. Wilburt Frazier's 20 points were high for New York.

Bobby Lloyd of the Nets saw his consecutive free throw streak stopped at 49, seven short of the pro record set by Bill Sharman. Lloyd's 49 shots are on ABA record.

Denver's Larry Jones was too much for Oakland. He found the range for 38 points and Warren Armstrong led Oakland with 24. The Oaks pulled up to within four points of Denver in the second quarter but the Rockets sank six quick points to open up a gap they never lost.

In Saturday's games, New Orleans routed Kentucky 144-112, Los Angeles shaded Houston 121-119 and Oakland trimmed Minnesota 131-120.

Rain Delays Monsanto Open Golf

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Jim Colbert, a former life insurance agent, has something beside a sizzling putter to fall back on to protect his lead going into today's final round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

The former Kansas State football player, looking for his first victory as a golf pro, has some very happy memories of the Pensacola Country Club course.

"It was here that I made the cut for the very first time, in 1966," Colbert said Sunday as he whiled away the rained-out finale playing bridge with some fellow pros.

Th 28-year-old father of three daughters also posted his second-best finish in four uneventful years on the tour at the same course when he tied for fourth here in 1967. His best finish was third at Jacksonville that same year.

Colbert switched to golf after he suffered a shoulder separation as a quarterback on the Kansas State freshmen team and decided football was "too rough."

He had a swing at selling insurance after college, before he joined the tour.

Colbert emerged from obscurity Saturday after he fired a third round—in driving rain—for a 54-hole total of 13-under par 200 and a one-stroke lead over Deane Beman, two-time U.S. amateur king who shot a 63.

Denver Nips Cornell For NCAA Ice Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — For the second time, the University of Denver has captured two NCAA hockey championships in a row. Now the Pioneers can shoot next season at Michigan's mark of three straight, set in 1951-53.

"It was as tough as any championship game we've played," DU Coach Murray Armstrong said after watching his skaters beat Cornell, top team in eastern collegiate hockey, 4-3 in the Broadmoor World Arena Saturday night.

Carty Returns

Braves Hope To Rebound From Year Of Injuries

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rico Carty, entire season. Clete Boyer, three months. Sonny Jackson, two months. Joe Torre, five weeks.

Add up those losses due to Carty's illness—he contracted tuberculosis— and a various assortment of other injuries—and you have the reasons why Manager Lum Harris figures the Atlanta Braves as contenders in the Western Division of the National League.

"It's hard to replace those kind of guys," said Harris. "Fortunately we kept our pitching staff intact and when you figure we won only 16 games less than the Cardinals then I think if everything jells we have a heck of a shot at the pennant."

The pitching staff took its part in the Year of the Pitcher last season by setting an alltime Braves' record for earned run average. But the hitters let the Braves down.

"It was the hitting," said Harris when asked why a club as strong on paper as the Braves managed to play only .500 ball. "Nobody hit last year."

Carty never got a chance. When the others did, they didn't produce as expected, Boyer hitting .227, Jackson .226 and Torre hitting just 10 homers despite batting .271. Even Hank Aaron had some trouble batting .287 with 29 homers—his lowest total in five years.

Pat Jarvis, meanwhile, was one of the top pitchers in the league with a 16-12 record, former pro basketball player Ron Reed posted an 11-10 record in his first full year, Phil Niekro rode his knuckleball to a 14-12 record and George Stone posted a 7-4 mark after leaving the minors.

Claude Raymond and Cecil Upshaw are tagged for bullpen duty with a fifth starter coming from a group that includes veteran Ken Johnson and four youngsters—Jim Britton, Rick Kester, Gary Niebauer and Ron Tompkins.

Joe Torre could be the catcher or the first baseman depending on whether Tommie Aaron, Hank's brother, finally proves he can play regularly. Bob Aspromonte, acquired from Houston, also may wind up at first.

Felix Millan will be at second, Jackson at shortstop, unless young Gil Garrido takes the job away from him, and Boyer will be at third.

The outfield is the strong point with three consistent .300 hitters—Aaron, Carty and Felipe Alou, who hit .317 last season.

If Torre goes to first, Walt Hriniak is the strongest catching candidate off a .313 batting average at Shreveport last year. Also available is Bob Didier, .243 at Greenwood, and the veteran Bob Tillman, the man charged with handling Niekro's knuckleball.

What makes this club a threat is the bats in the outfield, the arms on the mound and the ability of the players on the bench to step in when they have to.

"What kept us going last year," Harris said, "was the guys who could play different positions."

Aspromonte now fits into that category along with Tito Francona, who hit .286 under those conditions last year.

Padres Go With Youth, High Finish Not Likely

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Preston Gomez, manager of the new San Diego Padres, is nothing if not realistic about his club's chances. Still, he says, the Padres are not likely to break any of the New York Mets' first year records, either.

"As the year goes by, we should improve," says Gomez. "We should do better than the Mets or Houston did their first year."

The Padres put the accent on youth, players who might be several years away from playing on other major league clubs, when they drafted from other teams during the winter.

Their lineup, thus, is nearly free of players with only a few years left to play. Even the veterans are relatively young.

The one place where the Padres are reasonably solid is in the outfield. Gomez says, in fact, that many other clubs have approached San Diego about a trade and admits that one could be made before the opening of the season.

The only one not available for a trade, says Gomez, is Ollie Brown, the big, moody, but potentially great outfielder obtained in the draft from the Giants. Brown, says Gomez, will be the starting rightfielder.

Tony Gonzalez, who hit .339 with Philadelphia in 1967 but fell off last year, is likely to be in left with rookie Clarence Gaston, who has been impressive during the spring, a solid contender for center.

Other outfielders on the club —all with major-league experience—are Larry Stahl, Al Ferrara, Ivan Murrell and Ron Davis.

In the infield, Bill Davis, obtained from Cleveland in the deal that sent Zoilo Versalles to the Indians, will play at first "if he can hit the way we hope he can," says Gomez.

Second base is a question mark with Jose Arcia, drafted from the Chicago Cubs, battling with rookies Jerry Davanon and Rafael Robles. Roberto Pena, a .260 hitter with Philadelphia last year, is set at short and Ed Spezio, acquired from St. Louis, is the likely third baseman.

Rookie Danny Breeden is the No. 1 catcher at this point, though 20-year-old Fred Kendall may have the job in a year or two.

Gomez has three starting pitchers set—Al McBean from Pittsburgh, Dick Selma from the New York Mets and Dick Kelley of Atlanta—with one or two more expected to come from a slit that includes Al Santorini, Clay Kirby, Phil Knuckles, Frank Reberger, Dick James and Mike Corkins.

Billy McCool, obtained from Cincinnati, and Tom Dukes, acquired from Houston, figure to be the stoppers in the bullpen.

And last, though potentially not least, is Johnny Podres, the former Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodger great, who has looked very sharp this spring in his comback attempt. Now 36, Podres could be used at a starter once a week or so.

Cleveland Outlasts Angels 14-10

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A trio of highly-regarded rookie hurlers were geared to show what they can do for the Cleveland Indians against Seattle in an exhibition game at Tucson today.

Larry Burchart was slated to start, followed by Ray Miller and Gary Boyd.

Maybe they will help erase the memory of Sunday's wild, three-hour game with the Angels, finally won by the Indians, 14-10.

During the marathon event there were 26 hits, eight errors — five committed by the Angels—13 walks, a wild pitch, a passed ball and three hit batsmen.

The Indians blew the game open with a seven-run fifth inning. Eleven men went to bat as the Indians posted a 9 - 4 lead.

But the Angels came waltzing back in the sixth, sending 12 men to bat and scoring six runs to move back in the lead.

The Indians recovered with two runs in the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Terry Hanratty completed 304 passes in 550 attempts during the Notre Dame varsity. Both are school records.

$50,000 PBA Buckeye Open To Ray Bluth

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Ray Bluth of St. Louis ended a four-year dry spell Saturday by winning the Professional Bowlers Association's $50,000 Buckeye Open.

Bluth topped Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis, 236-205, for his first PBA title since the 1964 Spokane tournament.

Burton, top scorer during the first 40 games of competition, waited on the sidelines while the four other finalists battled it out for a shot at the $6,000 first prize.

Teata Semiz of River Edge, N.J., who had qualified in the fourth spot, defeated Norm Meyers of Los Angeles 238-180 and then Dave Soutar of Gilroy, Calif., 219-203.

Then Bluth, the No. 2 qualifier, eliminated Semiz 247-236.

The top prize raised Bluth's winnings for the year to $9,500. Burton collected $3,500 for second, Semiz $2,000 for third, Soutar $1,800 for fourth and Meyers $1,600 for fifth.

Next stop on the tour is the $45,000 Portsmouth, Va., Open later this week.

Red Pitcher Gary Nolan Eyes Opener

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gary Nolan has made it known both on and off the mound that he would like to pitch Cincinnati's opening game this year.

Nolan became Sunday the first Reds pitcher to go more than three innings in an exhibition game.

Although the Reds bowed to the hot Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, Nolan yielded only four hits and one run in his five-inning stint and struck out six..

In two previous outings, the 20-year-old hurler allowed only one run in a total of six innings.

"I'd love to be the opening day pitcher," Nolan declared Sunday.

"It would be an honor at my age to be the pitcher in the first game," he continued. "It would show that I was ready to go when the season began."

Rookie Darrell Chaney is another player hopeful of a starting role April 7 when the Reds host Los Angeles in traditionally opening the National League season at home.

Chaney, an infielder, doubled in the fifth inning to get Cincinnati's only runs of the day.

Goalies Blasted In NHL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The luck of the Irish must have been riding with National Hockey League goaltenders Sunday night. They all came out of the biggest night of the season for shooters in one piece.

Boston tied a record, bunching eight goals in one period and running through two Toronto goalies in an 11-3 romp that set the tone. New York wore down some sensational goaltending by Roy Edwards with a 25-shot third-period barrage that produced four goals and a 6-4 victory over Detroit.

In other games, Oakland whacked Pittsburgh 7-2, Bobby Hull scored his 52nd and 53rd goals of the season in Chicago's 6-2 romp over Philadelphia and Minnesota edged St. Louis 3-2.

In Saturday's action, Montreal dropped Chicago 3-1, Toronto bombed Boston 7-4, St. Louis nipped Detroit 3-2, Los Angeles dropped Pittsburgh 3-1 and Philadelphia and Minnesota played to a 2-2 tie.

Derek Sanderson led the Bruins' assault with the three-goal hat trick and three assists while Phil Esposito, Boston point-making king, collected his 44th goal of the season and four assists, hiking his record total to 118 points.

The eight Boston goals in the second period matched a mark set by Detroit in 1944 and Esposito shattered Dickie Moore's total points record of 113 for regular season and playoff competition, set in 1959.

Ken Hodge had his 40th and 41st goals and rookie Garnet Bailey added a pair for Boston, which moved within three points of idle Montreal for the East Division lead.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 43rd and 44th goals of the season for Detroit and assisted on Gordie Howe's 40th and Alex Delvecchio's 23rd as the Red Wings' modern version of the Production Line ran its total points for the season to a record 230, breaking the mark of 226 established by Howe, Delvecchio and Ted Lindsay in 1955-56.

But the Rangers innundated Edwards with 57 shots and two goals by Ron Stewart sparked a third-period rally that gave New York the victory. Jean Ratelle also scored twice for New York.

Seven different players shared in Oakland's biggest offensive show of the season as the Seals opened a nine-point lead over Los Angeles and virtually cinched second place in the West Division.

Rookie Norm Ferguson netted his 30th, matching the mark for rookies set in 1951 by Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion and broken earlier this season by Minnesota's Danny Grant.

Hull moved within one goal of his own single season record of 54 by scoring twice against the Flyers. Pit Martin also had a pair of goals for the Black Hawks, who are buried in the East Division basement.

It was a key defeat for Philadelphia, locked in a three-way struggle with Los Angeles and Minnesota in the West. The Flyers, in fourth place, have 52 points, one less than Los Angeles and two more than Minnesota which stood off a third-period rally to beat West champ St. Louis.

Jean Paul Parise and Walt McKechnie scored the third-period goals that carried the North Stars to their victory over the Blues.

Barbara Jo Rubin Winning At 'Big A'

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Elect the Ruler put himself into the Santa Anita Derby picture, and little Miss R. kept herself in the limelight at the Big A.

Longshot Elect the Ruler closed with a rush to win the $58,550 San Felipe Handicap last Saturday at Santa Anita in the final test for the March 29, $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby, the major race for 3-year-olds on the West Coast.

Little Miss R.—19-year-old Barbara Jo Rubin—won her second race in as many tries at Aqueduct by booting home the 7-year-old mare, May Berry, who paid $7.20. Miss Rubin won with Bravy Galaxy, $28.20, Friday when she became the first woman ever to ride at a New York pari-mutuel track.

Eddie Belmonte got Mrs. Gerry Dreier's Elect the Ruler, $26.40, up in the final yards to edge Poltex Stable's Lonny's Secret by a neck, with Mrs. J.T. Forno's Mr. Joe F. third in the field of nine for the San Felipe.

Three-year-olds also were busy at Pimlico and Oaklawn Park Saturday.

Nathan L. Cohen's Mister Diz beat other Maryland breds in the $29,700 Challedon Stakes at Pimlico. Mister Diz, carrying high weight of 122 pounds included Braulio Baeza, ran the 1 1-16 miles in 1:44 2-5 for a neck victory over Guy H. Burt's 19-1 Baron Bedros, who carried 110 pounds. Mister Diz paid $2.60.

The Oaklawn feature—the $15,000-added Rebel Handicap, a stepping stone to the Arkansas Derby April 5—went to Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Roberts' Traffic Mark, $6, who beat Sheik of Bagdad by three-quarters of a length, covering the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 4-5.

The Aqueduct feature was the $26,900 Paumonok Handicap at six furlongs, and Steve B. Wilson's Pappa Steve, top-weighted at 126 pounds, won it by a half length, with Jack Drefus Jr.'s Beaukins, 113, second in the field of five. Pappa Steve, timed in 1:09 4-5, returned $8.80.

Warner L. Jones Jr's Go Marching, $4, shot between horses to win the 1 1-16-mile, $36,550 Canadian Turf Handicap at Gulfstream Park by three-quarters of length over James R. Chapman's Out The Window in 1:43 4-5. Go Marching, top-weighted at 123, gave 11 pounds to Out The Window.

The richest race of the day was the $70,700 New Orleans Handicap at the Fair Grounds, and victory went to J.E. and T. Alie Grissom's Miracle Hill by a nose over Lazy F. Ranch's San Roque. The winner, $9.40, covered the 1⅛ miles in 1:54 4-5.

Realignment Topic At Pro Grid Meeting

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Realignment will be the chief topic of discussion at the joint winter meeting of the American and National football leagues, but the 26 owners also will kick around some other matters, such as the experimental conversion rule.

The meetings got under way today with the owners gathering at a joint session, then breaking up into separate league meetings.

Before the week is over, they hope to arrive at agreement on the alignment of pro football for 1970, the year the 1966 merger takes complete effect.

Such agreement will not be easy to reach since there are owners who favor maintaining the status quo, the 16-man NFL and the 10-man AFL, and those who prefer a complete reshuffling of the 26 teams.

Before they hear the various plans on future alignment prepared by a six-man joint committee, though, they'll have to make some other decisions.

The conversion rule is one subject which must be resolved. The AFL has used the two-point option, for a run or a pass, since the league's inception in 1960. The NFL has only the routine one-point kick rule.

Obviously, they have to decide what to do with the two-point play in time for the 1970 season, when as many as five interleague games could be each team's regular season schedule.

The owners will very likely decide to extend for another exhibition season the experiment tried last year.

In all interleague exhibition games in 1968, the teams could not kick for the point after touchdown but instead had to run or pass for one point.

Whereas conversions made by kicking are successful 98 per cent of the time, the run or pass rule produced only a 56.6 per cent efficiency.

Many football people like the idea of eliminating the automatic nature of the kick and instilling an extra bit of excitement into the game with the run or the pass.

"The fan reaction was great," Mark Duncan, chairman of the league's competition committee, referring to last year's experiment. "We'll hear what the owners have to say and then decide what to do this year."

Indiana Opens Lead In ABA East Race

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers have opened up breathing room in the American Basketball Association's tight Eastern Diivsion race.

The Pacers owned a two-game lead over the Kentucky Colonels and the Miami Floridians today after they thrashed Minnesota 144-113 Sunday while the Colonels bowed to the Dallas Chaparrals 104-100 and Miami conquered the New York Nets 116-103.

In Sunday's other ABA action, the Denver Rockets whipped the Western Division-Leading Oakland Oaks 131-119.

Indiana, with Fred Lewis going on a 19-point third-quarter scoring spree, picked up its ninth straight vitcory in beating the Pipers, who lost more ground and are now 4½ games behind Indiana. Lewis finished with 36 points and Charlie Williams led the Pipers with 32.

Kentucky couldn't keep up with the Chaparrals in the third period when they were outscored 23-17. Glen Combs hit for 28 points for Dallas and Louie Dampier topped Kentucky with 19.

Miami broke open a close game with seven straight points in the third period against the Nets, who suffered their sixth straight loss. Skip Thoren contributed 32 points for Miami. Wilburt Frazier's 20 points were high for New York.

Bobby Lloyd of the Nets saw his consecutive free throw streak stopped at 49, seven short of the pro record set by Bill Sharman. Lloyd's 49 shots are on ABA record.

Denver's Larry Jones was too much for Oakland. He found the range for 38 points and Warren Armstrong led Oakland with 24. The Oaks pulled up to within four points of Denver in the second quarter but the Rockets sank six quick points to open up a gap they never lost.

In Saturday's games, New Orleans routed Kentucky 144-112, Los Angeles shaded Houston 121-119 and Oakland trimmed Minnesota 131-120.

The Our Company of Salineville led the firing in the first week of competition of the East Liverpool City Association Bowling Tournament being held at Village Lanes in Salineville.

The leaders had 3,045 pins. M and M Vendors and Mannings of Salineville had 3,015 and 3,014 respectively to place second and third. Also placing thus far in the tournament are Gengerella Trucking of Midland with 2,968, Billingsley's Foodland of Calcutta, 2,965, Jimmy's Turf Bar of Chester 2,956, and Harv's Sohio 2,938. Meade's Restaurant of Wellsville leads in the scratch division with a 2,735.

The best individual scratch series was turned in by Roy Mort, who rolled a 642. He is followed by George LaNeve at 624, George Simballa 615, Harry Early 607, and Warren Dunlap 604. Warren Dunlap had a 694 series with handicap but he is not entered in the all-events so the honors for the high handicap series for those entered in the all-events goes to Dewey Morris with a 680.

Harry Early's 244 is the high scratch game thus far in the tournament.

Twenty-six of the 54 teams entered in the tournament bowled this past weekend. The rest of the entries will bowl next weekend.

The doubles and singles events are scheduled for the weekends of March 28-30 and April 11-13.

Rain Delays Monsanto Open Golf

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Jim Colbert, a former life insurance agent, has something beside a sizzling putter to fall back on to protect his lead going into today's final round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

The former Kansas State football player, looking for his first victory as a golf pro, has some very happy memories of the Pensacola Country Club course.

"It was here that I made the cut for the very first time, in 1966," Colbert said Sunday as he whiled away the rained-out finale playing bridge with some fellow pros.

Th 28-year-old father of three daughters also posted his second-best finish in four uneventful years on the tour at the same course when he tied for fourth here in 1967. His best finish was third at Jacksonville that same year.

Colbert switched to golf after he suffered a shoulder separation as a quarterback on the Kansas State freshmen team and decided football was "too rough."

He had a swing at selling insurance after college, before he joined the tour.

Colbert emerged from obscurity Saturday after he fired a third round—in driving rain—for a 54-hole total of 13-under par 200 and a one-stroke lead over Deane Beman, two-time U.S. amateur king who shot a 63.

Denver Nips Cornell For NCAA Ice Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — For the second time, the University of Denver has captured two NCAA hockey championships in a row. Now the Pioneers can shoot next season at Michigan's mark of three straight, set in 1951-53.

"It was as tough as any championship game we've played," DU Coach Murray Armstrong said after watching his skaters beat Cornell, top team in eastern collegiate hockey, 4-3 in the Broadmoor World Arena Saturday night.

Braves Hope To Rebound From Year Of Injuries

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rico Carty, entire season. Clete Boyer, three months. Sonny Jackson, two months. Joe Torre, five weeks.

Add up those losses due to Carty's illness—he contracted tuberculosis— and a various assortment of other injuries—and you have the reasons why Manager Lum Harris figures the Atlanta Braves as contenders in the Western Division of the National League.

"It's hard to replace those kind of guys," said Harris. "Fortunately we kept our pitching staff intact and when you figure we won only 16 games less than the Cardinals then I think if everything jells we have a heck of a shot at the pennant."

The pitching staff took its part in the Year of the Pitcher last season by setting an alltime Braves' record for earned run average. But the hitters let the Braves down.

"It was the hitting," said Harris when asked why a club as strong on paper as the Braves managed to play only .500 ball. "Nobody hit last year."

Carty never got a chance. When the others did, they didn't produce as expected, Boyer hitting .227, Jackson .226 and Torre hitting just 10 homers despite batting .271. Even Hank Aaron had some trouble batting .287 with 29 homers—his lowest total in five years.

Pat Jarvis, meanwhile, was one of the top pitchers in the league with a 16-12 record, former pro basketball player Ron Reed posted an 11-10 record in his first full year, Phil Niekro rode his knuckleball to a 14-12 record and George Stone posted a 7-4 mark after leaving the minors.

Claude Raymond and Cecil Upshaw are tagged for bullpen duty with a fifth starter coming from a group that includes veteran Ken Johnson and four youngsters—Jim Britton, Rick Kester, Gary Niebauer and Ron Tompkins.

Joe Torre could be the catcher or the first baseman depending on whether Tommie Aaron, Hank's brother, finally proves he can play regularly. Bob Aspromonte, acquired from Houston, also may wind up at first.

Felix Millan will be at second, Jackson at shortstop, unless young Gil Garrido takes the job away from him, and Boyer will be at third.

The outfield is the strong point with three consistent .300 hitters—Aaron, Carty and Felipe Alou, who hit .317 last season.

If Torre goes to first, Walt Hriniak is the strongest catching candidate off a .313 batting average at Shreveport last year. Also available is Bob Didier, .243 at Greenwood, and the veteran Bob Tillman, the man charged with handling Niekro's knuckleball.

What makes this club a threat is the bats in the outfield, the arms on the mound and the ability of the players on the bench to step in when they have to.

"What kept us going last year," Harris said, "was the guys who could play different positions."

Aspromonte now fits into that category along with Tito Francona, who hit .286 under those conditions last year.

Padres Go With Youth, High Finish Not Likely

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Preston Gomez, manager of the new San Diego Padres, is nothing if not realistic about his club's chances. Still, he says, the Padres are not likely to break any of the New York Mets' first year records, either.

"As the year goes by, we should improve," says Gomez. "We should do better than the Mets or Houston did their first year."

The Padres put the accent on youth, players who might be several years away from playing on other major league clubs, when they drafted from other teams during the winter.

Their lineup, thus, is nearly free of players with only a few years left to play. Even the veterans are relatively young.

The one place where the Padres are reasonably solid is in the outfield. Gomez says, in fact, that many other clubs have approached San Diego about a trade and admits that one could be made before the opening of the season.

The only one not available for a trade, says Gomez, is Ollie Brown, the big, moody, but potentially great outfielder obtained in the draft from the Giants. Brown, says Gomez, will be the starting rightfielder.

Tony Gonzalez, who hit .339 with Philadelphia in 1967 but fell off last year, is likely to be in left with rookie Clarence Gaston, who has been impressive during the spring, a solid contender for center.

Other outfielders on the club —all with major-league experience—are Larry Stahl, Al Ferrara, Ivan Murrell and Ron Davis.

In the infield, Bill Davis, obtained from Cleveland in the deal that sent Zoilo Versalles to the Indians, will play at first "if he can hit the way we hope he can," says Gomez.

Second base is a question mark with Jose Arcia, drafted from the Chicago Cubs, battling with rookies Jerry Davanon and Rafael Robles. Roberto Pena, a .260 hitter with Philadelphia last year, is set at short and Ed Spezio, acquired from St. Louis, is the likely third baseman.

Rookie Danny Breeden is the No. 1 catcher at this point, though 20-year-old Fred Kendall may have the job in a year or two.

Gomez has three starting pitchers set—Al McBean from Pittsburgh, Dick Selma from the New York Mets and Dick Kelley of Atlanta—with one or two more expected to come from a slit that includes Al Santorini, Clay Kirby, Phil Knuckles, Frank Reberger, Dick James and Mike Corkins.

Billy McCool, obtained from Cincinnati, and Tom Dukes, acquired from Houston, figure to be the stoppers in the bullpen.

And last, though potentially not least, is Johnny Podres, the former Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodger great, who has looked very sharp this spring in his comback attempt. Now 36, Podres could be used at a starter once a week or so.

Cleveland Outlasts Angels 14-10

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A trio of highly-regarded rookie hurlers were geared to show what they can do for the Cleveland Indians against Seattle in an exhibition game at Tucson today.

Larry Burchart was slated to start, followed by Ray Miller and Gary Boyd.

Maybe they will help erase the memory of Sunday's wild, three-hour game with the Angels, finally won by the Indians, 14-10.

During the marathon event there were 26 hits, eight errors — five committed by the Angels—13 walks, a wild pitch, a passed ball and three hit batsmen.

The Indians blew the game open with a seven-run fifth inning. Eleven men went to bat as the Indians posted a 9 - 4 lead.

But the Angels came waltzing back in the sixth, sending 12 men to bat and scoring six runs to move back in the lead.

The Indians recovered with two runs in the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Terry Hanratty completed 304 passes in 550 attempts during the Notre Dame varsity. Both are school records.

$50,000 PBA Buckeye Open To Ray Bluth

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Ray Bluth of St. Louis ended a four-year dry spell Saturday by winning the Professional Bowlers Association's $50,000 Buckeye Open.

Bluth topped Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis, 236-205, for his first PBA title since the 1964 Spokane tournament.

Burton, top scorer during the first 40 games of competition, waited on the sidelines while the four other finalists battled it out for a shot at the $6,000 first prize.

Teata Semiz of River Edge, N.J., who had qualified in the fourth spot, defeated Norm Meyers of Los Angeles 238-180 and then Dave Soutar of Gilroy, Calif., 219-203.

Then Bluth, the No. 2 qualifier, eliminated Semiz 247-236.

The top prize raised Bluth's winnings for the year to $9,500. Burton collected $3,500 for second, Semiz $2,000 for third, Soutar $1,800 for fourth and Meyers $1,600 for fifth.

Next stop on the tour is the $45,000 Portsmouth, Va., Open later this week.

Red Pitcher Gary Nolan Eyes Opener

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gary Nolan has made it known both on and off the mound that he would like to pitch Cincinnati's opening game this year.

Nolan became Sunday the first Reds pitcher to go more than three innings in an exhibition game.

Although the Reds bowed to the hot Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, Nolan yielded only four hits and one run in his five-inning stint and struck out six..

In two previous outings, the 20-year-old hurler allowed only one run in a total of six innings.

"I'd love to be the opening day pitcher," Nolan declared Sunday.

"It would be an honor at my age to be the pitcher in the first game," he continued. "It would show that I was ready to go when the season began."

Rookie Darrell Chaney is another player hopeful of a starting role April 7 when the Reds host Los Angeles in traditionally opening the National League season at home.

Chaney, an infielder, doubled in the fifth inning to get Cincinnati's only runs of the day.

Ingrid Bergman Reminisces On Early Years

"Men like that don't exist any more — not here, not anywhere," said Ingrid Bergman. "David acted like a king — and why not? He was one."

Cecil Smith

She flashed that twisting smile that dazzled a generation — mine. She's back in Hollywood, the city of her young glory, making two movies back-to-back at Columbia, the first films she's made there in 18 years.

We were talking about the Hollywood that was and is no more and never will be again — the Hollywood of her Selznick years.

METROMEDIA Productions has fashioned a documentary out of the years when David O. Selnick reigned over a sizable kingdom of Hollywood, wrought from private papers and diaries and some 500,000 feet of backstage film, plus the testimony of his subjects, one of whom was Ingrid Bergman.

It deals not only with Selznick, maker of movies like "Gone With the Wind" and "David Copperfield," but of an era in which he was the absolute master of the destinies of a score of the most famous performers on earth, some of whom, like Dorothy McGuire, never appeared in a Selznick film. The study will appear Friday night on NBC.

"HOW WE FOUGHT!" said Ingrid. "I wanted to work. He wanted to save me for the right role. I would read scripts. I would plead on his doorstep: 'I want it, I want it, I want it! I'm an actress. I want to act!' "

She shrugged.

"He was tough — but sometimes I was tougher. He didn't want me to do 'Rage in Heaven' or 'Jekyll and Hyde' or 'Bells of St. Mary's.' But I did them. He did want me to do 'Casablanca.' He said, 'You'll wear such beautiful clothes. . . .' "

She laughed delightedly and said: "It was another world. David wanted me to play Sarah Bernhardt. I said she was short and dark and Latin — the very opposite of me. He said: 'No one in America will know.' I said: 'David — I will!' "

SELZNICK brought Ingrid to Hollywood to do an English version of her Swedish film, "Intermezzo," and then she scurried home to Sweden. She fled the war with her infant daughter, Pia, back to Selznick.

"He had courage and foresight," she said. "He was a perfectionist — which could be rather tiresome. He wanted to do scenes over and over and over. He was ruthless with directors and writers, tossing them off pictures. But he was wonderful with actors. So thoughtful. He fought for you, for your sake.

"It was for his sake, too. He rented us out for a great deal more money than he ever paid us. I only made one other Selznick film, 'Spellbound.' All the rest were ones he rented me out to do."

THERE'S A KIND of serenity in Bergman now. The Selznick years and the era of the great Rossellini scandal are long passed. Daughter Pia Lindstrom is a newscaster in San Francisco; the three younger children are in school in Rome.

She divides life between home in Paris with her husband, Lars Schmidt, and work. And, as always, work is divided between stage and screen; she's ever believed an actress must regularly return to the stage to function.

She's made forays into television, notably the brilliant "The Turn of the Screw," and she'd like to do more, given the right play at the right time.

SHE ONCE moaned to me that no one ever let her do comedy, but now at Columbia she's engaged in the Broadway version of a French farce, "Cactus Flower," with Walter Matthau and "Laugh-In's" Goldie Hawn. Shell make the quiet, romantic "A Walk in the Spring Rain" with Anthony Quinn before returning to Europe.

Meanwhile, this Valentine to yesterday — "The Selznick Years." Said Ingrid: "I don't like to look back. Things change. And that's good."

But it was an era bedecked in that overused word "glamor" that turned performers into kind of super-beings, molded into golden creatures remote from the earthbound. Selznick was a master molder. And one of his creations was Ingrid Bergman.

Court Orders Stay In Filling 2 Home Posts

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals today sustained an oral application of Robert W. and Gladys Boyce for an order staying appointment of Joseph and Rosemond Mattevi as superintendent and matron at the Columbiana County Home pending outcome of the Boyces' appeal to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce were appointed acting superintendent and matron in 1965. They appealed to the appellate court when the commissioners appointed the Mattevis in 1967. The appellate court at that time issued an order staying the appointments until it decided the case.

When it ruled recently that the commissioners had the authority to appoint the Mattevis, the entry was placed on the journal and Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis advised the county commissioners they were no longer enjoined from completing their appointments.

Based on this information, the commissioners Friday ordered the Boyces to vacate the home by noon March 22. The commissioners suspended Boyce for six months Jan. 1 for alleged inefficiency but Mrs. Boyce has remained in the post of matron.

W. E. Hiscox of Lisbon has been acting superintendent since Jan. 1.

The prosecutor said he was not advised by the Boyces' counsel or the court of the appellants' application for a stay order and did not know of this new development in the case until he opened his mail this morning.

Prospective Jurors Named At Courthouse

LISBON — Mrs. Mary E. Gregg of Salem and J. Clifford Conley of East Liverpool, county jury commissioners, drew 200 names from the jury wheel at the Courthouse this morning.

Thirty names will be used for selection of the Grand Jury April 8, and 170 as prospective jurors for civil and criminal cases during the April term of court.

Five Are Injured In Two Mishaps

Five area residents were injured in two separate accidents Sunday afternoon within a half-hour's time.

John E. Myler, 20, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. was admitted to City Hospital, where he was listed as "fair" this morning.

Melvin Mobley of 1797 Clark Ave., Wellsvill,e Earl Headley, 18, of 290 Gardendale Ave., and Daniel B. Christy, 13, of Columbia Ave. were treated and released.

Also treated was Robert David Howard of Shadyside Ave.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Myler pulled his auto from a parked position along the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. into the path of a 1967 coach operated by Mobley.

—:—

THE MOBLEY vehicle struck the Myler car, which then went over the medial strip, struck the guardrail, went over an embankment and came to rest on its top.

The Mobley vehicle then went off the right side of the road.

Mobley was treated for a laceration of the lip.

As a result of the accident at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, 50 feet of guardrail and five posts were damaged.

The accident is still under investigation.

Another mishap occurred on Homestead Ave., just north of East Liverpool, at 12:10 p.m.

Robert David Howard, 14, apparently made a left turn too short with his "mini" bike and struck the bumper and grill of a 1964 coach operated by Robert D. Koontz, 23, of Lisbon St. Ext. The Koontz auto was halted at a stop sign.

—:—

HOWARD was treated at the hospital for lacerations on a leg. A passenger on the bike was not injured.

Howard was cited to juvenile authorities for operating the bike without a license.

A Wellsville man received injuries, but was not treated, when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his auto early Sunday morning.

Wilbur Jarvis, 48, of 420 Commerce St. was driving his 1964 convertible southeast on 10th St. Ext., about a half-mile north of Wellsville, when the auto went off the right side of the road and struck a pole.

The accident was timed at 4:35 a.m.

6 Young Men, 2 Girls Are Cited On Glue Sniffing

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Six young men from Cleveland and two teen-age Wickliffe girls were in custody today following their arrest in a raid at an alleged glue sniffing handout on the East Side.

The raid was conducted early Sunday by Cleveland vice squad detectives at a house on East 55th Street owned by a Cleveland State University student. The student, on a year's probation for a glue sniffing conviction last December, was one of the six men arrested.

The girls, 15 and 16 years old, were taken to the Juvenile Detention Home. The men were held at city jail for questioning.

Detectives said they found 275 empty glue tubes, each of which had a capacity of one fluid ounce of glue which sold for 15 cents. Five paper bags containing fresh glue also were found, they added.

Ingrid Bergman Reminisces On Early Years

"Men like that don't exist any more — not here, not anywhere," said Ingrid Bergman. "David acted like a king — and why not? He was one."

Cecil Smith

She flashed that twisting smile that dazzled a generation — mine. She's back in Hollywood, the city of her young glory, making two movies back-to-back at Columbia, the first films she's made there in 18 years.

We were talking about the Hollywood that was and is no more and never will be again — the Hollywood of her Selznick years.

METROMEDIA Productions has fashioned a documentary out of the years when David O. Selnick reigned over a sizable kingdom of Hollywood, wrought from private papers and diaries and some 500,000 feet of backstage film, plus the testimony of his subjects, one of whom was Ingrid Bergman.

It deals not only with Selznick, maker of movies like "Gone With the Wind" and "David Copperfield," but of an era in which he was the absolute master of the destinies of a score of the most famous performers on earth, some of whom, like Dorothy McGuire, never appeared in a Selznick film. The study will appear Friday night on NBC.

"HOW WE FOUGHT!" said Ingrid. "I wanted to work. He wanted to save me for the right role. I would read scripts. I would plead on his doorstep: 'I want it, I want it, I want it! I'm an actress. I want to act!' "

She shrugged.

"He was tough — but sometimes I was tougher. He didn't want me to do 'Rage in Heaven' or 'Jekyll and Hyde' or 'Bells of St. Mary's.' But I did them. He did want me to do 'Casablanca.' He said, 'You'll wear such beautiful clothes. . . .' "

She laughed delightedly and said: "It was another world. David wanted me to play Sarah Bernhardt. I said she was short and dark and Latin — the very opposite of me. He said: 'No one in America will know.' I said: 'David — I will!' "

SELZNICK brought Ingrid to Hollywood to do an English version of her Swedish film, "Intermezzo," and then she scurried home to Sweden. She fled the war with her infant daughter, Pia, back to Selznick.

"He had courage and foresight," she said. "He was a perfectionist — which could be rather tiresome. He wanted to do scenes over and over and over. He was ruthless with directors and writers, tossing them off pictures. But he was wonderful with actors. So thoughtful. He fought for you, for your sake.

"It was for his sake, too. He rented us out for a great deal more money than he ever paid us. I only made one other Selznick film, 'Spellbound.' All the rest were ones he rented me out to do."

THERE'S A KIND of serenity in Bergman now. The Selznick years and the era of the great Rossellini scandal are long passed. Daughter Pia Lindstrom is a newscaster in San Francisco; the three younger children are in school in Rome.

She divides life between home in Paris with her husband, Lars Schmidt, and work. And, as always, work is divided between stage and screen; she's ever believed an actress must regularly return to the stage to function.

She's made forays into television, notably the brilliant "The Turn of the Screw," and she'd like to do more, given the right play at the right time.

SHE ONCE moaned to me that no one ever let her do comedy, but now at Columbia she's engaged in the Broadway version of a French farce, "Cactus Flower," with Walter Matthau and "Laugh-In's" Goldie Hawn. Shell make the quiet, romantic "A Walk in the Spring Rain" with Anthony Quinn before returning to Europe.

Meanwhile, this Valentine to yesterday — "The Selznick Years." Said Ingrid: "I don't like to look back. Things change. And that's good."

But it was an era bedecked in that overused word "glamor" that turned performers into kind of super-beings, molded into golden creatures remote from the earthbound. Selznick was a master molder. And one of his creations was Ingrid Bergman.

In Great Britain, in the latter part of the 18th century, it was considered by law high treason to "imagine" the death of the king, queen-consort or the heir apparent of the crown, according to the first edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica in 1768.

Court Orders Stay In Filling 2 Home Posts

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals today sustained an oral application of Robert W. and Gladys Boyce for an order staying appointment of Joseph and Rosemond Mattevi as superintendent and matron at the Columbiana County Home pending outcome of the Boyces' appeal to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce were appointed acting superintendent and matron in 1965. They appealed to the appellate court when the commissioners appointed the Mattevis in 1967. The appellate court at that time issued an order staying the appointments until it decided the case.

When it ruled recently that the commissioners had the authority to appoint the Mattevis, the entry was placed on the journal and Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis advised the county commissioners they were no longer enjoined from completing their appointments.

Based on this information, the commissioners Friday ordered the Boyces to vacate the home by noon March 22. The commissioners suspended Boyce for six months Jan. 1 for alleged inefficiency but Mrs. Boyce has remained in the post of matron.

W. E. Hiscox of Lisbon has been acting superintendent since Jan. 1.

The prosecutor said he was not advised by the Boyces' counsel or the court of the appellants' application for a stay order and did not know of this new development in the case until he opened his mail this morning.

Prospective Jurors Named At Courthouse

LISBON — Mrs. Mary E. Gregg of Salem and J. Clifford Conley of East Liverpool, county jury commissioners, drew 200 names from the jury wheel at the Courthouse this morning.

Thirty names will be used for selection of the Grand Jury April 8, and 170 as prospective jurors for civil and criminal cases during the April term of court.

Five Are Injured In Two Mishaps

Five area residents were injured in two separate accidents Sunday afternoon within a half-hour's time.

John E. Myler, 20, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. was admitted to City Hospital, where he was listed as "fair" this morning.

Melvin Mobley of 1797 Clark Ave., Wellsvill,e Earl Headley, 18, of 290 Gardendale Ave., and Daniel B. Christy, 13, of Columbia Ave. were treated and released.

Also treated was Robert David Howard of Shadyside Ave.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Myler pulled his auto from a parked position along the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. into the path of a 1967 coach operated by Mobley.

—:—

THE MOBLEY vehicle struck the Myler car, which then went over the medial strip, struck the guardrail, went over an embankment and came to rest on its top.

The Mobley vehicle then went off the right side of the road.

Mobley was treated for a laceration of the lip.

As a result of the accident at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, 50 feet of guardrail and five posts were damaged.

The accident is still under investigation.

Another mishap occurred on Homestead Ave., just north of East Liverpool, at 12:10 p.m.

Robert David Howard, 14, apparently made a left turn too short with his "mini" bike and struck the bumper and grill of a 1964 coach operated by Robert D. Koontz, 23, of Lisbon St. Ext. The Koontz auto was halted at a stop sign.

—:—

HOWARD was treated at the hospital for lacerations on a leg. A passenger on the bike was not injured.

Howard was cited to juvenile authorities for operating the bike without a license.

A Wellsville man received injuries, but was not treated, when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his auto early Sunday morning.

Wilbur Jarvis, 48, of 420 Commerce St. was driving his 1964 convertible southeast on 10th St. Ext., about a half-mile north of Wellsville, when the auto went off the right side of the road and struck a pole.

The accident was timed at 4:35 a.m.

6 Young Men, 2 Girls Are Cited On Glue Sniffing

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Six young men from Cleveland and two teen-age Wickliffe girls were in custody today following their arrest in a raid at an alleged glue sniffing handout on the East Side.

The raid was conducted early Sunday by Cleveland vice squad detectives at a house on East 55th Street owned by a Cleveland State University student. The student, on a year's probation for a glue sniffing conviction last December, was one of the six men arrested.

The girls, 15 and 16 years old, were taken to the Juvenile Detention Home. The men were held at city jail for questioning.

Detectives said they found 275 empty glue tubes, each of which had a capacity of one fluid ounce of glue which sold for 15 cents. Five paper bags containing fresh glue also were found, they added.

Warning Issued At Wellsville In Parking Citations

A deadline for paying delinquent parking tickets for those who have ignored "courtesy summons" mailed recently has been set for Thursday, Wellsville Mayor William Daugherty announced this morning.

The penalty set by law is "not less than $10 or more than $50" plus court costs, which are $8.70, Mayor Daugherty said. The law also provides for "not more than five days in jail" for default of payment.

Herron heard testimony for more than an hour Saturday and then continued the case of Daniel P. Bekar, 19, of 152 Center St., East Liverpool, who was charged March 1 with failure to have his vehicle under control.

New Cumberland Police Chief William Webster alleged that Bekar struck an auto driven by Roger D. Heath, 17, of Newell, near Crestview Park on Route 2. The other driver also was charged and paid a fine in an appearance before Herron.

Bekar had posted $16 bond for his appearance. Herron said he called for the recess, after hearing testimony, to allow him time to study the law.

Cave-In Closes Wing At School

A cave-in has forced the closing of a wing of Freedom High School in New Sewickley pending a study of the cause.

The incident occurred Saturday afternoon and was reported by a youth who said he heard a "suction - like sound." The large cracks are located on a baseball field beside the school and are continuing to widen.

Area residents say the ground beneath the school is honeycombed with abandoned clay mines.

Classes have been set up in the gymnasium to compensate for the closing of the wing.

Rookie Officer's Work Credited In Raids Nabbing 31

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Nearly three months of undercover investigation by a rookie policeman led to two raids Sunday in which police and state liquor agents arrested 31 people.

Officials credited the work of Patrolman Dan Dunlap for the success of the raids.

Twenty four persons were arrested at one home. They included the owner, Jerome Johnson, charged with keeping a gambling house, and Jean Burnett, charged with illegal liquor sales.

A raid on a second house resulted in the arrests of seven others, including James Dunn, 35, charged with keeping a gambling house where illegal liquor sales were made.

4 Ohio Youths Cited For Arson

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four youths have been charged with arson as the result of the fire that leveled the grandstand at the Clermont County Fairgrounds last Sunday.

Ted Negelhout and Robert Porter, both 18, will be arraigned Thursday in Clermont County Court.

A court appearance will be scheduled for the other two, 16-and 17-year-old juveniles.

All are from near Owensville, where the fairgrounds is located.

All four admit setting the blaze — "just as a prank." Damage estimates to the grandstand run from $50,000 to $200,000.

SALESMEN!

TIRED OF BOUNCING AROUND?

LOOKING
"HOME?"

We're a big time company—($70,000,000) in sales — but we have a small town philosophy. (Maybe that's how we got to be big). We don't promise the moon. If you have the ability and you are willing to work hard, you'll make a good buck with us. Not a fortune — although some of our men are in the $11-$15,000 category! But one of the good things about Famous Schools is that almost every salesman increases his income year after year.

Many of our sales force have been with us fifteen years. They tell us they have found a "home" and we're tickled they did. Maybe Famous Schools is the spot for you, if you're really looking for a lifetime career opportunity.

As part of Famous Schools youthful sales team you will be supplied with qualified leads from our national advertising. You've seen our ads in Life, Look, Reader's Digest and on TV.

Famous Artists, Famous Writers, and famous Photographers, Schools . . . the Famous Schools, Westport, Connecticut, offers America's most distinguished faculty including: Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Rod Serling, Bennett Cerf, Faith Baldwin, Richard Avedon, Bert Stern, Irving Penn.

The ideal man is over 21 years of age, owns a good serviceable car, is bondable and can do some traveling.

In addition to high commissions you receive full company benefits including major medical policy and company paid insurance. Sound interesting? We think it should. If you want an income, security and time to spend with your family.

Rookie Officer's Work Credited In Raids Nabbing 31

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Nearly three months of undercover investigation by a rookie policeman led to two raids Sunday in which police and state liquor agents arrested 31 people.

Officials credited the work of Patrolman Dan Dunlap for the success of the raids.

Twenty four persons were arrested at one home. They included the owner, Jerome Johnson, charged with keeping a gambling house, and Jean Burnett, charged with illegal liquor sales.

A raid on a second house resulted in the arrests of seven others, including James Dunn, 35, charged with keeping a gambling house where illegal liquor sales were made.

4 Ohio Youths Cited For Arson

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four youths have been charged with arson as the result of the fire that leveled the grandstand at the Clermont County Fairgrounds last Sunday.

Ted Negelhout and Robert Porter, both 18, will be arraigned Thursday in Clermont County Court.

A court appearance will be scheduled for the other two, 16-and 17-year-old juveniles.

All are from near Owensville, where the fairgrounds is located.

All four admit setting the blaze — "just as a prank." Damage estimates to the grandstand run from $50,000 to $200,000.

Careless Smoking Cited In Fire Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Fire blamed on careless smoking killed Ann Louise Siegfried, 56, in her suburban Lakewood apartment Sunday.

Firemen said the fire started in the chair where Miss Siegfried had been sitting. The victim's body was found in front of the chair.

Miss Siegfried was chief nurse for the Northern Ohio Red Cross blood program.

SALESMEN!

TIRED OF BOUNCING AROUND?

LOOKING FOR A "HOME?"

We're a big time company—($70,000,000) in sales — but we have a small town philosophy. (Maybe that's how we got to be big). We don't promise the moon. If you have the ability and you are willing to work hard, you'll make a good buck with us. Not a fortune — although some of our men are in the $11-$15,000 category! But one of the good things about Famous Schools is that almost every salesman increases his income year after year.

Many of our sales force have been with us fifteen years. They tell us they have found a "home" and we're tickled they did. Maybe Famous Schools is the spot for you, if you're really looking for a lifetime career opportunity.

As part of Famous Schools youthful sales team you will be supplied with qualified leads from our national advertising. You've seen our ads in Life, Look, Reader's Digest and on TV.

Famous Artists, Famous Writers, and famous Photographers, Schools . . . the Famous Schools, Westport, Connecticut, offers America's most distinguished faculty including: Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Rod Serling, Bennett Cerf, Faith Baldwin, Richard Avedon, Bert Stern, Irving Penn.

The ideal man is over 21 years of age, owns a good serviceable car, is bondable and can do some traveling.

In addition to high commissions you receive full company benefits including major medical policy and company paid insurance. Sound interesting? We think it should. If you want an income, security and time to spend with your family.

Junior Editors Quiz on SWITZERLAND

QUESTION: How did Switzerland avoid two world wars?

* * *

ANSWER: Our map shows little Switzerland ringed around by large and important countries. The Swiss people have ties with their neighboring nations. There is no one Swiss language. The people speak dialects from German, French, Italian or ancient Latin. Yet, with all the understanding they have for their neighbors, the Swiss have stood together as a nation. The Swiss story starts with three cantons, which are quite like our states, grouping together in 1291 to defend themselves from outside attack. More and more cantons joined this alliance. The high mountains of their homeland helped the Swiss as they fought back their attackers. So did the sturdy courage of the people. All Swiss men were trained, and still are, to bear arms and fight in defense of their country. So successful was the Swiss plan that the country gained the respect of all nations. Its neutrality is guaranteed by the great powers. Modern Swiss boys use that ancient weapon, the crossbow, as training for rifle shooting which follows later.

(Lu Ann Staino of Torrington, Conn., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
